BONDED WAREHOUSE ACCOUNT.

QUANTITIES of the PRINCIPAL ARTICLES IMPORTED (subject to Duty) IN WAREHOUSE on 31st December 1866; RECEIVED INTO, and DELIVERED FROM WAREHOUSE in the Year 1867; and REMAINING IN WAREHOUSE on 31st December 1867, at the PRINCIPAL BONDING PORTS in the UNITED KINGDOM.

IN THE YEAR

NOTE.—As inaccuracies are sometimes supposed to occur in this Account, because discrepancies appear, if the Stock remaining in Warehouse be compared with the difference between the Total Imports of an Article and the subsequent Exports and Entries for Home Consumption, the following explanations are given to show that this Account is not susceptible of verification in the manner described:

In the compilation of the Bonded Warehouse Account, every document is used which substantiates a receipt or delivery under any circumstances, and this Account therefore presents an accurate view of the Stock in Warehouse both at the commencement and termination of the period which it embraces.

The column headed "Received into the Warehouse during the Year" includes:—

The Articles which, having been warehoused at one Port, were removed and re-warehoused at another; and under the head of "Wine" it also includes the increase of quantity caused by the addition of Spirits for the purpose of fortifying the Wine in Warehouse.

The column headed "Delivered from the Warehouse during the Year" includes:—

The Articles which, having been warehoused at one Port, were removed and re-warehoused at another.

The Deliveries of the respective Articles for Home Consumption, on payment of Duty.

The Exports of the respective Articles, less the Quantities exported on Drawback or otherwise, subsequently to the payment of Duty.

The Quantities of certain Articles delivered free of Duty for removal to the Victualling Stores of Her Majesty's Dockyards, or for the use of the Officers of Her Majesty's Navy and Army; and the Quantities delivered free of Duty to be used as Ships' Stores on board Merchant and Passenger Vessels, as shown in the Supplemental Account, p. 509.

The Quantities of Tea, Tobacco, and other Articles taken out of Warehouse to be destroyed in cases of damage.

Under the head of "Brandy" the Quantities used in fortifying Wine in Bond.

Under the head of "Rum" the Quantities Mixed in Bond, with other Spirits, either British or Foreign, to be eventually exported under the denomination of "Mixed Spirits."

As regards the Quantities of Articles Entered for Home Consumption, which are shown in the General Import Account, it is to be remembered that they comprise the Quantities charged with Duty, and passed into consumption immediately on their delivery from the Ship, as well as the Quantities taken out of Warehouse for Home Consumption.

RETURNS FOR THE YEAR 1867,

Compiled by Order of Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department,

COMPRISING

1. Police and Constabulary.—STATEMENTS of the POLICE ESTABLISHMENTS and EXPENSES, and of the NUMBER of OFFENCES COMMITTED and OFFENDERS APPREHENDED: Also, STATEMENTS of the NUMBER of INQUESTS held by CORONERS.
2. Criminal Proceedings.—NUMBER of PERSONS COMMITTED for TRIAL at the ASSIZES and SESSIONS, with the RESULT of the PROCEEDINGS.
3. Prisons.—STATE of the PRISONS, NUMBER of PRISONERS, ESTABLISHMENTS, and EXPENSES, with RETURNS of REFORMATORY and INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS, and of CRIMINAL LUNATICS.

PART I.

INTRODUCTORY AND EXPLANATORY REPORT.

The Police, the Criminal, and the Prison Returns for 1867 are complete, with the exception of one unimportant Coroner's Return, which is wanting. The abstracts have been prepared with care, in the usual form.

With the increase of population and of wealth, an increase in the Force for their protection against offenders must be required; and it will be seen that the increase in the number of the Police is more than in proportion to the increase of population.

With the increase in the expense of living, and with the rise in the rate of wages and pay in other occupations, an increase in the cost of the Police, irrespective of the increase in their numbers, is to be expected, and is shown in the returns.

With regard to the criminal classes, and the amount of crime, no extraordinary variation will be found between 1867 and the preceding year.

In the number of the criminal classes at large, as known to the Police, there is a slight decrease. In the number of indictable offences reported by the Police there is a considerable increase, with a considerable decrease in the number of summary proceedings. The increase is in the classes of offences against property.

In the numbers for trial, as shown in the Criminal Returns, there is a slight increase; and also in the number of committments to prison.

POLICE AND CONSTABULARY.

The Returns made to the Secretary of State pursuant to the Act of the 19th and 20th Vict. c. 69, for the year ending the 29th September 1867, show the number of each rank of the Police and Constabulary Force in England and Wales at that date to have been as follows; the numbers for the preceding year being also stated, for comparison, with the increase or decrease in 1866-7.

taken together shows an increase of 66. The total increase in the Force is 345, or 1·4 per cent., on the number for 1865-6.

The total number of the Police and Constabulary gives one for every 889·7 of the estimated population for 1866-7, against one for every 893·8 in the preceding year. The total increase of the Police and Constabulary gives one for every 636·2 of the estimated increase of population.

the Force.

The following are the numbers composing the different Forces in each of the years 1866-7 and 1865-6, with the increase or decrease in each Force in 1866-7.

	1866-7.	1865-6.	Increase.	Decrease.
Constables of Boroughs appointed under the Municipal Corporation Act of 1835	- 6,946	6,777	169	—

Total Police and Constabulary	24,073	23,728

The decrease shown in the number of the Dockyard, &c. Police is occasioned by the nominal transfer of the men employed at certain of the Government Stations to the general body of the Metropolitan Police, the actual increase in the latter force being consequently less than the apparent by the number so transferred.

The rule that persons known to have been living honestly for one year at least subsequently to their discharge after any conviction should not be returned in the class of known thieves and depredators has now been followed for four years; and in the following abstract the average of the numbers under this head for the three years 1865-6-4-5 and 3-4 is given, with the average of the numbers under the other heads for those years, and with the numbers under each head for each of the years 1866-7 and 1865-6.

In the total number of houses of bad character, it will be seen, there is a decrease of 52, as compared with the number shown in the Returns for 1865-6, and following a decrease of 440, or 2·1 per cent. in the number for 1865-6, as compared with 1864-5. The decrease is in the number of brothels, &c., there being an increase under each of the other heads. In 1865-6 the number of brothels, &c. showed a decrease of 138, as compared with the number in 1864-5.

Tables 1. and 2.

The strength and the cost of the Police Force throughout England and Wales, and the numbers of the criminal classes at large, and of the houses of bad character to which they resort, are shown in the first and second Tables, as abstracted from the Returns furnished by the Officers of the different County and Borough Police Forces.

Following tables.

The following Tables relate to the offences committed, and the number and disposal of the persons charged with offences, as reported by the Police.

Table 3, (pp. 9-12.)

The number of indictable offences not summarily disposed of, committed in each Police District, so far as known to the Police, the number of persons apprehended, charged with offences, and the disposal of the persons apprehended, are shown in Table 3.

With the forms issued in 1867 instructions were given, in order that the practice of the officers of the different Police Forces may be similar in preparing the Returns of indictable offences, that cases of simple larceny where the value is less than 5s., and no apprehension follows, are not to be included. It will be seen, however, that a considerable increase has taken place in the total number of indictable offences reported in 1866-7, as compared with the preceding year.

Crimes and apprehensions.

The following are the number of indictable offences committed and of the persons apprehended in each of the four periods of three months, commencing with October 1866, with the number in the corresponding periods of the preceding year, and the increase in each period in 1866-7 :

	Crimes committed.		Increase.

Total	- 28,132	27,190	942, or 3·4 per cent.

The proportion of apprehensions to the number of crimes committed in 1866-7 is 50·6 per cent., against 53·7 per cent. in the preceding year; 55·6 per cent. in 1864-5; 56·2 per cent. in 1863-4; and 58·2 per cent. in 1862-3, the latter being the highest proportion attained in any year.

The number of offences committed, as appears above, is greatest in the Winter quarters. The proportion of apprehensions is highest in the Summer quarters, viz., 50 and 49·2 per cent. in the two Winter quarters respectively: 51·8 and 51·1 per cent. in the Summer quarters in 1866-7; 52·9 and 52·1, against 55·2 and 55·1 per cent. respectively in 1865-6.

The persons apprehended as shown above, charged with the commission of indictable offences in 1866-7, when brought before the magistrates, were disposed of as follows:—

Committed for want of sureties	38	3	41
Committed for trial	14,133	3,610	17,753
Total	21,496	6,636	28,132

The proportion of the total numbers under each head of disposal to the total number apprehended in each of the years 1866-7 and 1865-6 was as follows:—

In Table 4 is shown the total number of indictable offences of each description committed, so far as known to the Police, and the number and nature of the indictable offences committed in each Police District. Table 5 gives the number of indictable offences of each description committed, so far as known to the Police, in each of the four periods of three months, and the number and disposal of the persons apprehended for each description of offence, the offences being classed under offences against the person; offences against property with violence; offences against property without violence; malicious offences against property; forgery and offences against the currency; and offences not included in the foregoing.

In Class I., offences against the person, the total number of offences committed, as shown in the table, was 2,799; the number of persons apprehended during the year for offences of this description was 2,867; of whom 651 were discharged on being brought before the magistrates, leaving 2,216 as the number against whom the evidence appeared sufficient. This number is in the proportion of 79·1 per cent. to the number of offences of this class reported. The number of persons apprehended during the year for offences of this description was 2,776; of these, 676 were discharged by the magistrates, leaving 2,100 as the number against whom the evidence appeared sufficient. This number is in the proportion of 35·5 per cent. to the number of offences under this head reported during the year. Under this class of offences, this proportion in the preceding year, was 39·5 per cent.; in 1864-5 it was 39·4; in 1863-4, 44·7; in 1862-3, 43·0; in 1861-2, 38·8; and in each of the years 1860-1, and 1859-60, 36·0 per cent.

Under this class of offences this proportion was 56·9 per cent. in the preceding year; in 1864-5 it was 53·3; in 1863-4, 56·0; in 1862-3, 70·4; in 1861-2, 54·3; in 1860-1, 49·4; and in 1859-60, 38·1 per cent.

POLICE AND
CONSTABULARY.

Under the three remaining classes of offences, III., V., and VI., the number of offences reported amounted to 46,357, and the number of persons apprehended to 22,139, of whom 6,971 were discharged, leaving 15,168 as the number against whom the evidence appeared sufficient, this number being in the proportion of 32·7 per cent. to the total number of offences under these classes taken together. In the preceding year this proportion, with regard to these three classes of offences, was 34·8 per cent.; in 1864-5 it was 35·4; in 1863-4, 35·0; in 1862-3, 36·7; in 1861-2, 36·3; in 1860-1, 33·1; in 1859-60, 29·4 per cent.

As already stated, the total number of indictable offences reported was 55,538. The total number of persons apprehended for these offences was 28,132, and the total number of these discharged 8,405, leaving 19,727 as the number against whom the evidence appeared sufficient, this number being in the proportion of 35·5 per cent. to the total number of offences reported. Calculated on the total numbers, this proportion in the preceding year was 37·9 per cent.; in 1864-5 it was 38·7 in 1863-4, 39·2; in 1862-3, 40·5; in 1861-2, 37·4; in 1860-1, 36·1; in 1859-60, 32·1 per cent.

Total offences.

The number of persons committed or bailed for trial for indictable offences, during the year ending 29th September 1867, as shown in the Police Returns, was 19,416, as already stated; and of these it may be calculated that about 14,562,* (75 per cent., about the usual proportion,) would be convicted. To this number, in order to show the total convictions during the year, is to be added 335,359 summary convictions before the magistrates, a large proportion of the latter being, however, for offences of a trifling character (see Table, p. 32).

The total number of persons proceeded against summarily, and the number convicted and discharged respectively during the year, were as follows:—

Summary convictions, (Tables, pp. 21-32.)

In the number of convictions there is a decrease of 3,732 in 1866-7, as compared with the preceding year. The convictions were in the proportion of 70·6 per cent. to the total number proceeded against in 1866-7, and of 70·3 per cent. in 1865-6. In each of the two preceding years this proportion was 68·2 per cent.; in 1862-3 it was 67·2 per cent.; in each of the years 1861-2 and 1860-1, 66·7; in 1859-60, 66·4; in 1858-9, 63·6 per cent. The proportion of the males proceeded against to the total number proceeded against in 1866-7 is 81 per cent., the proportion borne by the females being consequently 19 per cent. In the preceding year these proportions were respectively 81·6 and 18·4 per cent. The proportion of the males convicted to the total number convicted is 83·6 per cent.; of the females, 16·4 per cent. In the preceding year these proportions were 84·5 and 15·5 per cent. respectively. The proportion of the males convicted to the total number of males proceeded against is 72·9 per cent.; the proportion of the females convicted to the total number of females proceeded against, 61·1 per cent. In the preceding year these proportions were respectively 72·8 and 59·6 per cent. In 1864-5 the proportions were 70·7 and 57·2 per cent.; the proportion of the number

* The numbers brought to trial at Assizes and Sessions in the year ending 31st December, as shown under Criminal Proceedings (Report p. xxii., Tables p. 45), it is obvious are not identical with the numbers committed or bailed for trial as shown in the Police Returns for the year ending the 29th September. The number of convictions would, therefore, not necessarily be the same, although the proportion would probably not vary.

*Appeals against Justices' Convictions, (Table,
p. 37.)*

The number of appeals to Quarter Sessions against decisions of justices in summary proceedings in the year 1867 was 91, the same as in each of the two preceding years. Of these, 53 were affirmed and 38 were quashed in 1867, the same as in 1866, against 57 and 34 respectively in 1865.

Of the appeals in 1867, 33 were in cases of bastardy orders, of which 21 were affirmed and 12 were quashed. Deducting these, there remain 58 in other matters, of which 32 were affirmed and 26 were quashed. In 1866 the appeals in other cases than bastardy orders were 66, of which 40 were affirmed and 26 were quashed. In 1865 the number was 50, of which 26 were affirmed and 24 quashed.

The summary convictions in 1867, exclusive of those in bastardy cases, were 331,981. There was, therefore, one appeal for every 5,723, and one reversal of the judgment for every 12,763 of the convictions. In the preceding year there was one appeal for every 5,099, and one reversal of the judgment for every 12,945 of the convictions. In 1865 there was one appeal for every 6,178, and one reversal of the judgment for every 12,872 of the convictions.

In the cases for disobeying bastardy orders in 1867 there was one appeal for every 102, and one reversal of the judgment for every 281 of the convictions.

Part II.)

Further, in 1867 there were nine appeals removed into the Court of Queen's Bench under the 12th and 13th Vict. c. 45. There were 11 of such appeals argued; and in each case judgment was given. In the preceding year also there were 9 of these appeals; 5 cases were argued and in 5 judgment was given.

(Tables, pp. 1. and
4., Part II.)

In 1867, 89 cases were stated for the opinion of the superior courts under the 20th and 21st Vict. c. 43. 81 of these cases were removed into the Court of Queen's Bench; 47 were argued, and in 46 judgment was given; 8 were removed to the Court of Common Pleas, in 5 of which the judgment was affirmed, and in 3 reversed. In the preceding year, 55 of such cases were removed into the Court of Queen's Bench, 41 of which were argued, and in 39 judgment was given; there were 10 cases in the Court of Common Pleas, in 3 of which the judgment was affirmed, and in 7 reversed; and 4 in the Court of Exchequer, in all of which the judgment was reversed.

POLICE AND
CONSTABULARY.

Returns in the usual form of the inquests held, &c., for each county, division, or district (with the exception of the Soken Division of Essex), and for each city and borough, have been obtained for 1867, distinguishing, in the case of children of seven years of age and under, those of legitimate from those of illegitimate birth.

The number of verdicts of murder in the cases of infants of one year old and under is also shown in the Returns for the past year, as for each of the four preceding years. The number of these cases in 1867 was 149, against 166 in 1866, 175 in 1865, 203 in 1864, and 166 in 1863. Of the 149 cases in 1867, 83, or 55·7 per cent., were in the County of Middlesex, including the Cities of London and Westminster, against 94, or 56·6 per cent., in the preceding year.

The following were the inquests held during the year, distinguished under the different verdicts:

With regard to the difference which is observable between the number of murders reported by the Police (135 for the year ending 29th September 1867) and the number of verdicts of murder shown in the Coroner's Returns, the explanation given in the statistics of 1866 (Report, p. xviii) is equally applicable for the present year.

In the total number of inquests in 1867 there is a decrease of 278, 192 on males and 86 on females, as compared with the number in the preceding year. In the verdicts of murder there is a decrease of 17; 9 in the number on males, and 8 in the number on females. The verdicts of manslaughter show a decrease of 44, or 19·7 per cent., following a decrease of 59, or 20·9 per cent., in the number in 1866, as compared with the number in 1865. Under "natural death," as compared with the numbers for 1866, there is a decrease of 51, or 13·6 per cent., in the verdicts "from excessive drinking," following a decrease of 12 in 1866, as compared with the number in 1865. Under "disease aggravated by neglect," there is an increase of 34, or 42·0 per cent., and under "want, cold, exposure, &c.," an increase of 51, or 25·5 per cent., in the numbers for 1867, as compared with the numbers for 1866.

The total number of sentences to penal servitude in 1867 is in the proportion of 12.99 per cent. to the total number convicted, against 14.1 per cent. in each of the two preceding years. In 1857, the last year in which sentences to transportation were passed, the sentences to transportation and to penal servitude, taken together, were in the proportion of 17.2 per cent. to the total number convicted.

To the foregoing number of sentences to penal servitude in 1867 may be added 14 capital sentences commuted to penal servitude for life, one to 15 years, and one to 10 years, against 13 for life in the preceding year. In each of the years 1865 and 1863 there were seven capital sentences commuted to penal servitude for life. In 1864 there were 12 commuted to penal servitude for life, and 1 (in the case of a female) for 20 years.

The following table shows the crimes for which the capital convictions have taken place in each of the last 10 years.

Twenty-seven cases were submitted for the decision of the court in 1867 against 18 in 1866.

Costs of Criminal Prosecutions,
(Table, pp. 55-57.)

The usual Return is given of the sums paid by Her Majesty's Treasury on account of criminal prosecutions at assizes and quarter sessions, and at the Central Criminal Court, and for proceedings under the Criminal Justice Act and the Juvenile Offenders Act, showing in detail the costs for each county and borough, at assizes and at sessions, and with respect to the Metropolitan Counties, at the Central Criminal Court, and under the two Acts above named. The number of prosecutions for each jurisdiction during the year is also shown. This Return is for the year ended 31st December 1866, being, as in former years, one year in arrear of the other matters under the head of Criminal Proceedings. The following are the totals under each head in the Return, and the average cost per case at each of the courts, and under each of the two Acts.

As compared with the numbers and amounts for 1865, the foregoing figures show a decrease of 473 in the number of cases tried on indictment, and of 6,325*l.* 1*s.* 5*d.* in the costs, with an increase of 242 in the number of summary proceedings, and of 203*l.* 0*s.* 3*d.* in the costs.

CRIMINAL
PROCEEDINGS.

The average cost of each case tried on indictment was less in 1866 than in the preceding year by 3*s.* 2*d.*, and of each case of summary proceedings by 6*d.*

Returns for 1867, furnished by the Solicitor to the Treasury, show the total number of Mint cases prosecuted and concluded in the year to have been 308, and the total costs 2,786*l.* 8*s.* 1*d.*, and the number of criminal cases other than Mint cases prosecuted by the Solicitor to the Treasury and brought to conclusion within the year to have been 40, and the costs incurred in respect of the same 7,242*l.* 5*s.* 2*d.*

Government Prosecutions.

In the preceding year the number of Mint cases was 267, and the costs 2,481*l.* 0*s.* 1*d.*; the number of other prosecutions was 36, and the costs 799*l.* 4*s.* 5*d.*

PRISONS.

The usual information, it will be seen, is given under the head of Prisons. The returns for the local prisons, for the reformatories, and for the industrial schools, and those with regard to criminal lunatics, are for the year ended the 29th September 1867; those for the convict prisons are for the year ended 31st March 1868; all in continuation of the returns for the preceding twelve months, respectively.

PRISONS, &c.

The same local prisons appear in the list for 1866-7 as for the preceding year. The Worcester city prison has however been amalgamated with the county prison, and will not appear in the next year's returns. Of these local prisons, 130 in number, 88 are county or liberty prisons, including two for the Isle of Ely, and three, one each, for the liberties of St. Alban, Peterborough, and Ripon; 42 are city, town, or borough prisons, including Newgate (for the City of London and County of Middlesex), White-cross-street (city and county debtors' prison), and Halifax (county courts prison).

The commitments of each description to these prisons during the year were as follows, the males and females being distinguished, with the proportions per cent. of the numbers under each class of commitments to the totals.

Commitments,
(Table, pp. 61-63.)

Commitments.	Males.	Females.	Total.	Proportion per Cent.
				Males to total Males.	Females to total Females.	Males and Females to total Commitments.

For trial at assizes and sessions -	13,769	3,482	17,251	12·5	·9	11·9
Convicted at assizes and sessions (not previously in custody) -	1,520	363	1,883	1·4	1·0	1·3
Convicted summarily -	71,252	27,384	98,636	64·7	78·1	67·9

Total -	110,100	35,084	145,184	100·0	100·0	100·0

In the proportion which the numbers under the different classes of commitments bear to the total commitments the variation between the years 1866-7 and 1865-6 in no case amounts to 1 per cent., as regards the males, and the total commitments; as regards the females there is an increase of 2 per cent. in the proportion of the numbers summarily convicted, with a decrease of 1·3 per cent. in the proportions of those committed for trial; under each of the other classes of commitments, as regards the females, the variation is fractional only, and very trifling.

The total number of commitments shows an increase of 8,443 as compared with the number for the preceding year, the increase being, in the number of males 6,731, or in the proportion of 6·4 per cent., in the number of females 1,712, or 5·1 per cent.

The increase extends to each class of commitments, excepting those for want of sureties, in which there is a decrease of 11. In the number remanded and discharged there is an increase of 272, or 2·5 per cent.; in the number for trial an increase of 111, or 0·6 per cent.; in the number committed after conviction, not having been previously in prison, there is an increase of 362, or 23·8 per cent.; in the number on summary conviction an increase of 6,373, or 6·9 per cent.; in the number of debtors of 1,049, or 9·8 per cent.; and in the number for military and naval offences of 287, or 15·5 per cent.

The number of offenders sentenced to imprisonment on summary conviction by the magistrates for the year ending 29th September 1867, as shown in the police returns, is 77,368. The excess in the number of commitments of those convicted summarily, as stated in the prison returns, is therefore 21,268, and arises, as has been before explained, from the police returns showing the numbers sentenced to imprisonment, while those who, being sentenced to the payment of a fine, are, in default of payment, committed to prison, are included in the prison returns along with those sentenced to imprisonment under the heading “convicted summarily.”

The following are the commitments as shown in the tables for each of the last five years, with the totals for those years, and for the preceding period of five years.

Previous Commitments, (Table,
pp. 61-63.)

The number of recommitted prisoners shows an increase of 2,034, or 4·6 per cent., as compared with the number for 1865-6. With respect to the males, the increase is 1,643, or 5·4 per cent.; with respect to the number of females, it is 391, or 2·8 per cent. The proportion of the recommitted to the total number committed (exclusive of debtors, and naval and military offenders, and those remanded and discharged,) is 38·5 per cent., against 39·0 per cent. in the preceding year, and 38·0 per cent. in 1864-5.

The recommitted males were 36·2 per cent. of the total number of males committed, exclusive of debtors, &c.; the recommitted females 44·8 per cent. of the total number of females committed. In the preceding year the proportions were 36·4 per cent., with respect to the males; 46·1 per cent., with respect to the females. In 1864-5, 35·3 and 47·3 per cent. respectively.

The following are the classified numbers of the previous commitments, with the proportion per cent. of each number to the total recommitted, for each sex respectively, and also for the total numbers.

The variation in the proportions, as compared with preceding years, is inconsiderable, the higher proportionate number of females frequently recommitted being, as usual, remarkable.

The number of the recommitted prisoners in 1866-7, who, on a previous conviction, had been sentenced to penal servitude, is 1,601, (215 males and 386 females), against 1,493 (1,178 males and 315 females) in 1865-6, and 1,450 (1,146 males and 304 females) in 1864-5. The proportion borne by the total number to the total number recommitted is 3·4 per cent. for 1866-7; the corresponding proportion having been 3·3 per cent. for each of the preceding years.

Recommitted prisoners previously sentenced to penal servitude.

The classified ages of the total number committed, exclusive of debtors and naval and military prisoners, are shown in the following table, with the proportion per cent. of the number of males of each age to the total number of males, and of the number of females of each age to the total number of females, the proportionate numbers in this as in the foregoing table varying in a very slight degree from those for the preceding year.

The total number of those under 16 years of age committed in 1866-7 shows an increase of 275, or nearly 3 per cent., as compared with the corresponding commitments for the preceding year. The proportion which the number under 16 years of age bears to the total number committed in 1866-7 (exclusive of debtors, &c., and those committed for naval and military offences,) is 7·3 per cent. In the preceding year this proportion was 7·5 per cent. In 1864-5 it was 7·6 per cent.

Birth-place of those committed, (Table, pp. 64-66.)

The numbers of each sex of those committed in 1866-7, born in England, Wales, Scotland, and Ireland, the colonies and foreign countries respectively, (exclusive of debtors and those for naval and military offences,) are distinguished in the following table, the proportion per cent. of the numbers of each sex for each country to the total number of each sex committed, and the proportion per cent. of the total number for each country to the total number committed, being shown.

As compared with the preceding year, there is an increase of 0·4 per cent. in the proportion of those born in England (males and females to total committed), and of 0·2 per cent. with regard to those born in Wales, the proportion of those born in Scotland being the same for both years; in the proportion of those born in Ireland there is a decrease of 0·5 per cent., and a decrease of 0·1 per cent. with regard to the colonies; the proportions of those born in foreign countries and of those not ascertained being the same for each year.

State of Instruction, (Table, pp. 67-69.)

In the following abstract is shown the degree of instruction of those committed during the year (with the exception of debtors and those committed for naval and military offences), the sexes being distinguished, with the proportion per cent. of the number of males under each degree of instruction to the total number of males, and of the females to the total number of females, and also of the males and females together to the total number committed.

Those who could read, or read and write imperfectly, were 60·7 per cent., against 61·7 per cent. in the preceding year. Those who could read and write well were 3·0 per cent. and those of superior instruction 0·2 per cent. of the total number in each year, there remaining 0·8 per cent. in 1866-7 and 0·9 per cent. in the preceding year whose state of instruction was not ascertained.

The occupations of those committed during the year are shown in the table under the following classification, the numbers under each class of occupation, with the proportion per cent. of the males to the total number of males, and of the females to the total number of females, being as follows:—

The first three tables, from which the foregoing are abstracts, relate to the prisoners committed during the year; the remaining tables relate to the whole number of prisoners under confinement in the different local prisons during the year, and their disposal; the capacity, state, and management of the prisons; the expenses, and the funds upon which the costs are charged.

The numbers under detention in the local prisons, and the removals between those prisons, during the year ended 29th September 1867, were as follows:—

In the total number remaining in prison at the end of the year, that is, on the 29th September 1867, there is an increase of 564, or 3·2 per cent., as compared with the number at the commencement of the year, on the 30th September 1866. The increase in the number of criminals amounts to 529, or 3·1 per cent. In the number of debtors remaining the increase is 35, or 6·1 per cent.

The total number of cells in the local prisons, as shown in the Returns for the past year, is as follows:—

Number of

In the number of separate sleeping cells there is an increase of 355; 351 for males and 4 for females. The number for 1865-6 showed an increase of 628 on the number for 1864-5. In the number of certified cells there is an increase of 1,681; 1,371 for males and 310 for females, following an increase of 228 in 1865-6 on the number for 1864-5.

The greatest number of prisoners under confinement at one time, and the daily average, were as follows:—

Greatest Number at One Time.			Daily Average.
Males.	Females.	TOTAL.	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.
17,510	4,772	22,282	14,249	3,746	17,995

Although the number of separate sleeping cells was in excess of the daily average number of prisoners by 2,136, it appears to have been insufficient for the greatest number at one time by 2,151; 1,727 with regard to the males, and 424 with regard to the females.

The number of prisoners under confinement at the commencement of the year, and the number committed during the year, taken together, viz. 162,716, exceed the corresponding numbers for 1865-6, by 7,462, the excess in the number of males being 6,136, or 5·2 per cent., and in the number of females 1,326, or 3·5 per cent.

The greatest number under confinement at one time was higher in 1866-7 than in the preceding year by 254; 217 males and 37 females. The daily average was higher by 146; by 181 with regard to the males, the daily average number of females having been less than in the preceding year by 35.

The number of prisoners sentenced to hard labour and the number of hard labour sentences undergone during the year in the different prisons is shown in the table. PRISONS.
Number of prisoners sentenced to hard labour, (Table, pp. 73-75.)

Under the Prisons Act, 1865, hard labour is to be of the first and of the second class, males only being subjected to the former. Hard labour of the first class consists of work at the treadwheel, shot drill, crank, capstan, stone-breaking, or such other like description of hard bodily labour as may be appointed by the Justices, with the approval of the Secretary of State; hard labour of the second class, of such other description of bodily labour as may be in like manner appointed. The total number of prisoners sentenced to hard labour was 85,785 in 1866-7, exceeding the number in the preceding year by 3,756. Of the 85,785, 65,698 were males and 20,087 females, showing an increase in 1866-7 respectively of 3535, or 5·7 per cent., in the number of males, and of 22·1, or 1·1 per cent., in the number of females.

The number of sentences undergone was as follows for the two years respectively, as stated in the Returns from the different prisons:—

	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.
Hard labour of the first class -	32,470	—	32,470	32,134	—	32,134
„ of the second class -	20,594	15,302	35,896	14,711	—	29,603
	53,064	15,302	68,366	46,845	14,822	61,717

In 1866-7 under 80 per cent. only of the sentences to hard labour were undergone. One fifth of the sentences would therefore appear not to have been carried into effect. In 1865-6 the proportion was 75 per cent. of the sentences undergone, and consequently one fourth not carried into effect.

The number of deaths and the cases of sickness in each prison are shown in the table. The following are the total numbers for 1866-7, with the average of the numbers for each of the two periods of five years immediately preceding:— Sanitary state of the prisons, (Table, pp. 73-75.)

Cases of Sickness and Death.	1866-7.			Average of 5 Years.
	Males.	Females.	Total.	1866-62.	1861-57.

Greatest number of sick at one time	1,620	448	2,068	1,915	1,921

In the deaths in 1866-7 there is an increase of four in the number among the males, with a decrease of three in the number among the females, leaving an increase of one in the total number, as compared with the total for the preceding year. In the infirmary cases of sickness there is a decrease of 205, as compared with the number for the preceding year. The cases of slight indisposition show an increase of 15,817, or upwards of 25 per cent. In the cases of insanity there is a decrease of nine.

PRISONS.

The deaths were in the proportion of 1 in 656·1 of the number of prisoners under detention during the year. Among the males the proportion was 1 in 598·4; among the females 1 in 947·5. In the preceding year the proportion with regard to the total number was 1 in 646·2; in 1864-5 it was 1 in 666; in 1863-4, 1 in 659·1; in 1862-3, 1 in 746·6; in 1861-2, 1 in 841·1; in 1860-1, 1 in 122·7. In the past year the infirmary cases were 1 in 37·4; in the preceding year they were 1 in 30·4. The cases of slight indisposition were 1 in 2·1; in the preceding year they were 1 in 2·3. The cases of insanity were 1 in 1,170·6; in the preceding year they were 1 in 1,078·5; in 1864-5 they were 1 in 1,158·4; in 1863-4, 1 in 1,129·9; in 1862-3, 1 in 1,223·7; in 1861-2, 1 in 999·8; in 1860-1, 1 in 1,167·8; in 1859-60, 1 in 896·9.

In the past year the cases of insanity were, with regard to the males, 1 in 1,202·6 of the males; with regard to the females, 1 in 1,079·2 of the females.

The number of punishments of each description for offences committed in prison was as follows for the whole of the prisons :—

The total number of punishments shows an increase of 1,720 as compared with the number for the preceding year. In the number inflicted on males the increase amounts to 2,855; with regard to the females there is a decrease of 1,135. In the number of whippings there is an increase of one. The cases of irons or handcuffs show a decrease of 42; 18 with respect to the males, and 24 with respect to the females.

Prison Establishments, (Table, pp. 82-84.)

The prison officers are shown in the table under the same classification for the past as for the preceding year. A reduction appears in the number of the superior officers, consequent upon the discontinuance of the prisons named in the Schedule to the Prisons Act, 1865.

At the same time an increase will be found in the number of subordinate officers. The following are the numbers of each class as shown in the table for 1865-7 :—

Rank of Officers.	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.
Governor and Deputy Governor - - - - -	157	2	159
Chaplain - - - - -	136	—	136

Other subordinate officers - - - - -	408	85	493
Total - - - - -	2,000	463	2,463

As compared with the numbers for 1865-6, there is an increase of 10 in the total for 1866-7. In the number of governors and deputy governors there is a decrease of 12; in the number of chaplains there is a decrease of 5; in the number of surgeons, of 6; in the number of clerks, &c. there is an increase of 3; in the number of matrons there is a decrease of 8; in the number of warders there is a decrease of 15, with an increase of 53 in the other subordinate officers.

The total number gives 1 officer to 7·3 of the daily average number of prisoners, differing very slightly from the proportion for the preceding year. The number of warders and other subordinate officers, taken together, gives 1 to 10·4 of the daily average number of prisoners for 1866-7, the corresponding proportion being 1 to 10·6 for the preceding year.

The costs of the prisons are given under the usual headings as shown below, the details for each prison being stated in the Table.

The amount for rent, rates, and taxes was less for 1866-7 than for the preceding year by 530*l.* 13*s.* 10*d.* The amount under "other establishment charges" was less by 9,486*l.* 10*s.* 3*d.*

PRISONS.

there is an increase under every head, the averages for 1865-6 having been generally higher than those for 1864-5. The average, 36*l.* 10*s.* 4*d.*, is higher than the corresponding average for 1865-6 by 2*l.* 1*s.* 8*d.* The average of 26*l.* 13*s.* is higher than the corresponding average by 15*s.* 1*d.*

The foregoing averages are calculated on the total amounts under each head of expenditure, and the total daily average number of prisoners in all the prisons. The average cost per prisoner, as usual, shows great variation in different prisons. The highest is at Alnwick, viz., 114*l.* 3*s.* 2*d.* against 110*l.* 1*s.* 2*d.* in 1865-6, 108*l.* 2*s.* 5*d.* in 1864-5, and 88*l.* 15*s.* 11*d.* in 1863-4, with a daily average of one prisoner in each year. At Oakham the average cost for 1866-7 is 80*l.* 13*s.* 3*d.*, with a daily average of 10 prisoners, against 93*l.* 16*s.* 2*d.* in 1865-6, and 87*l.* 1*s.* 9*d.* in 1864-5, with a daily average of eight prisoners for each of these years. At Appleby, 70*l.* 2*s.*, with a daily average of six prisoners. At Ilford, 51*l.* 6*s.*, with a daily average of 20 prisoners.

The lowest average cost will be found as follows: At Hull, 16*l.* 17*s.*, with a daily average of 173 prisoners; at Salford 16*l.* 17*s.* 8*d.*, with a daily average of 568 prisoners; at Liverpool, 18*l.* 8*s.* 9*d.*, with a daily average of 952 prisoners; at Devonport 18*l.* 12*s.* 4*d.*, with a daily average of 58 prisoners; at Durham, 18*l.* 16*s.* 9*d.*, with a daily average of 433 prisoners; at Manchester, 19*l.* 1*s.* 3*d.*, with a daily average of 631 prisoners.

The following are the comparative costs for the whole of the prisons for each of the last six years:—

CONVICT PRISONS,
(Tables, pp. 88-89.)

The Returns relating to the convict prisons, made under the direction of the Chairman of the Directors of Convict Prisons, are for the year ending the 31st of March 1868, in continuation of the Returns for the preceding 12 months given in the Statistics of 1867.

The prisons are the same as those for which Returns were given last year, and the purposes to which they are respectively appropriated continue unchanged, Pentonville and Millbank being for the imprisonment of convicts in separate confinement under the first stage of discipline, where they are detained for a period of nine months previously to their removal for the second stage of discipline, Pentonville being for male convicts only, Millbank for both males and females. Chatham, Portland, and Portsmouth are for males employed on public works, undergoing the second stage of discipline; Dartmoor and Woking are for male invalids; and Brixton, Fulham, and Parkhurst for females after they have undergone the first stage of discipline.

The following abstract from the Returns shows the number of convicts under confinement during the year 1867-8, their disposal, the number remaining at the end of the period, and the daily average number under confinement, for the whole of the 10 prisons.

The total number given above as received from county and borough prisons, &c., as compared with the number for the preceding 12 months, shows a decrease of 483, or 16·1 per cent., following a decrease of 118, or 3·7 per cent., in the number for 1866-7, as compared with the number for 1865-6. The decrease in the number of males for 1867-8, as compared with the number for 1866-7, is 400, or 15·2 per cent.; the decrease in the number of females is 83, or 22·4 per cent.

In these numbers are included, with regard to the males for 1867-8, convicts received from Wakefield Prison, where cells were rented by Government, and for 1866-7, convicts received into county and borough prisons in which cells were rented, and with regard to both years, convicts received from Gibraltar; and with regard both to males and females, for both years, convicts whose licences had been revoked.

The number removed to Western Australia exceeds the number for the preceding year by 41, or 10·0 per cent. The numbers removed to county gaols, schools, reformatories, or refuges, and to lunatic asylums, in 1866-7, were respectively 5, 175, and 26, the 5 having been males, the 175 females, and, of the 26, 24 males and 2

CONVICT PRISONS. females. The numbers discharged in 1867-8, on termination of sentence, were less than the numbers in 1866-7 by 33, 26 males and 7 females. The numbers discharged on tickets of leave were less by 659, or 36·7 per cent.; 576, or 37·4 per cent., with respect to the males, and 83, or 32·5 per cent., with respect to the females. In 1866-7, 9 males and 2 females were discharged on medical grounds, and 35 males on pardon. The number of deaths shows a decrease of 24, or upwards of 20 per cent.; 16, or 16·4 per cent., with regard to the males, and 8, or 42·1 per cent., with regard to the females. In 1866-7, 2 males committed suicide, and 1 escaped.

The number remaining in prison at the end of the year exceeded the number for 1866-7 by 568, or 8 per cent.; the males by 498, or 8·2 per cent., and the females by 70, or 7·1 per cent. The daily average was higher in 1867-8 than in 1866-7 by 350, or 5 per cent.; by 299 with regard to the males, and by 51 with regard to the females.

The deaths were in the proportion of 1 to 103·5 of the total number of convicts under detention during the year; of 1 to 101·8 with regard to the males, of 1 to 115·7 with regard to the females. In 1866-7 the proportions were 1 to 84·6 with regard to the total number of convicts, 1 to 86 with regard to the males, and 1 to 77·9 with regard to the females.

Among the females the infirmary cases were 5·3, and the cases of slight indisposition 7·8 to each. In the preceding year these proportions were 1·7 and 11·5 with regard to the males, and 5·3 and 7·2 with regard to the females. The cases of insanity were, among the males, 45 in 1867-8, against 28 in 1866-7, and 8 in 1865-6; among the females there were 4 in 1867-8, against 5 in each of the two preceding years.

For the preceding year the net cost per prisoner was 33*l.* 0*s.* 7*d.*

The Acts relating to reformatory schools were consolidated and amended by an Act passed in the Session of 1866 (29th and 30th Vict. c. 117.) Pursuant to this Act, the period of previous imprisonment for which an offender must be sentenced before being sent to a reformatory is "ten days or a longer term." Under the former Acts the previous imprisonment required was for fourteen days at the least.

The age at the time of commitment, whether on indictment or in a summary manner, of offenders who may be sent to reformatory schools after imprisonment, is limited to under 16 years; and the period of detention in the reformatory to not less than two years or more than five.

The number of reformatory schools in England and Wales certified by the Secretary of State for the reception of offenders is at present 50. With the exception of the West Riding Refuge for girls at Wakefield, which appeared in the list for 1865-6, but which is now omitted, the certificate having been resigned, the same schools will be found in the table for 1866-7 as for the preceding year.

SCHOOLS.
Commitments in 1866-7.

The number of offenders committed to reformatories in the year ended the 29th September 1867 was 1,339, exceeding the number for the preceding year by 52, and raising the total number of commitments to reformatories since the passing of the Act of the 17th and 18th Vict. c. 86. to 12,750; 10,397 males, and 2,353 females.

The following were the terms of detention of the 1,339 offenders committed in 1866-7:—

In the number discharged by order or on licence there is an increase of 66 as compared with the number in the preceding year; the number discharged on completion of the term of detention is less by 65; there is an increase of six in the number absconded and not re-taken, and of 13 in the number committed to prison; in the number of deaths there is an increase of 18. The number remaining under detention at the close of the year shows an increase of 344, or 9·5 per cent., following an increase of 247, or 7·2 per cent., in 1865-6, upon the number for 1864-5. The increase in 1866-7, as com-

Of the total number committed to the reformatories during the year it appears from the foregoing table that 48·5 per cent. had been previously more or less frequently committed to prison, leaving 51·5 per cent. as the proportion of those who were sent to reformatories on their first conviction. In the preceding year these proportions were respectively 47·6 per cent. and 52·4 per cent.; in 1864-5 they were 52·9 per cent. and 47·1 per cent., in 1863-4, 52·8 and 47·2 per cent., in 1862-3, 47·8 and 52·2 per cent.

Of those who had been previously committed to any prison, 4·5 per cent. were 10 years of age or under 10, against 5·1 per cent. of the number of this age in the preceding year; 6·3 per cent., against 6·9 per cent. in the preceding year, were 11 or above 10; 13·9 per cent., against 13·4 per cent. in the preceding year, were 12 or above 11; 18·0 per cent., against 16·8 per cent. in the preceding year, were 13 or above 12; 24·8 per cent., against 22·3 per cent. in the preceding year, were 14 or above 13; 23·9 per cent., against 27·2 per cent. in the preceding year, were 15 or above 14; and 8·6 per cent., against 8·3 per cent. in the preceding year, were 16 or above 15. Of those who had not been previously committed to prison, 5·9 per cent. were 10 years of age or under, against 7·9 per cent. of the number of this age in the preceding year; 10·1 per cent. were 11 or above 10, against 8·0 per cent. in the preceding year; 13·6 per cent. were 12 or above 11, against 15·6 per cent. in the preceding year; 17·3 per cent. were 13 or above 12, against 22·2 per cent. in the preceding year; 23·0 per cent. were 14 or above 13, against the same proportion in the preceding year; 24·4 per cent. were 15 or above 14, against 20·9 per cent. in the preceding year; and 5·7 per cent. were 16 or above 15, against 4·4 per cent. in the preceding year.

The following table shows the ages and state of instruction, when received into the reformatories, of those committed in 1866-7:

Middlesex Industrial School,
(Tables, p. 92.)

The Industrial School at Feltham, provided under a Local Statute of the 17th & 18th Vict., is for male offenders convicted of offences committed within the county of Middlesex. The commitments to this school are limited to the cases of offenders, whether convicted summarily or otherwise, who are above seven and under 14 years of age, and may be made for not less than one year or more than three years, without the previous committal to prison which is required in the case of offenders sent to reformatory schools.

The expenses of this school are defrayed from the county rate, justices being empowered to order payment not exceeding three shillings per head per week to be made by parents or guardians, where of sufficient ability.

The commitments during the year ended 29th September 1867 amounted to 264, exceeding the number for the preceding year by 56, the average of the five years 1860-1 to 1864-5 being 197. Of the 264 commitments in 1866-7, 36, or 13·6 per cent., were after trial on indictment; 228, or 86·4 per cent., on summary conviction; 259 were for the full period of three years, 5 only for two years or under. In the preceding year, 14·4 per cent. of the commitments were after trial on indictment; 85·6 per cent. on summary conviction; of 208, the total number, 206 were for the full period of three years, two only for two years or under. In 1866-7, 153, or 58·0 per cent. of the commitments, were for larcenies; 99, or 37·5 per cent., for vagrancy; and the remainder for different offences. In the preceding year, 75·4 per cent. were for larcenies; 13 per cent. only for vagrancy; in 1864-5 the proportion for vagrancy was 19 per cent.

Of those committed in 1866-7, 21, or 7·9 per cent., against 7·2 per cent. in the preceding year, were of the age of 10 years or under; 16, or 6·1 per cent., against 8·2 per cent. in the preceding year, were 11 or above 10; 27, or 10·2 per cent., against 17·8 per cent. in the preceding year, were 12 or above 11; 66, or 25·0 per cent., against 19·7 per cent. in the preceding year, 13 or above 12; and 134, or 50·8 per cent., against 47·1 per cent. in the preceding year, were 14 or above 13; 159, or 60·2 per cent., against 61 per cent. in the preceding year, could neither read nor write; 105, or 39·8 per cent., against 36·0 per cent. in the preceding year, could read or read and write imperfectly; in 1866-7, none, in the preceding year 6, or 3·0 per cent., could read and write well; in 1866-7, 47, against 44 in the preceding year, had been once previously committed to prison; 12, against 5 in the preceding year, twice; 4 in each year three times, and 2 in 1866-7 four times; leaving 199, or 75·7 per cent., against 74·5 per cent. in the preceding year, who had never previously been committed.

The number in the school at the commencement of the year was 510, which, with the 264 committed, gives 774 as the total under detention during the year. Of these, 123 were discharged by order of the Secretary of State, and 68 on completion of their terms of detention; three absconded, and were not retaken; 88 were removed; and three died; leaving 489 under detention on the 29th September 1867.

The cost per head was 28*l.* 14*s.* 8½*d.*, showing an increase of 2*l.* 8*s.* 0¾*d.* per head on the cost for the preceding year; an increase of 1*l.* 9*s.* 7*d.* and 1*l.* 17*s.* 2*d.* having appeared in the two previous years respectively. The amount recovered from parents 1866-7 was 457*l.* 19*s.* 4*d.*, against 376*l.* 2*s.* 10*d.*, 401*l.* 1*s.* 9*d.*, and 882*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.* in the three preceding years respectively.

By an Act passed in the session of 1866 (29 & 30 Vict. c. 118.), the former Acts relating to industrial schools were consolidated and amended. Under this Act, children apparently under 14 years of age who are found begging or receiving alms, or found wandering and not having any home or settled place of abode, or proper guardianship or visible means of subsistence, or found destitute, either being orphans or having a surviving parent who is undergoing penal servitude or imprisonment, or children who frequent the company of reputed thieves, may, on being brought before justices, be by them sent to a certified industrial school; and further, children apparently under 12 years of age who are charged before justices with an offence punishable by imprisonment or a less punishment, but who have not been convicted of felony, and also refractory children apparently under 14 years of age, on the representation of their parents or guardians, or refractory children maintained in a workhouse on the representation of the guardians of the poor, may be sent by the justices to such schools.

INDUSTRIAL
Industrial Schools,

No person who has attained the age of 16 years is to be detained in a certified industrial school, except with his own consent in writing.

In 41 schools certified by the Secretary of State (four of the number having been certified during the year) children were under detention pursuant to the provisions of the Act in the year ended 29th September 1867.

At the commencement of the year, that is, on the 30th September 1866, 1,238 children, 949 males and 289 females, were under detention in these schools. During the year, 1,112, 791 males and 321 females, were committed; making, with one male and 21 females received from reformatories or other industrial schools, a total of 2,372, (1,741 males and 631 females,) who were under detention during the year. Of these, 33, (11 males and 22 females,) were removed to other schools; 285, (208 males and 77 females,) were discharged; 19, (15 males and 4 females,) died; and 43, 36 males and 7 females,) absconded and were not retaken. Deducting these numbers, there remained 1,992, (1,471 males and 521 females,) in custody at the end of the year; showing an increase of 754, (522 males and 232 females,) on the number at its commencement.

Of the total number under detention during the year, 6·6 per cent. were under 8 years of age at the time of their commitment; 8·9 per cent. were 8 and under 9; 14·7 per cent. were 9 and under 10; 21·7 per cent. were 10 and under 11; 18·7 per cent. were 11 and under 12; 15·9 per cent. were 12 and under 13; 13·4 per cent. were 13 and under 14; of 0·1 per cent. the age is not stated.

The costs of the children for the year, so far as is given in the Returns (the amounts for nine of the schools not being stated), were 20,973*l.* 16*s.* 8*d.* The amount shown in the Returns as received of parents was 873*l.* 12*s.* 4*d.*, against 711*l.* 15*s.* 11*d.* in the preceding year, 985*l.* 0*s.* 8*d.* in 1865, 398*l.* 9*s.* 3*d.*, in 1864, 153*l.* 5*s.* 4*d.* in 1863, and 7*l.* 15*s.* 4*d.* in 1862.

Returns of Criminal Lunatics, obtained through the Commissioners in Lunacy, have been made in the usual form for the year ending the 29th September 1867, and show that the numbers under detention in the different asylums, hospitals, and licensed houses, during the year, amounted to 1,244, distributed as follows:

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Broadmoor, State Asylum	371	106	477
County asylums	307	116	423
City and borough asylums	13	22	35
Hospitals (including one in Bethlem)	6	5	11
Metropolitan licensed houses	13	2	15
Provincial	226	57	283
	936	308	1,244

Pursuant to an Act (30 Vict. c. 12) which came into operation on the 12th April 1867, criminal lunatics whose term of punishment has expired are not afterwards to be considered as criminals, but are to be treated as pauper lunatics.

Criminal Lunatic
Act, 1867.

CRIMINAL LUNATICS.

This provision, it will be seen, affected the cases of 571 of the lunatics under detention as criminals during the year, and the effect of its application has been to reduce the number remaining under detention as criminal lunatics at the end of the year to 537, 424 males and 113 females, in place of 1,108, 852 males and 256 females, as the numbers would otherwise have been.

These latter numbers would have shown an increase of 56 in the total, an increase of 59 in the males, with a decrease of 3 in the females, as compared with the corresponding numbers for the preceding year.

The disposal of the whole number under detention during the year 1866-7 was as follows, as shown in the table.

The number under detention at the commencement of the year, that is, on the 30th September 1866, exceeded by 20 the number at the commencement of the preceding year. The number committed during the year 1866-7 exceeded by 57, or upwards of 50 per cent., the number in 1865-6.

The offences with which the lunatics under detention were charged are shown in the usual detail in the table; 155, or 12·4 per cent. of the whole were for murder, the proportion for murder having been in the preceding year 12·8 per cent.; 11 were for concealment of birth and infanticide, the same in both years; 143, or 11·4 per cent., were for attempts to murder, maiming, stabbing, &c., and manslaughter, the proportion for these offences having been in the preceding year 12·4 per cent.; 312, or upwards of 25 per cent., were for larceny and petty theft, against 24·4 per cent. in 1865-6; 58, or 4·7 per cent., were for arson or malicious burning, the proportion for these offences having been in the preceding year 4·5 per cent.; 48, or 3·8 per cent., were for vagrancy, the proportion of the number under this head having been 4·5 per cent. in the preceding year.

The original judgments or orders under which the lunatics in custody in 1866-7 were detained, with the proportion per cent. which the numbers under each head bear to the whole, are as follows:

Of the number found insane, 52, or 29·7 per cent., were for murder; 40, or 22·8 per cent., were for attempts to murder, maim, &c.; of those acquitted insane 90, or 42·6 per cent., were for murder; 58, or 27·5 per cent., for attempts to murder, &c. Of those becoming insane after trial, 11, or 1·4 per cent., were for murder; 29, or 3·6 per cent. for attempts to murder, &c.; 42, or 5·2 per cent., were for assaults; 61, or 7·6 per cent., for burglary or housebreaking; 276, or 34·6 per cent., were for larceny and petty thefts.

The number under each period of detention, and the proportion per cent. borne by each number to the whole, are as follows:—

The following are the amounts chargeable to each of the different funds from which the costs are defrayed, with the total charge for each of the years 1866-7 and 1865-6, and the proportion per cent. which each amount bears to the total, in each year, for the whole number of criminal lunatics:—

The average cost per head in the State Asylum at Broadmoor was 59*l.* 14*s.*, Cost per head. against 56*l.* 7*s.* in 1865-6. The average for the 39 county asylums (Carmarthenshire appearing for the first time in the list) is 24*l.* 10*s.* 9*d.*, against 23*l.* 5*s.* 10*d.* in 1865-6. The average per head in the county asylums ranges between 13*l.* 3*s.* 7*d.*, the lowest, for Essex, and 36*l.* 10*s.* the highest, for Glamorganshire. For 5 city and borough asylums (Hull being added since the preceding year), the average is 29*l.* 18*s.* 10*d.*, the lowest and highest being, respectively, for Birmingham and the City of London, for the former 22*l.* 2*s.* in each year, and for the latter 36*l.* 10*s.* in 1866-7, against 36*l.* 8*s.* in 1865-6. For the hospitals and licensed Houses, in which (with the exception of Fisherton House, where the expenses fall almost entirely on the county rates and Her Majesty's Treasury,) the charges are chiefly defrayed from private funds. The cost per head varies greatly in these establishments, the lowest amount being 30*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* in Northampton Hospital, and the highest 531*l.* 16*s.* at Ticehurst Asylum.

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS—ENGLAND AND WALES.

NUMBER of PERSONS committed for Trial or Bailed for Appearance at the Assizes and Sessions for the Year 1867, the Offences with which they were charged, and the Result of the Proceedings, showing the Acquitted and Discharged, and the Sentences of those convicted; made out by Order of Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department from the Criminal Registers kept in his Office.

ALSO,

THE NUMBER of Crown Cases Reserved for the Consideration of the Court of Criminal Appeal in the Year 1867, showing the Court and Session before which they stood for Trial, the Offences charged, and Judgment of the Court in each Case.

ALSO,

AN ACCOUNT for the Year ended 31st December 1866 of the Sums paid by Her Majesty's Treasury for Criminal Prosecutions at the Assizes and Sessions, and for Proceedings under the Criminal Justice Act and Juvenile Offenders Acts, with the Number of Prosecutions and Amount of Costs under each head.

Note.—The Courts at which persons committed or bailed for Trial by Jury, are tried, are,—

- 1st. The County Courts of Quarter Sessions, composed of the unpaid County Justices, presided over by a Chairman chosen from their own body, except in Middlesex, where a paid Assistant Judge is appointed by the Crown, and where the Sessions with Adjournments are held 24 times in the year.
- 2d. The Borough Courts of Quarter Sessions, of which the Recorders, salaried officers appointed by the Crown, are the sole Judges. In one hundred and four Cities, Boroughs, and Towns (including certain ancient jurisdictions not under the Municipal Act,) separate Courts of Quarter Sessions are or may be held.
- 3d. The Circuit Courts of Assize held in every County (excepting Middlesex) twice in each year, in the Spring and Summer, with an additional special Assize in the Winter, in such Counties as it may be considered necessary on account of the number of prisoners then for Trial. In these Courts the Trials take place before a Judge of the Superior Courts of Common Law, the Queen's Counsel and Serjeants-at-Law being included in the Commission, and one of their number occasionally trying prisoners, to assist the Judge.
- 4th. The Central Criminal Court held in the City of London twelve times in the year, with a jurisdiction extending over the whole of the County of Middlesex, including the City of London, and parts of the Counties of Essex, Kent, and Surrey. This Court is composed of such of the Judges of the Superior Courts as are associated with the Lord Mayor, Recorder, Common Serjeant, and Aldermen, the Judge of the City Court, &c., in a Commission from the Crown.

The Courts of Assize and the Central Criminal Court have Commissions of General Gaol Delivery, and try all Treasons, Felonies, and Misdemeanors. The County and Borough Courts of Quarter Sessions are restrained by Law from trying for Treason, Murder, and sundry other offences.

The Court of Criminal Appeal Constituted by the Act of the 11th and 12th Vict. c. 78. is composed of five Judges of the Superior Courts of Common Law, of whom one of the Chief Judges is required to be one. Questions of Law arising on the Convictions in the Criminal Courts are reserved for this Court, which is empowered to hear all such questions, and to revise, affirm, or amend the Judgments.

The Jury for the Trial of Prisoners is composed of twelve persons.

In each County the Jurors are summoned by the Sheriff from Lists deposited with him by the Clerk of the Peace.

By the Act of 6th Geo. 4. c. 50., amended by the 25th & 26th Vict. c. 107., the Churchwardens and Overseers of every Parish and Township are required to make out Lists of all persons in their respective Parishes or Townships duly qualified according to the first-mentioned Act.

These Lists, after approval by the Justices in Petty Sessions, are transcribed by the Clerk of the Peace into a book called "the Jurors' Book," for the year in which it is to be in use. This book is by the Clerk of the Peace transferred to the Sheriff before the 1st January in each year, and forms the List of Jurors of the County for the year.

JUDICIAL STATISTICS.

PART II.

ENGLAND AND WALES.

COMMON LAW—EQUITY—CIVIL AND CANON LAW.

RETURNS FOR THE YEAR 1867,

Compiled by Order of Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department,

COMPRISING

The Superior Courts of Common Law, the County Courts, and other Courts for the Recovery of Small Debts.

The Bankruptcy Courts.

The Courts of Equity, the Court of Probate, the Court of Divorce and Matrimonial Causes, the Admiralty Court, and the Ecclesiastical Courts.

The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, and the Judicial Proceedings of the House of Lords.

PART II.

INTRODUCTORY AND EXPLANATORY REMARKS.

The Returns for 1867, which are complete for the whole of the Courts of Civil Jurisdiction, show no important variation in the amount of business as compared with the Returns for the preceding year. In some of the courts an increase will be found, in others a diminution. The particulars are specified under each court in the preliminary report.

In the Superior Courts of Common Law, and in the High Court of Admiralty, in which so considerable an increase appeared in the business of 1866, a decrease has taken place in 1867. In the Court of Chancery, the County Courts, the Local Courts, the Lord Mayor's Court of London, the City Court, the Court of Bankruptcy, the Divorce and Probate Courts, generally, some increase will be found in the business of 1867.

Under the Divorce Court an additional statement is given, showing the number of decrees for dissolution of marriage and for judicial separation, in each year since the establishment of the Court.

The Return made by the Queen's Coroner and Attorney and the Master of the Crown Office shows certain of the proceedings under the peculiar jurisdiction of the Court of Queen's Bench on the Crown side.

COMMON LAW
COURTS,
(Tables pp. 1-9).
Court of Queen's

It is explained by these officers that the nature of the offences is, conspiracies, perjuries, assaults, nuisances, and other misdemeanors, and occasionally, but rarely, felonies; but that no record is kept in the Crown Office of the number of cases tried, as the trials take place at Nisi Prius in London and Middlesex, and at the Assizes for the other counties; nor of the number of persons tried; nor of the number acquitted or convicted, except in cases in which judgment is entered up in the Queen's Bench, and except in cases of fines; nor of sentences, except where they are passed by the Court in Banc, which very seldom occurs now, as sentences are, by virtue of the statute 11 Geo. 4. and 1 Will. 4. c. 70, almost invariably passed by the judge at Nisi Prius, and not afterwards entered up of record in the Queen's Bench.

In 1867 there were 10 persons acquitted and 4 convicted, in which cases judgment was entered up in the Queen's Bench; there was one case in which there was sentence of three months imprisonment in Whitecross Street Prison; and there were four cases, in one of which three persons were fined 1s. each; one (a company) was fined 1,000l.; in one, one person was fined 1s.; and in one, one person was fined 100l.

The total number of proceedings in 1867 is stated to be as given in the following abstract, the corresponding numbers for 1866 being also shown for comparison, and the average of the numbers for the years 1859-65. The different proceedings on each matter for 1867 are shown in the table.

Costs taxed.

It is not possible, it is stated, to give a correct account of the amount of costs taxed in the Crown Office, inasmuch as the bills of costs are not only often withdrawn from taxation when partly taxed, but when completed are sometimes taken away by the attorneys and not returned to the office.

Fees.

The total amount of fees received in the Crown Office, exclusive of business done for the public departments, for which no fees are received, was 669*l.* 5*s.* 4*d.*, which includes all the fees received at the office, not only in respect of the different items specified in the Return, but also for other duties, as writs of subpoena ad testificandum, copies of proceedings, &c. This amount exceeds the amount for the preceding year by 96*l.* 18*s.* 11*d.*, or about 17 per cent.

Plea side.

The process, practice, and mode of pleading, in the three Superior Courts of Common Law at Westminster being similar on the Plea side, the proceedings of each Court, as given in the Returns for 1867, furnished by the Masters, are shown in the following summary. The totals for the three courts of the matters under each heading are given for 1866, and the average of the totals for the seven years 1859-65 inclusive.

The proceedings under the columns in the tables headed "process issued" are the preliminary and incidental matters in suits transacted in the different offices connected with the Courts and not coming before the Judges. The "matters heard" come before the Judges sitting in Banc. In the Court of Queen's Bench a certain number of these matters (which are distinguished in the Table p. 2.) are heard by a single Judge.

As compared with the number in 1866 there is a decrease of 5,939, or 4·4 per cent., in the number of writs of summons in 1867, with a decrease of 3,737, or 3·1 per cent., in the total of the remaining numbers under "process issued." In the total of the "matters heard" there is an increase of 129, or 7·3 per cent.

As compared with the average of the seven years 1859-65, there is an increase of 22,364, or 21·3 per cent., in the number of writs of summons; and of 21,067, or 22·5 per cent., in the total of the remaining numbers under "process issued." In the total of "matters heard" there is an increase of 505, or 34·1 per cent.

Bills of costs

In the Court of Queen's Bench the number of bills of costs taxed in 1867 was, between party and party, 7,650; under Statute 6 & 7 Vict. c. 73, 164; and under the Land Clauses Act, 95; showing, as compared with the numbers for the preceding year, an increase of 372 under the first head, with a decrease under the other heads of 313 and 27 respectively. For the Court of Exchequer the number given is 8,930, exclusive of bills taxed under the Statute, exceeding the number given in the previous year by 4,982. For the Court of Common Pleas no Return is given under this head.

COMMON LAW
COURTS.

In the following Abstract of the Returns furnished by the Associates of the three Superior Courts of Common Law, and of those furnished by the Clerks of Assize and the Clerks of the Crown, is shown for 1867, with regard to the Courts at Westminster, the number of remanets from the preceding year for trial at the commencement of the year, and, both with regard to the Courts at Westminster and on Circuit, the number of causes entered for trial, and the number of trials, the number withdrawn, struck out, &c., and the number of remanets at the end of the year; the totals for the preceding year being also given, and the average of the totals for the years 1859 to 1865 inclusive.

In order to form an estimate of the labours which devolve upon the Common Law Judges in England, in addition to the matters heard in Court, as shown in the first of the two foregoing tables (1,982 in 1867), and the trials before them at Westminster and at Nisi Prius (2,830 in 1867), as shown in the last table, it is necessary to take into account also the Chamber business (pp. vii., 3, 5, and 7), the proceedings on the Revenue side of the Court of Exchequer (pp. viii. and 7,) the business of the Court of Criminal Appeal (Part I., pp. xxv. and 55), the proceedings of the Court of Error and Appeal held in the Exchequer Chamber (pp. viii. and 9), and the whole of the criminal trials at the Lent and Summer Assizes held in every county (except Middlesex), at the Winter Assizes held in certain counties, and at the sittings of the Central Criminal Court, and occasionally under special commissions, and further, their duties in the Divorce and Matrimonial Causes Court (pp. xxxiii.-iv.)

The Returns furnished by the Masters of the three Superior Courts, after stating the number of writs of summons issued and the number of writs of capias to hold to bail, and the number of appearances entered, for each quarter of the year, next show the number of judgments, under the different terms, as given in the following summary, including those in the causes tried at Westminster and on Circuit, without distinction. It rests with the parties for whom verdicts are given at Nisi Prius to make application for the return of the issues into the Courts at Westminster, and in some cases a compromise is made after the verdict, and no further proceedings appear.

The following are the judgments entered up in the offices of the respective Courts, as shown in the Returns for 1867, with the total numbers for the three Courts in 1866, and the average of the totals for the seven years 1859 to 1865 inclusive.

The total number for 1867 shows a decrease of 612, or 1.4 per cent., as compared with the number for 1866. The numbers for 1866 and for 1865 showed an increase of 3,876, or upwards of 10 per cent., and of 1,876, or upwards of 5 per cent., as compared with the numbers for each preceding year respectively. As compared with the average of the seven years, the total number for 1867 shows an increase of 5,533, or 15.3 per cent. As compared with the numbers for the three Courts respectively in 1866, the decrease in 1867 amounts to 397 for the Queen's Bench, to 85 for the Common Pleas, and to 130 for the Court of Exchequer.

The total number of writs issued in 1867 shows a decrease of 770, or 2·5 per cent., as compared with the number for the preceding year. For the Queen's Bench, the decrease is 377, or 3·8 per cent; for the Common Pleas, 200, or 2·4 per cent; for the Court of Exchequer, 193, or 1·6 per cent. The total number exceeds the average of the seven years by 3,331, or 12·8 per cent.

COURTS.

The judgments being subject to revision by the Courts sitting in Banco, on motions for new trials, or to enter or alter verdict, or for nonsuit, or arrest of judgment, or non obstante veredicto, the Returns made by the Masters show that there were applications of this nature in each of the Courts, with the following results, in 1867; the number of cases under each decision in the preceding year and the average of seven years being stated for comparison.

As has been already shown, 127,221 writs of summons, the first step towards a suit, were issued in 1867; while in 38,196 cases only appearances were entered, the first step towards a defence. In 89,025 cases therefore, or 70 per cent. of the writs of summons issued, no show of defence was offered. But in 31,649 cases, it has been seen, judgment was given on the judge's order, for default of service, or on affidavit of service, of the writ of summons, the cases being thus decided for the plaintiff. In the remainder of the 89,025 cases, viz., 57,376, or 45·1 per cent., of the writs of summons issued, the plaintiff's claim was no doubt settled by the defendant within the twelve days allowed after the issue of the writ of summons, and no further proceedings took place.

Of the 38,196 cases in which appearances were entered, 5,253, or 13·7 per cent. only, were entered for trial; of which 2,795, or little more than half (53·2 per cent.) only, were brought to trial; and in 395 of these, or 14·1 per cent., the trials were undefended.

The number of trials was little more than 2·1 per cent. of the number of writs of summons issued. In the preceding year the proportion was under 2 per cent.

Judgment was further given, in 5,117 cases, for the plaintiff by default, the defendant failing to plead within eight days of the filing of the plaintiff's declaration; and in 2,049 cases, on judges' orders to stay proceedings, warrants of attorney, certificates of arbitrators, &c. In 163 cases judgment was given for the defendant, on non-prosecution by the plaintiff; and further judgment was given in court in 2,726 cases, on demurrers, postea, &c., and special cases, the total number of judgments entered up amounting, as shown in the table, to 41,704.

For the enforcement of the judgments 29,283 writs of execution were issued, of which 20,340, or 69·5 per cent., were to levy on the goods; 8,131, or 27·8 per cent., were against the person; 541, or 1·8 per cent., for possession after recovery in ejectment; and the remaining 0·9 per cent. under the different forms shown in the table.

The total number of writs of execution issued were in the proportion of 70·2 per cent. of the number of judgments entered, differing little from the proportion in preceding years. But in many instances it no doubt happens that more than one writ of execution is issued in the same case.

Returns have been furnished by the chamber clerks showing the business in the chambers of each of the Judges of the three Superior Courts of Common Law, in the same form for 1867 as for preceding years.

The number of places at which Courts are held in each Circuit, and the number of days of sitting on each Circuit in 1867, are shown in the Table. For Circuit No 6, in which Liverpool is situated, there are two Judges. For each of the other Circuits there is one Judge only.

The following are the number of plaintiffs in the whole of the County Courts, and the totals under each heading in the Returns with reference to the recovery of debts for the year 1867, in comparison with the number for the preceding year, and with the average of the seven years 1859 to 1865, inclusive :

In the number of plaints entered in 1867 the increase as shown above amounts to 69,501, or almost 8 per cent., as compared with the number in 1866, and follows an increase of 89,831, or 11·4 per cent., in the number in 1866, as compared with the number in 1865.

There were 14 appeals in 1867, against 15 in each of the two preceding years. There were 43 orders to stay proceedings, against 45 in 1866, and 27 in 1865; and 81 cases of certiorari to remove proceedings, against 68 in 1866, and 70 in 1865.

The number of days of sitting for the whole of the Circuits was 7,893 in 1867, being one less than the number for the preceding year, and exceeding by 301, or nearly 4 per cent., the number for 1865. The number for 1867 gives 68·7 causes for each day of sitting, calculating on the total number of causes determined. This average for 1866 was 62·4; for 1865, 57·1. The greatest number of days of sitting on any Circuit was 272, on Circuit No. 6; the lowest 95, on Circuit No. 5. The highest average number of causes determined on each day of sitting was 161, on Circuit No. 13; the lowest was 28, on Circuit 33.

The causes determined in Court were in the proportion of 57·5 per cent. to the total number of plaints entered, leaving 45·2 per cent. as the proportion settled out of Court. In 1866 these proportions were 55·9 and 44·1; in 1865, 55·4 and 44·6; in 1864, 56·4 and 43·6; in 1863, 55·3 and 44·7, respectively.

Of the judgments given, 96·6 per cent. were for the Plaintiff, 1·7 per cent. were nonsuits, and 1·7 per cent. were for the Defendant. In the preceding year these proportions were 96·2, 1·9, and 1·9 per cent; in 1865 the same as in 1866; in 1864, 95·9, 2·1, and 2·0 per cent. The number of debtors imprisoned gives one for 112 of the number of plaints entered. In 1866 this proportion was one for 115; in 1865, one for 123; in 1864, one for 113; for the average of the years 1859-63, one for 95.

The total amount for which plaints were entered in 1867 shows an increase of 142,121*l.*, or 6·0 per cent., on the amount for the preceding year, following an increase of 205,605*l.*, or 11·1 per cent., in 1866 on the amount for 1865. The average for each plaint entered is 2*l.* 6*s.* 7*d.*, against 2*l.* 7*s.* in 1866, and 2*l.* 7*s.* 2*d.* in 1865.

The amount of debt for which judgment was obtained is 52·2 per cent. of the total amount for which plaints were entered. In 1866 this proportion was 51·1 per cent.; in 1865, 50·2 per cent.; in 1864, 55·7 per cent. The amount of costs shows an increase of 3,725*l.*, or 8·5 per cent., upon the amount in 1866, following an increase of 5,742*l.*, or 15·2 per cent., in 1866 upon the amount in 1865. The costs are in the proportion of 4·1 per cent. to the amount of debt for which judgment was obtained, the same as in the preceding year.

In the amount of fees there is an increase of 23,382*l.*, or 8·1 per cent., following an increase of 30,578*l.*, or 11·8 per cent., in 1866 upon the amount for 1865.

In 1867, 69 warrants were issued for the arrest of absconding debtors, against 36 in the preceding year. In two cases in 1867 bail was given; in 20 the debt and costs were paid; in seven the warrants were suspended.

No proceedings took place in 1866 under the Charitable Trusts Act.

In 1867 there were 637 orders registered for the protection of wives deserted by their husbands, against 616 in 1866, and 470 in 1865.

The following are the totals, under the different headings in the Returns, of the Proceedings in Equity for 1867, with the totals of the proceedings from the commencement of the operation of the Act on 1st October 1865 to the 31st December 1866.

BOROUGH, HUNDRED, AND MANORIAL COURTS,

In the table for 1867 the names of 34 Local Courts of Civil Jurisdiction will be found, including the City Court (the Sheriff's Court of London), and the Manchester Court of Record.

By the County Courts Amendment Act (30 & 31 Vict. c. 142), which was to come into operation on the 1st January 1868, no action or suit is to be commenced or to be maintainable in any Hundred or other Inferior Court, not being a Court of Record. Under this Act the City Court becomes "the City of London Court," and is assimilated to the County Courts.

In 8 of the Courts named in the table no proceedings took place in 1867. In the 26 in which there were proceedings the number of proceedings commenced varies between 2 at Ipswich and 11,739 in London. At Manchester 4,023 writs were issued, against 4,182 in 1866. In the Court of Passage at Liverpool 3,635 complaints were entered, against 4,097 in 1866. In the Salford Court of Record 2,722, against 2,600; in the Bradford Manor Court 1,745, against 1,624. The total number of proceedings commenced in all these Courts in 1867 was 30,035, against 28,844 in 1866, showing an increase of 1,191, or 4.1 per cent., the increase in the City of London Court amounting to 732, or 6.6 per cent., following an increase of 838, or 8.2 per cent., in 1866 upon the number in 1865.

The total amount for which proceedings were commenced in all these Courts in 1867 was 325,512*l.*, being less than the amount in the preceding year by 61,450*l.*, or 15.0 per cent. The amount for the preceding year had shown an increase of 78,162*l.*, or 25.2 per cent., upon the amount for 1865.

The total amount of debt for which judgment was obtained in 1867 was 128,704*l.*, being less than the amount for the preceding year by 20,014*l.*, or 13.4 per cent. The total amount of costs was 19,562*l.* The total amount of fees was 11,995*l.*, exceeding the amount for 1866 by 734*l.*, or 6.5 per cent. The amount of costs and fees together was 24.5 per cent. of the amount of debt recovered, against 20.5 per cent. in 1866; 24.4 in 1865; 21.8 in 1864; 26.0 in 1863; and 25.0 in 1862.

The proceedings in equity in the City of London Court under the Act of 28th and 29th Vict. c. 99 are included with the equity proceedings of the County Courts.

The Return made by the Registrar of the Lord Mayor's Court of London for the year 1867 shows the proceedings of the Court in actions, and the proceedings in foreign attachments in the usual form.

The total amount of fees was 4,286*l.* on ordinary proceedings, and 4,824*l.* on composition cases, against 4,179*l.* and 4,446*l.* respectively in the preceding year.

Proceedings in
ments.

The usual Return furnished by the Registrar of the Court of the Vice-Warden of the Stannaries shows the proceedings of the Court in Equity, in Common Law, and for the winding up of incorporated and unincorporated Companies under the Companies Act, 1862, no case appearing under proceedings of the Court not in any cause in 1867. The Stannaries Court, as has been mentioned in former years, has been described by the Registrar as existing by custom confirmed and extended by Statutes 6 and 7 Will. 4. c. 106., and 18 and 19 Vict. c. 32, the jurisdiction extending over mines, mine companies, and miners, in the counties of Cornwall and Devon. Process may be served, and decrees and judgments executed directly, or through the Superior Courts, throughout England and Wales, in the cases provided for by the above-mentioned Acts.

STANNARIES COURTS, (Table,
pp. 14-15.)

In the Return for 1863 the Registrar remarked that it would be observed from the Returns that the number of causes on the equity side of the Court had lately decreased, and that the diminution appeared to be caused by the substitution of proceedings to wind up under the Companies Act, 1862, in lieu of the old proceedings by a creditors' petition, which was falling into comparative disuse, and that the effect and operation of a proceeding by petition under the above Act is so much more comprehensive and efficient that it now forms a very large proportion of the entire business of the Court.

The following statements, taken from the Returns of each year since 1858, inclusive, will give an idea of the variations in the business of the Court.

The Returns furnished by the different officers of the High Court of Chancery show in the usual form the proceedings in the different branches of the Court during the year ending the 1st November 1867, with the same details as the Returns for preceding years, additional information being given as to the number of suits and petitions on the higher and on the lower scale of court fees. It has not, however, been considered necessary to continue the abstract hitherto given of the Returns made to the Master of the Rolls and the Vice Chancellors by the Official Managers and Official Liquidators of Companies winding up, the information contained in these Returns being included, with the addition of two new headings, in the Returns made by the Chief Clerks. In other respects the Tables for the past year will be found to correspond with those for preceding years. In the following summaries of the Returns for the different branches of the Court the totals are given under the different headings for 1866-7, with the totals for 1865-6, and generally the average of the totals for the seven years 1859-65 inclusive.

p. 20.)

The Return made by the Clerks of Records and Writs shows the number of suits instituted in the Court of Chancery, whether by bill or information, or by claim, or summons, or as special cases, as well as the subsequent proceedings on the part both of plaintiff and defendant, all such suits and proceedings being filed in the Office of Records and Writs. The Return distinguishes the number of suits instituted in the Court of the Master of the Rolls and in the Courts of each of the three Vice Chancellors. The total number of suits instituted, as shown in the Return for the year commencing 2nd November 1866, and ending 1st November 1867, was as follows, in comparison with the numbers for the preceding year, and with the average of the numbers for the seven years 1859-65:—

	1866-7.	1865-6.	Average, 1859-65.
Suits instituted:

The total number of suits instituted in 1866-7 shows an increase of 160, or 4·6 per cent., on the number for 1865-6, the number for the latter year having exceeded by 174, or upwards of 5 per cent., the number for 1864-5; and the number for 1864-5 having been greater by 350, or 11·8 per cent., than the number for 1863-4.

When the property which is the subject of a Chancery suit is above the value of 1,000*l.* the higher scale of fees is payable, but when it does not exceed that amount the lower scale applies. The Return made by the Clerks of Records and Writs for 1866-7 distinguishes the numbers of suits instituted by bill on each scale, 2,244 having been on the higher scale, and 485 on the lower. Suits instituted by bill are the only suits other than suits by summons originating proceedings in Chambers to which the higher scale and lower scale of fees of court apply.

The total number of proceedings, and the total amount of fees collected by stamps in the Office of Records and Writs in each of the years 1866-7 and 1865-6, with the average of the seven years 1859-65, were as follows:—

The proceedings in the High Court of Admiralty of England for 1867 are shown in the Return furnished by the Registrar of the Court, as in previous years, with certain alterations in the form, to which he has called attention, and which have been made, it is stated, with a view to render the Return more complete, and to show more clearly than has hitherto been done the real and effective work of the Court and its Departments. It has been found desirable owing to recent legislation, it is stated, to make some changes in the different columns which define the different classes of cases into which the Return is divided. To pilotage cases it has not been thought necessary to give a separate heading, as they seldom come into Court, and if they do, may be properly classed under "other causes." Again "actions for safe return" and "possession" causes relate to questions arising between co-owners, or involve the title to the ship, and may be conveniently classed under "ownership" causes, under which will also come the larger jurisdiction conferred upon the Court by the Admiralty Court Act of 1861 (24 Vict. c. 10). Further, owing to the jurisdiction given to the Court in the very important cases of masters' wages and disbursements, it has appeared desirable to separate these from mere seamen's wages, which are generally unimportant cases. The causes of "damage to cargo," also, over which jurisdiction was given to the Court by the Admiralty Court Act of 1861, appear to be sufficiently important to entitle them to a separate heading.

ADMIRALTY
pp. 26-30.)

With these changes, the number of causes pending at the commencement of the year, and the number instituted during the year, with the amount at which the causes were instituted under each head of proceedings, are shown in the following Abstract, for each of the years 1867 and 1866, the numbers and amounts under "masters, wages and disbursements" not being distinguished for 1866, and the numbers and amounts under "pilotage" and "possession" for that year being classed under "other causes."

ADMIRALTY
COURT.

In the number of causes instituted in 1867 there is a decrease, it will be seen, of 63, or 9·5 per cent. as compared with the number in 1866, with a decrease of 326,730*l.*, or 26·1 per cent., in the amount for which causes were entered. The total number of causes for 1867, including the causes pending at the commencement of the year, shows an increase of 127, or 18·8 per cent, upon the average of the numbers for the seven years 1859–65. The total amount shows an increase of 190,415*l.*, or upwards of 26 per cent., upon the average amount for those years. In the Registrar's Return for 1867, with a view to prove whether or not causes are speedily disposed of by the Court, it is shown when the causes pending at the commencement of the year were first instituted, and upon referring to the table, it will be seen that of the 207 causes pending on 1st January 1867, none were instituted before 1864, only two in that year, 29 in 1865, and the remaining 176 in 1866, and as the Registrar adds, when it is remembered what is the nature of the causes with which the Court has to deal, that the witnesses are for the most part seamen who, if allowed to leave the country before they have given their evidence, may not return for a year or more, and that in the meantime the proceedings must be suspended, that in some cases, as in bottomry bond cases and cases of damage to cargo, evidence has sometimes to be procured from the most distant ports, and that, moreover, after a cause has been appealed, it is often sent back again to the Court to have the judgment carried into effect, it will not appear that the Court of Admiralty can be accused of want of diligence in the disposal of its causes.

Motions.

With regard to motions, motions in Court have in the Return for 1867 been divided into "opposed" and "unopposed." "Opposed motions," it is explained by the Registrar, necessarily imply arguments by counsel, and frequently involve points of great importance; "unopposed motions" are little more than formal applications. Motions in chambers are almost always opposed, but they are on minor points, on which alone the proctors and solicitors are heard.

The total number of motions heard (the number under each head, of salvage, &c. being distinguished in the table for 1867) for each of the years 1867 and 1866, and the average of the total numbers for the six years 1860–65, including summonses heard, for each of the years 1860–1–2–3, were as follows.—

	1867.	1866.	Average, 1860–5.

Opposed 82 } - -	136	153	115
Unopposed 54 }

Judgments have been divided into judgments in contested causes and after arguments of counsel; judgments by consent, as where the defendant consents to a decree, and only wishes to have the amount of his liability ascertained; and judgments by default, where the defendant does not appear, but allows the cause to go on, and the vessel to be sold in his default, generally because the property is insufficient to satisfy all the claims upon it. The first alone of these classes, the Registrar explains, represents real judicial work, the two latter involve little more than pro forma business.

* The total number of final judgments and decrees in 1867, the number under each head of salvage, &c., being shown in the table, was as follows :—

Under the head of references to the Registrar assisted by Merchants, the total number of cases heard and reported upon by the Registrar, the number under each heading being distinguished in the Return, was 78 against 53 in 1866, the average for the five years 1861-65 being 49.

The total amount of accounts submitted for investigation was 115,474*l.* 17*s.* 3*d.*, of which 23,214*l.* 7*s.* 4*d.* was disallowed, leaving 92,260*l.* 9*s.* 11*d.* as the amount found due. The total number of bills taxed in 1867, the number under each heading of salvage, &c., and the number in contested causes for plaintiff, and the number for defendant, and the number in default causes, and the number of Admiralty Proctor's Bills, being distinguished, was 253, against 247 in the preceding year; the average of the five years 1861-5 being 226.

The amount of costs taxed, distinguishing the amount in salvage causes, damage by collision, &c., and showing the amounts submitted, disallowed, and reported due, is given in the Return under each of the heads of Plaintiffs' costs in contested causes, Defendants' costs in contested causes, and costs in default causes, with the amount of outport charges claimed, disallowed, and reported due under each, and the amount of Admiralty Proctors' costs claimed, disallowed, and reported due.

The total amount of costs and charges in each of the years 1867 and 1866, with the average of the six years 1860-65, was as follows:—

There were four Commissions enrolled in the Registry in 1867, and five in 1866; four appointments of Commissioners to administer oaths in 1867, and five in 1866; and one appointment of Examiners in 1867.

There were four claims investigated by the Registrar in 1867 in respect of seamen volunteering into the Royal Navy, all of which were allowed in full. In 1866 there were seven of these claims, of which two were allowed in full, four were varied or altered, and one was disallowed in toto. The amount claimed for compensation in 1867 was 23*l.* 14*s.* 6*d.*, the whole of which was found due. In 1866 the amount claimed was 74*l.* 12*s.*, of which 24*l.* was disallowed.

There were ten powers of attorney registered in 1867 under the Navy Prize Agents Act, 1863, and six in the preceding year.

The balances of suitors' and other monies in hand at the beginning and end of the year, and the amounts received and paid during the year, are shown in the table under different heads. In the balances the amounts remaining in the hands of the Paymaster General and in the hands of the Registrar are distinguished. In the amount received during the year, the sum received on account of the amount voted by Parliament for salaries and other expenses is shown; and under "paid during the year" the amount for salaries and other expenses of office is stated separately.

The following were the total amounts for each of the years 1867 and 1866, with the average of the totals for the seven years 1859 to 1865, inclusive:—

	1867.	1866.	Average, 1859-65.

The total amount realized by the Commissioners of Inland Revenue on account of Admiralty Court stamps during the year 1867 was 11,253*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* The amount in 1866 was 11,077*l.* 5*s.* 0*d.* The average of the seven years is 8,865*l.* 3*s.* 8*d.*

Office of the Marshal, (Table,
p. 30.)

The Return of the proceedings in the Office of the Marshal of the High Court of Admiralty of England shows, under the different heads of salvage, damage, bottomry, necessities, towage, seamen's wages, masters' wages and disbursements, damage to cargo, ownership and other causes, the number and description of instruments executed, viz., warrants; citations in rem.; citations in personam; monitions for different purposes; attachments; subpoenas; decrees of possession; releases; commissions of appraisement; commissions of appraisement and sale; and commissions of unlivery; the total number of instruments executed having been 779 in 1867, against 849 in 1866.

The Return also shows, under each heading of salvage, &c. the number of arrests made, viz., of ships; of ships and cargoes; of ships and freights; of ships, cargoes, and freights; of cargoes and freights; of cargoes only; of freights only; of rigging, &c., and of proceeds in registry; the total number of arrests made having been 339 in 1867, against 379 in 1866.

The total number of notices of bail, and of reports as to the sufficiency of bail, and the total amount of bail reported, the numbers and amount under each of the heads of salvage, &c., being distinguished in the Return, were respectively 193, 191, and 250,635*l.* 15*s.* 9*d.* in 1867, against 236, 230, and 305,547*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* in 1866.

The total amount of proceeds paid into registry, the amounts under each heading of salvage, &c., being shown in the Table, was, of ships sold, 26,635*l.*; of cargoes sold, 806*l.* 4*s.* The corresponding amounts in 1866 were 21,365*l.* and 1,537*l.* 13*s.* 5*d.*

The falling off in the number of causes instituted, and in the Court business generally, in 1867 as compared with 1866, while in other departments an increase appears, is, in the opinion of the Registrar, in great part due to the long interval which elapsed between the resignation of the late Judge and the appointment of his successor.

The following Table shows the proceedings in Her Majesty's Court for Divorce and Matrimonial Causes in the year ended the 31st December 1867, as returned by the Chief Clerk, in comparison with the proceedings in 1866, and with the average of the numbers under each head for the seven years 1859-65, inclusive:—

This Court being established under the Statute 20 & 21 Vict. c. 85, the proceedings extend to ten years, during which period the number of petitions filed amounts to 3,072, giving an average of 307 for each year.

Under the Acts 20 and 21 Vict. c. 88 and 22 and 23 Vict. c. 144, the Lord Chancellor and the Chief and other Judges of the three Superior Courts of Common Law, in addition to the Judge Ordinary, are constituted Judges of the Court for Divorce and Matrimonial Causes, three or more Judges of the Court, of whom the Judge Ordinary is required to be one, exercising the powers of the full Court.

By the Act 23 and 24 Vict. c. 144 (made perpetual by 25 and 26 Vict. c. 81), the Judge Ordinary alone, or with the assistance of one other Judge of the Court, may exercise all the powers previously vested in the full Court.

In 1859, previously to the above Act of the 23 and 24 Vict. coming into operation, the number of causes tried before the full Court was 140; before the full Court and jury, 17; before the Judge Ordinary, 47; and before the Judge Ordinary and jury, 7. In 1867, it will be seen, on reference to the table, the whole of the causes were tried before the Judge Ordinary; and 32 of the number with a jury.

DIVORCE AND MATRIMONIAL CAUSES COURT.

An appeal lies within three months from any decision of the Judge Ordinary alone to the full Court; and further, an appeal to the House of Lords from the decision of the full Court on any petition for the dissolution of marriage.

From a statement furnished by the Chief Clerk, it appears that the number of decrees for dissolution of marriage, and judicial separation pronounced in each year from 1858 to 31st December 1867, inclusive, was as follows:—

				Decrees for
				Dissolution of Marriage.	Judicial Separation.

(Return, p. 28.)

The total amount of fees actually received in 1867 was 2,512*l.* 16*s.*, against 2,596*l.* 13*s.* in 1866. The average of the amounts for the seven years 1859-65 is 2,582*l.*

The Court of Probate, established under a statute of the same year (20 & 21 Vict. c. 77.) as the Court for Divorce and Matrimonial Causes, exercises jurisdiction in all matters relating to the grant or revocation of probate of wills and letters of administration.

Of the proceedings in this Court in the year 1867, the senior Registrar has furnished a Return similar to the Returns for previous years; and in the following Table the proceedings are shown, under the heads given in the Return, for each of the years 1867 and 1866, with the average of the numbers under each head for the seven years 1859-65.

COURT OF PROBATE.

The majority of the causes were disposed of by motions in court,—4 by orders on summons, and 68 by final orders on summons. The total amount of stamps issued in London for probate and administration for the year 1867 was 842,282*l*. For 1866 the amount was 870,840*l*.

In the Return furnished by the Chief Registrar a statement is given of the amount in value of the property under which probates and administrations passed in the principal registry of the Court of Probate were sworn in the year 1867. The value of effects sworn under was 54,111,975*l*. The amount for the preceding year was 56,584,450*l*.

A statement is also given of the income and expenditure in respect of the fees levied in the principal registry during the year, the sum taken in stamps amounting to 42,077*l*., with 15,159*l*. of miscellaneous fees, making together 57,236*l*. In the preceding year the amounts taken were respectively 42,732*l*. and 14,359*l*., making the total 57,091*l*.

The power of the District Registrars extends to the grant of probates and letters of administration in common form, that is, where there is no contention to the grant. In disputed cases, where the value of the property is under 200*l*., the grant can be made only on the decision of the County Court. The total of the proceedings in the whole of the 40 district registries, and the total amount of fees and of stamps, were as follows for each of the years 1867 and 1866. The average of the seven years 1859-65 is added:—

CONSTABULARY AND POLICE.

CONSTABULARY
AND POLICE.

The Police Establishments in Ireland are of three kinds : the Royal Irish Constabulary, the Dublin Metropolitan Police, and the Local Force in Towns.*

Of these forces, the Royal Irish Constabulary extends to towns as well as to counties, and thus corresponds to the whole County Police and nearly the whole of the Borough Police Force in England and Wales, and the Police Force in her Majesty's dockyards ; but is different from the County and Borough Police Force in England in being entirely under Central Government ; the Dublin Metropolitan Police corresponds to the London Metropolitan Police ; and the Local Force in Towns corresponds to a small part of the Borough Police Force in England and Wales, and like them is entirely under the government of Local Authorities.

The total number of the Police Force, as shown by the returns, is as follows :—

There has been a slight decrease in the effective strength of the Royal Irish Constabulary. In 1866 the total number was 11,906, while in 1867 it had diminished to 11,873—showing a decrease of 33 men.

In the Dublin Metropolitan Police there has been a decrease of 20, while the number of the Local Force is the same as it was in 1866.

There has been a slight increase in the number of the Fire Brigade. Until 1866 the Volunteer Fire Brigade men were included in the statistics of the Police Force ; but in that year they were omitted, which accounts for the large reduction in the number entered under this head in 1866, as compared with that for 1865. From some towns no returns were received either for 1866 or 1867, and from others which furnished returns for 1866, none have been received for 1867. In the former cases the figures for 1865, and in the latter those for 1866, have been taken—as, in the absence of returns, it may be assumed that no change has taken place.

* Some account of the origin of these forces is given in the Judicial Statistics for Ireland, 1863.

CONSTABULARY

The only town in Ireland which has any local force corresponding to the English Borough Police is Londonderry.

In instituting a comparison between the Police Forces of Ireland and of England and Wales, the Royal Irish Constabulary and Local Force may be compared with the English Police in Counties, Boroughs, and Dockyards; and the Dublin Metropolitan Police may be compared with the London Metropolitan Police and the City of London Police added together.

The returns as to the number of the Police Force in 1867 give for all Ireland the proportion of 1 to every 418 of the estimated population in that year.

In the Dublin Metropolitan Police district the Police Force is 1,047, which, with the addition of the Local Force (42*), makes 1,089 in a population of 335,449, as returned by the Metropolitan Police Commissioners, or 1 to every 308.

The proportion of Police in 1865–66 to population in 1861 in the City of London, was 1 to 160; in the London Metropolitan District, 1 to 454; and in all England and Wales, 1 to 893.

Cost of Establishments.
(Table, pp. 47–51.)

The total cost of the Police Establishments in Ireland, as returned in 1867 and 1866, is as follows:—

COST OF POLICE ESTABLISHMENTS.	1867.	1866.	Increase, 1867.	Decrease, 1867.

This table indicates an increase in the cost of the Police Force of £122,380 16s. 10d.

The cost of the Police is collected under heads similar to those used in the Criminal Statistics for England and Wales, and from these the average cost per man has been calculated by the Police authorities, showing the following results as compared with the average cost in England and Wales in 1866.

Average Cost per Man.		1867.	1866.

* Not including three Inspectors of Nuisances in Blackrock, Dalkey, and Pembroke Townships, who cost £97 in the year.

The proportion in which the costs of the Royal Irish Constabulary and Dublin Metropolitan Police are defrayed from the general taxes is returned as follows:—

The proportion of the expenses of Police paid out of the local and general taxes in Ireland and in England and Wales, and the number and cost of that portion of the Irish Police which is in excess of the English proportion of Police, and the extent of relief to local taxation in Ireland in consequence of the Irish rate of payment for Police, are fully detailed in the Report of the Irish Judicial Statistics for 1865. The Fenian outbreak has shown the extent to which the Royal Irish Constabulary serve the purposes of a standing army, so as to be naturally paid for out of the general taxes.

The number of the criminal classes is shown by the fourth of the Constabulary and Police Tables, classified under the same heads as those adopted in the corresponding English Returns. In consequence of the difference in the Poor Law, and in the law as to Industrial Schools in the two countries, the vagrants and tramps are kept distinct from the other criminal classes in the following tables for comparison.

(Table, pp. 52-6.)

The preceding table exhibits an increase in the criminal classes as compared with 1866, not nearly so large, however, as the decrease which had taken place in 1866 as compared with the previous year. The decrease in the number of the criminal classes (excluding vagrants and tramps) which took place in that year amounted to 1,326, while the increase indicated in the above table is only 243. In the number of vagrants and tramps there has been a very large increase, especially in the number of those above 16 years of age.

* In the volume of Judicial Statistics for 1866, the figures indicating the amount paid in England by Her Majesty's Treasury, and that paid from other sources, were transposed by a clerical error.

and Wales.

The following table shows the total number of the criminal classes in Ireland for the year 1867, compared with the corresponding classes in England and Wales for 1866.

The period at which the number of vagrants and tramps for 1866 was estimated in England and Wales, was in the month of April, as in the previous year, while in Ireland the estimate was made in September. This difference, however, does not affect the comparison between the numbers of the other criminal classes in England and Wales with those in Ireland.*

This table exhibits the very satisfactory result that although the number of police in Ireland is so much greater than in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales, the number of criminal classes, other than vagrants and tramps, known to the police is less than one-half, being 10,361 as compared with 21,151 in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1866.

With regard to vagrants and tramps under 16 years of age the proportion is reversed, the number in Ireland being 3,509, or nearly double the number (1,567) in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales in 1866. In connexion with this subject the absence of Industrial Schools in Ireland should be borne in mind, whilst there were in certified Industrial Schools in England and Wales at the end of the year 1866, no fewer than 1,235, which gives 325 for a portion of the population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.

The defective state of the law which excluded Ireland from all benefit of the Industrial Schools legislation, which had worked so satisfactorily in England and Wales since 1854, has at length been remedied by the passing in the present session of the Bill introduced by the O'Connor Don, M.P., authorizing Industrial Schools in Ireland (Stat. 31 Vic., c. 25). This Act cannot, however, produce any effect that will be shown by the statistics until 1869.

The actual number in Industrial Schools in England and Wales does not account for the whole excess of juvenile delinquents, for if 325, the proportion already referred to, be deducted from 1,942, there are still 1,617 to be accounted for. The more favourable state of affairs in this respect in England and Wales is partly to be ascribed to the indirect effect of the Industrial Schools Acts (in operation for 13 years) in reducing the number of juvenile delinquents not actually in the schools. The rest of the excess in this class must arise to a large extent from the same causes that produce the excess in Ireland of vagrants and tramps above 16 years of age. As one of these causes, it is impossible to overlook the very marked difference in the laws which regulate the relief of the poor in Ireland and in England and Wales. The Irish law being much more stringent than the English law with regard to women and children, the effect is shown by the relative numbers relieved in Ireland and in England and Wales.

* Nor does it materially affect the comparison as to vagrants and tramps, as there was an increase shown in the numbers in England and Wales after the change was adopted.

The excess of vagrants and tramps of all ages in Ireland, amounting to 3,892, is very small when the difference between the proportion of the poor in receipt of Poor Law Relief in Ireland and in England and Wales is taken into consideration. The average daily number in receipt of relief in 1867-68, was 53,017 in Workhouses, and 14,940 out-door, or 67,957 in all, being 173,134 less than the number (241,091) in receipt of relief in 1866 in a portion of the population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.*

The houses of bad character, as ascertained by the police, in 1867 and 1866 are compared in the following table:—

(Tables, pp. 52-6.)

This table exhibits a progressive decrease in the number of houses of bad character, of every class except the last. There was an increase of 51 in the number of tramps' lodging-houses during 1867, which might naturally be expected, considering that there was an increase (see Table, page 9) of 1,048 in the number of vagrants and tramps in that year. In 1866, during which the number of this class had diminished by 581, there had been a decrease of 226 in the number of lodging-houses as compared with the preceding year.

The following table gives a comparison of the number of houses of bad character in Ireland in 1867, with those in England and Wales in 1866:—

* The mean estimated number of paupers of all classes (including children) at one time in receipt of relief in England and Wales in 1866 was 916,152, viz.:—132,776 in-door, and 783,376 out-door. The workhouse relief in Ireland is 18,076 above the number in the corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales in 1866, and the out-door is 191,212 less.

appear to be much fewer than in England and Wales, the houses of ill-fame and brothels being 552 as compared with 1,792 in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1866. The excess in tramps' lodging-houses is connected with the increase already noticed with respect to vagrants and tramps.

The following summary gives a comparison of the proportions of the criminal classes to the estimated population on the same plan as that adopted in the statistics for 1866 :—

	Criminal Classes (including Prostitutes).	Prostitutes separately.
Dublin Metropolitan Police district,	3,102 or 1 in 108	1,049 or 1 in 319
Counties of Antrim (including towns of Belfast and Carrickfergus),
Armagh, Down (linen trade and agriculture),	2,332 or 1 in 372	614 or 1 in 1,413

Ireland,	22,987 or 1 in 241	3,032 or 1 in 1,832

That we may judge whether these proportions are satisfactory or not, I add the proportions for England and Wales for 1866 compared, as in the English Judicial Statistics, with the population in 1861 :—

	Criminal Classes (including Prostitutes).	Prostitutes separately.
The Metropolis,	1 in 222	1 in 579

classes.

As in order to ascertain the entire number of the criminal classes at any given time, it is necessary to add to those at large the number of those in confinement, the following tables are inserted exhibiting an estimate of the Irish criminal classes in 1867, as compared with the number in 1866, and with the corresponding number in the English statistics for 1866 :—

In Reformatories,	642	3,635	957	—	315
Total,	27,424	141,751	37,303	—	9,879

It appears from this table that the total number (27,424) of the criminal classes in Ireland, including those at large as well as those in prison, is less numerous by 9,879, or 26 per cent., than the number (37,303) of the corresponding classes in 1866, in a portion of the population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.

* In this table the number in Bridewells in Ireland is not included: the number, however, is small, and is more than counterbalanced by the omission of the numbers in Industrial Schools in England and Wales, and the number of military prisoners and debtors in the local prisons in England and Wales.

The number of crimes returned by the Police, and the number of persons apprehended in Ireland were as follow :—

The apprehensions were in the proportion of 71·2 per cent. to the number of crimes committed. In England and Wales in 1866 the apprehensions were in the proportion of 53·7 per cent. to the number of crimes returned. It was stated in the English statistics for 1865 that the highest proportion of apprehensions ever attained was 58·2 per cent. of the number of crimes committed (in the year 1863). It is to be observed that the number of apprehensions in Ireland is in a much higher proportion than this.

The statistics of crimes and apprehensions are compared with the corresponding statistics of England and Wales for 1866 in the following tables :—

* In England the statistics on this subject are made up for the year ending 30th September; consequently the figures entered in the Table for this quarter are those for 1865, and are taken as approximately correct.

The chief feature of the above table is the increase of offences against property with and without violence. This is not unconnected with the greater pressure of distress in the winter of 1866–67. The entire number in receipt of relief, both indoor and outdoor, on the 9th of February, 1867, the day of maximum relief in the workhouses, being 78,021; which was a greater number than in any year since 1856.

The following summary gives the number of indictable offences not disposed of summarily, returned in Ireland for 1867, as compared with the number in England and Wales in 1866 :—

The excess of 924 in the number of unclassified offences in Ireland, as compared with England and Wales, in the above table, arises almost entirely from the number of treasonable and seditious offences in Ireland, shown in the preceding table. The apparent excess of murders in Ireland appears to arise from some defect in the Police statistics of murders in both countries. Thus, whilst the Coroners return 438 verdicts of wilful murder in England and Wales, the Police report only 131; and in Ireland, whilst Coroners return 76 verdicts of wilful murder, the police report only 64.

CONSTABULARY
AND POLICE.

Indictable offences
summarily).

The other characteristics of Irish crime indicated by this summary correspond with those observed last year, the most unfavourable features being treasonable and seditious offences, malicious offences against property, riots, assaults inflicting bodily harm, and other assaults.

Of offences against property there is a much smaller number than in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales. This arises in part, no doubt, from the much larger quantity of property to tempt thieves in England and Wales, and the much smaller proportion of police to population, there being only one-half the number of policemen to the same number of the population in England that there is in Ireland.

As regards the offences of attempts to murder, shooting at, wounding, stabbing, &c., to do bodily harm, and manslaughter, the Irish statistics are more favourable than the English, and also the statistics of unnatural offences, rape and immoral offences, perjury, and attempts to commit suicide.

The following summary gives the number of infanticides and other murders in Ireland, according to the Coroners' Returns, as compared with the corresponding statistics in England and Wales. It appears from this summary that there is the slight excess of one infanticide in Ireland and a marked excess of other murders in England and Wales, there having been 44 verdicts of infanticide in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1866, for 45 in Ireland, and 71 verdicts for other murders as compared with 30 in Ireland.

MURDER, ACCORDING TO CORONERS' RETURNS.	IRELAND, 1867.	ENGLAND AND WALES, 1866.		Murders in Ireland in 1867 in excess of those in equal population in England and Wales in 1866.	Murders in Ireland in 1867 less than those in equal population in England and Wales in 1866.
		Total.	Number in a portion of the population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.

Murder of persons above the age of 1 year, .	30	272	71	-	41
Total Murders,	75	438	115	-	40

The Census Commissioners ascertained that the number of children under one year of age in Ireland to the rest of the population was, in 1861, as 2·4 to 97·6, or in other words, that in every 200 of the population, about 5 are infants under one year of age. It follows from this that the number of murders of infants under one year of age which would correspond to the 30 murders which appear to have taken place from the Coroners' Returns amongst the rest of the population, would be less than one a year; being only ·73, or about 3 in five years. The number of infanticides (45) is therefore 62 times the number of murders occurring amongst the same amount of the population at other periods of life on an average.

In England and Wales the proportion of those under one year to those above one year of age is 3 to 97; it follows, therefore, that the number of infanticides which would correspond to the 272 murders of persons above one year of age would be 7 in one year. The actual number (166) would appear to be on an average about 23 times the number occurring amongst the same number of the population in England and Wales at other periods of life.

The amount of infanticide indicated by the verdicts of Coroners' juries in both countries is very startling, and resting as they do upon the sworn verdicts of a number of independent juries before different Coroners in all parts of both countries, the statistics are free from any prejudice which might lead to a wrong estimate or statement of the excess of infanticide which they indicate.

Total offences determined summarily,	259,691	481,770	126,781	132,910	-

The first four classes in the preceding table are the only classes therein that are certain to include offences which might be made the subject of indictment, and it appears that these minor cases of Indictable Offences (determined summarily) indicate the same characteristics as the table of graver cases (not determined summarily)—the number of such offences is 21,737, being 2,167 less than the number (23,904) in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1866; there is also less of theft, and of crimes indicating a low moral tone, such as aggravated assaults on women and children, than in England and Wales; on the other hand, there is a greater prevalence of malicious offences in Ireland.

In the less serious offences the chief excess is under the following heads—drunkenness, offences against Ways Acts, Pawnbrokers Act, Revenue Laws, Vagrant Acts, and common assaults. Thus if the excess in offences not classed (35,327) be deducted from the entire excess (135,077), the difference (99,750) is more than accounted for by the excess of offences under the four following heads, viz. :—

Offences against Acts of Parliament, such as Ways Acts, Pawnbrokers Act,
Revenue Laws, &c.,	46,772
Offences against Vagrant Acts,	2,049
Common Assaults,	9,960
Total,	107,731

With respect to offences against the above Acts of Parliament, the fact that the Irish Police act as Inspectors of weights and measures, and as a Revenue Police, would naturally lead to greater vigilance in enforcing these Acts, and the much larger proportion of police to population in Ireland than in England and Wales would also lead to greater activity in the detection and punishment of minor offences, especially as the Justices have power to award one-third of the pecuniary penalties (the usual punishment for such offences), to the Constabulary reward fund.

This inevitable effect of the large proportion of Police in Ireland is illustrated by the statistics as to Prostitutes. Thus, while it appears from the Police Tables that the number of Prostitutes known to the Police in Ireland in 1867 was 3,032, as compared with 6,819 in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1866, there were 3,693 charges against Prostitutes under the Vagrant Acts in Ireland in 1867, as compared with 1,644 in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1866.

The number of offences against the Poor Law Acts in Ireland in 1867 for deserting families and disorderly conduct in Workhouses was only 663, as compared with 1,980 in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales in 1866.

As the heads of the annual Police returns were not framed to include treason and the other offences connected with it, special forms were sent to the Police in 1866 and 1867, from which the following tables have been compiled, showing the number of indictable offences and offences determined summarily in 1867 that were of a treasonable or seditious character with the corresponding figures for 1866 for comparison.

It appears from the preceding tables that there was an increase of 70 cases of the more serious forms of treason in 1867, there being 385 cases of high treason and treasonable felony in 1867, as compared with 315 cases of treasonable felony in 1866. There was a decrease of 161 in the number of seditious offences that were indictable, and an increase of 114 in the number of treasonable and seditious offences disposed of summarily, so that the entire number of treasonable and seditious offences of both classes, which amounted to 836 in 1867, exceeded by 23 the number in 1866.

proceedings.
(Table, p. 72.)

The following summary exhibits the result of the proceedings in cases determined summarily :—

	Men and Boys.	Women and Girls.	Total.
Total number proceeded against,	216,445	43,246	259,691
„ convicted,	183,006	32,692	215,698

Thus it appears that in the case of offences determined summarily, the convictions were 83 per cent. of the persons proceeded against. This is a higher proportion of convictions than in England and Wales in 1866, where the proportion of convictions was 70 per cent. of the number of persons proceeded against.

Punishments.

The penalties imposed on those convicted are stated under the same classification as in the English statistics, and the proportions of the different punishments are compared with the corresponding proportions in England and Wales in the following summary :—

PUNISHMENTS FOR OFFENCES DETERMINED SUMMARILY IN 1867, COMPARED WITH THOSE IN ENGLAND AND WALES IN 1866.	Number of Cases.	Proportion per cent. Ireland, 1867.	Correspond- ing propor- tion per cent. for England and Wales, 1866.

Other Punishments,	18,766	8·70	9·53
Total convicted,	215,698	100·	100·

It appears from this summary that the punishments of a trifling character bear a higher proportion in Ireland to the total punishments than in England and Wales, whilst the proportional number of serious punishments is much less in Ireland, indicating that a large part of the excess in the case of offences determined summarily in Ireland is to be found amongst the offences of a less serious character.

The character of the persons proceeded against in Ireland is shown in the following summary :—

(Tables, pp. 73-7.)

The character of the persons proceeded against is compared with the corresponding English statistics in the following summary :—

Total of Ireland,	266,282	508,960	133,937	132,345	—

It appears from this summary that 17·3 per cent. of the persons proceeded against were of character unknown to the police, whilst in England and Wales 34 per cent. of those proceeded against were of that class. This arises in part from the much higher number of police in proportion to the population in Ireland than in England and Wales, already noticed, and in part from the greater number of foreigners, and from the greater aggregation of the people in cities and towns in England than in Ireland.

In Ireland 69·7 per cent. of those proceeded against were of previous good character, while in England and Wales only 39·4 per cent. were of this class. It appears that while the total excess of persons proceeded against in Ireland over those proceeded against in an equal population in England and Wales was 132,344, the excess of persons of previous good character proceeded against was 132,752. These figures afford further indications of the less serious character of a large part of the offences disposed of summarily in Ireland.

The returns which have been obtained from the Coroners show the number of inquests to have been 2,893—2,002 on men and boys, and 891 on women and girls. In England and Wales in 1866, the number was 24,926—17,496 on men and boys, and 7,430 on women and girls. This would give the proportion to be expected in Ireland as 5,559, showing that the inquests in Ireland are less than one-half the number held in an equal population in England and Wales.

INQUESTS.

Coroners' Returns.
(Tables, pp. 78-81.)

It appears that of the 75 verdicts of murder returned by Coroners 45 were of children under the age of one year, and 30 were other murders, showing a great excess of infanticide as already noticed in connexion with the Police statistics as to murder.*

The returns show the cost of the inquests to be £7,046 15s. 3d., and the average cost of each inquest to be £2 8s. 8d., whilst in England and Wales it is £3 1s. 7d.

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

An account of the sums paid by Her Majesty's Treasury for criminal prosecutions at Assizes and Quarter Sessions, and at the Dublin Commission Court, and proceedings at Petty Sessions, Inquests, and Police Courts, has been made up from returns received from the Crown Solicitors in Ireland, and from the County and City Treasurers. The Crown Solicitors' returns show the number of prosecutions conducted by the Crown Counsel and Crown Solicitors at Assizes and at the Dublin Commission Court, and the costs, exclusive of prosecutors' and witnesses' expenses which are paid through the County and City Treasurers. The latter expense and the number of prosecutors and witnesses paid have been ascertained from the County and City Treasurers, but these payments are not confined to prosecutions in which the Crown Counsel and Solicitors are engaged.

The following table gives a summary of the costs of criminal prosecutions in Ireland, with the number of Crown prosecutions in the County and City of Dublin, and at 36 out of 39 cities and towns at which assizes were held on Circuit, and in 33 of the 39 Quarter Sessions Courts:—

Total Costs for all Ireland, . . .					90,520 10 6	56,547 12 7	33,972 17 11	—

This table shows an increase (attributable to the prosecutions for Fenianism) in the number and costs of Crown prosecutions in Dublin, and in the number of Crown prosecutions at the Assizes throughout the country, but a considerable decrease in the number of cases in the Quarter Sessions Courts.

The criminal prosecutions in Ireland are managed differently from those in England and Wales. The Executive Government, by the Law Officers and Crown Solicitors, takes charge of all the serious cases at Assizes in Ireland and at the Dublin Commission Court. In England and Wales the Treasury Solicitor in 1866 prosecuted in 267 Mint cases, and in 36 other cases; while the prosecutions at the Circuit Assize Courts, in 1866, were 3,102, and at the Central Criminal Court, 955. At the Quarter Sessions in Ireland a Sessional Crown Solicitor attends, but Barristers are scarcely ever employed. From these differences the expenses of Crown prosecutions in Ireland should be higher at Assizes than in England and Wales, and less at Quarter Sessions.

As the English Returns appear to include the cases in which witnesses were paid as well as those in which professional assistance was employed, the average costs founded upon such numbers will not compare with the average cost in Ireland, calculated on the cases in which the Crown Solicitor intervenes, and therefore no comparison of average cost is given.

The tables of Criminal Proceedings at Assizes, at the Dublin Commission Court, and at Quarter Sessions, have been compiled so as to give in a condensed form information similar to that contained in the "Irish Criminal Tables,"* which were annually presented to Parliament for many years previous to the compilation of the Irish Judicial and Criminal Statistics for 1863.

Assizes, Quarter
Sessions, &c.
(Tables, pp.
86-106.)

* The origin of the Irish Criminal Tables is explained in the Irish Judicial Statistics for 1863, p. xix.

The forms of return used for the Irish Criminal Tables have been preserved, so as to allow of an accurate comparison with the statistics of this class of criminal proceedings in Ireland for past years, and by this means the defect is obviated to which the Irish Judicial Statistics, from being only compiled for five years, would otherwise be subject.

In this comparison it was necessary to mark the large addition to the number of the offences treated as distinct, inserted by the advice of the Law Adviser to the Irish Government in the Tables of 1862, after the Consolidated Criminal Statutes had come into operation. This has been done on Table 6, and the figures before and after the new classification of offences are distinguished by a broad line. The change, however, does not affect the total number of offences of all classes.

The number of persons for trial at Assizes, the Dublin Commission Court, and at Quarter Sessions, is compared with the numbers in the preceding ten years in the following summary:—

	No. of Persons for Trial.	Actual Increase.	Actual Decrease.	No. per 100,000 of Population.	Increase per 100,000.	Decrease per 100,000.

Decrease in 10 years,		1,747			25

There has been a considerable increase during 1867 in the number of persons sent for trial as compared with the previous year, which is to be attributed to the Fenian movement. For many years there has been a steady diminution in the numbers, with the exception of the years of distress 1861 and 1862. In the above table the figures for the last ten years are given, and a very satisfactory decrease in the amount of crime is thus indicated, the number of prisoners sent for trial having been reduced from 6,308 in 1858 to 4,561 in 1867, being a decrease of 27 per cent. As, however, in order to form a correct estimate of the amount of crime, it is necessary to take into account the number of the population, I have added columns in the above table showing the number of persons for trial in every 100,000 of the people, with the increase and decrease in each year. From this calculation it appears that in 1858 there were 107 persons for trial in every 100,000 of the population, while in 1867 this number had been reduced to 82, being a decrease of 25 per 100,000 of the population.

The differences in the classes of offences of which those for trial in 1867 and 1866 were convicted or charged are indicated by the following summary:—

CLASSES OF OFFENCES IN 1867, COMPARED WITH THOSE IN 1866.	1867.	1866.	Increase, 1867.	Decrease, 1867.	Increase, 1867, per cent.	Decrease, 1867, per cent.

CRIMINAL
PROCEEDINGS.
Assizes, Quarter
continued.

There has been a considerable increase in five of the seven classes of offences enumerated in the preceding Table. The largest increase (amounting to 117) has taken place in the number of offences not included in any of the specified classes. There has also been an increase in the number of cases of Treasonable Felony, and of offences against property, both with and without violence. The malicious offences against property which had diminished in 1866, have, in 1867, increased in number.

In connexion with the efforts to extend manufactures in Ireland, the statistics afford very satisfactory results. There was not a single person for trial for destroying machines or goods in process of manufacture in 1867. There were, however, 3 persons for trial for riot and feloniously demolishing buildings, machinery, &c., which is a decrease on the number (6) in 1866, and only one person for trial in 1867, for offences connected with conspiracies or combinations to raise the rate of wages, and in none of these cases was there any prosecution. These statistics are highly creditable to the tradesmen and labouring classes engaged in manufactures.

1867,	2,732	1,829	4,561	59·90	40·10

The proportion of those acquitted and discharged in 1867 to those placed on trial (40·1 per cent.) is still at a much higher rate than in England and Wales, where the proportion of the acquitted and discharged in 1866 amounted to but 24·2 per cent. This difference is no doubt connected with the system of public prosecutions, already noticed, which obtains in Ireland, under which every case of reasonable suspicion is made the subject of investigation, whilst a private prosecutor will not incur the odium of proceeding without much stronger evidence upon which to rely.

The sentences passed on those convicted in 1867 are shown in the following table in detail, and in comparison with the sentences for each of the nine preceding years :—

(Table, p. 90.)

There were no executions in Ireland in 1867. There were 3 persons sentenced to death for high treason, but the sentences were subsequently commuted into penal servitude for life.

Capital convictions.

In addition to the information similar to that given in the English Tables of Criminal Proceedings, the Irish Criminal Tables contain details as to the ages and state of instruction of the persons for trial.

The ages of the persons for trial in 1867 are compared with those in 1866 in the following summary :—

In the Irish Tables those detained in Reformatory Schools are classed according to the original sentence of imprisonment imposed, and shown as a separate class.—Vide Tables, pp. 86, 87. The result of the systematic education of the poorer classes in Ireland is shown by this table. While the proportion of those the state of whose education has not been ascertained is less in 1867 than in 1858, the proportion of those who can read and write has increased from 27.36 to 37.58 per cent.

Sexes and state of
(Table, p. 91.)

The sexes of those for trial for 1866 and 1867, and the state of instruction of those committed of each sex, are given in the following summary:—

	1867,	896	164	18.30	194	21.65	420	46.88	118	13.17

It appears from this summary that while the proportion of men and boys who were ascertained to be incapable on their commitment of either reading or writing was 23·68 per cent., the proportion of women and girls in this state of ignorance was 46·88 per cent., both of which per-centages show a decrease on those for the previous year.

The number of persons for trial being more than in 1866, it is of importance to trace whether this increase was general or local. For this purpose the following summary has been compiled.

CRIMINAL
PROCEEDINGS.
Quarter Sessions.
(Table, p. 107).

The Court of Quarter Sessions in Ireland is in one respect differently constituted from the Court of Quarter Sessions in England, being presided over by the Chairman of the County, or Irish County Court Judge. A table has been introduced showing the appeals from Magistrates, which are given in another form in the English statistics; the applications for spirit licences and the disposal of bills of indictment are also shown, so as to give a complete view of the entire business at Quarter Sessions.

The proceedings at Quarter Sessions in 1867 as compared with those in 1866, were as follow :—

PROCEEDINGS AT QUARTER SESSIONS.	1867.	1866.	Increase, 1867.	Decrease, 1867.

It appears from this summary that there was a considerable decrease in the business at Quarter Sessions in 1867.

(Table, p. 107).

The Court for the consideration of Crown cases reserved, constituted by Stat. 11 and 12 Vic., c. 78, corresponds to the Court of Criminal Appeal in England. There were 4 appeals before it in 1867.

The proceedings at Jurors' Sessions for revising the Jurors' Lists have been returned for six of the eight counties of cities and of towns, and for 27 of the 32 counties of Ireland; the returns wanting being those for the city of Cork, the town of Drogheda, and for the counties of Louth, Meath, Queen's County, Down, and Monaghan.

* This Court corresponds to the Central Criminal Court in England, and has jurisdiction in the county and county of the city of Dublin.

The following summary shows the proportion of Jurors to the population in the different counties and counties of cities and towns from which returns have been received:—

The different districts present great diversity as to the number of qualified Jurors in proportion to population—from 1 in 36 of the population in Dublin to 1 in 367 in Sligo. This arises in part from the greater or less extent to which the leasehold tenure, upon which the qualification mainly depends, has been replaced in different districts by a yearly tenancy, which is not, except in towns, a qualification for a Juror. It also arises in part from the extent to which the statutable provisions as to qualifications are disregarded.

The statutable qualifications for Jurors for counties at large are—

In Rural Districts,	{ Freeholders. Leaseholders. Resident Merchants.
In Towns,	{ Freemen. Householders.

It appears, however, that in no less than 20 districts out of 70 from which returns have been received, persons are returned as Jurors with other than the statutable qualification.

PRISONS.

PRISONS.

Under the head of Prisons are included the statistics of bridewells and of gaols in counties, and counties of cities or of towns, convict prisons, and reformatories, as also the statistics of criminal lunatics confined in goals and lunatic asylums. The prisoners in the Four Courts Marshalsea* at Dublin have not been included, the numbers in it not having been hitherto included in the General Tables of the Inspectors-General of Prisons.

The gaols included in these tables are 39 in number. They are not divided into county, borough, and liberty prisons as in England and Wales. The towns in Ireland that have distinct taxation for gaols are those which are counties of cities or counties of towns and the town of Belfast, being only 9 out of the 33 boroughs in Ireland; of these 9 towns with distinct taxation only 5 have actually distinct gaols, there being only 1 gaol for the county and city of Kilkenny, 1 for the county and city of Waterford, and 1 for the county of Antrim, the county of the town of Carrickfergus, and the Borough of Belfast.

* The Inspectors-General of Prisons, though not including the Four Courts Marshalsea in their General Report add in an Appendix a special Report on this institution, from which it appears that there were 34 prisoners in custody on the 5th September, 1867, the maximum at any time in that year having been 42, and that the total commitments in the year were 140.

The table as to bridewells is compiled in the office of the Inspector-General of Prisons from the returns made to that department, and when compared with that for 1866 it gives the following result :—

PRISONS.

This summary shows a decrease in the number of commitments for drunkenness from 9,772 in 1866 to 7,524 in 1867. This is a very much smaller number than has been returned for the last five years.

The number of commitments to county gaols, inclusive of debtors, or commitments on civil process, was as follows :—

Gaols for Counties, &c.

Commitments.
(Tables, pp. 114-15).

The number of commitments to gaols in Ireland during 1867, classified according to sexes and the nature of convictions, with the proportion per cent. of each number to the total commitments, as compared with the corresponding proportion per cent. in England and Wales in 1866, is shown in the following summary :—

COMMITMENTS.	Men and Boys.	Women and Girls.	Total of both Sexes.	Proportion per cent.

Total,	18,558	11,739	30,297	100·	100·	100·	100·

It appears from this summary that the proportion of men and boys committed for trial at Assizes and Quarter Sessions for want of sureties, of persons remanded and discharged, and of those committed for military and naval offences, is greater in Ireland than in England, whilst the proportion of women and girls committed for trial at Assizes and at Quarter Sessions, of those remanded and discharged, and of debtors, is greater in England and Wales than in Ireland.

* The number given in the Statistics for 1866 was 9,782.

The number of previous commitments in 1867, with the proportion per cent. of each number to the total re-committed, is given in the following summary with the English proportion in 1866, for comparison:—

The much larger number of men and boys than women and girls committed once, twice, or three times, verifies the well-known social law that women are in general less criminal than men, whilst the fact that re-commitments of women more than five times are much more frequent than in the case of men is in strict accordance with another social law, that when women once enter into the paths of crime they become more criminal than men.

The following summary shows the ages and sexes of persons (excluding debtors and persons charged with military and naval offences) committed to the different county and county of city or of town gaols in 1867.

Ages.
(Table, p. 116).

The proportion per cent. of each sex at the different ages to the total number of each sex in the prisons in England and Wales in 1866 is added for comparison.

It appears from this summary that the same general social law as to the ages of prisoners in county gaols prevails in Ireland as in England and Wales. There are however variations, especially as to the striking excess in Ireland in the number of prisoners of both sexes between 21 and 30 years of age, as compared with the number in the other classes—a circumstance which suggests an inquiry into the causes of the difference. The figures in the above table show an increase of 930 in the number of men and boys confined in prison as compared with the number for last year, while there has been a decrease of 106 in the number of females, thus showing a total increase of 824.

The following summary shows the birthplace of the persons (other than debtors, and persons charged with military and naval offences) committed to the different county and county of city or of town gaols in Ireland in 1867.

It appears from this summary that there were less than two per cent. of women and girls, and less than four per cent. of men and boys not of Irish birth in Irish gaols, whilst in England and Wales in 1866 there were 16 per cent. of men and boys and 27 per cent. of women and girls in English prisons not born in England and Wales, and of these strangers no less than 11 per cent. of the men and boys and 22 per cent. of the women and girls were of Irish birth.

There is a very small number of persons of Scotch birth in the English prisons, but it is remarkable that the number of women and girls (2.7 per cent.), is nearly 50 per cent. more than the number (1.8 per cent.) of men and boys, just as is the case of Irish emigrants.

It is probable that in both cases this difference arises from the migration of women of bad character from the poorer to the wealthier parts of the kingdom.

The following summary gives the degree of instruction of the same classes of prisoners in gaols, as those already referred to, in Ireland in 1867, with the English proportion for 1866 for comparison:—

tion of prisoners.

The comparison in this table shows that there is a larger per-centage of prisoners in Ireland entirely destitute of instruction than in England and Wales, whilst of those who are educated there is a larger per-centage who can read and write well.

The different proportion of the different sexes of domestic servants indicated in this Table, arises from the tax on man servants in England, which does not exist in Ireland, and the consequent greater proportional employment of women servants there.

The result of the comparison shown in the above tables between the numbers in the Irish county gaols as compared with those in the English gaols, both at the beginning and end of the year 1867 is very satisfactory, the number of Irish prisoners being at both periods very much less in proportion to the population than the number in England; and yet the Irish prisoners appear to have been dealt with much more leniently than the English prisoners, 169 having been discharged on pardon or commutation of sentence, whilst only 34 were so discharged amongst a number of prisoners in England and Wales, equal to the total number of Irish prisoners disposed of, and 791 having been released on bail, as compared with 186 under similar circumstances in England and Wales.

The number sent to lunatic asylums in Ireland, (408,) greatly exceeds the proportionate number (27) for England and Wales; but this arises from the state of the law, which still allows dangerous lunatics to be sent to gaols in Ireland, whilst they are sent direct to lunatic asylums in England and Wales, under Statute 1 & 2 Vic., c. 14, by which the power of sending dangerous lunatics to prisons in England was repealed in 1838.*

The following summary shows the number of persons the different gaols in Ireland are constructed to contain, the greatest number confined at one time, and the daily average number:—

modating.
(Table, p. 122)

Greatest number of prisoners confined at one time,	2,965	2,078	5,043
Daily average number of prisoners in the year,	1,883	755	2,638

* By Stat. 30 and 31 Vic., c. 118, passed in 1867 the law in Ireland has been assimilated to the law in England, so that dangerous lunatics in Ireland will, for the future, be sent direct to asylums.

† There was no return for 1867 from the County prison at Cork, as it was undergoing repairs. The return for 1866 stated that it was constructed to contain 337 men and boys, and 110 women and girls. In this prison, however, more than one person is allowed to many of the cells.

PRISONS. The following summary shows the punishments for prison offences in the different Gaols for Counties, gaols in Ireland in 1867, with the corresponding figures for English prisons in 1866 :—

Total,	1,888	311	2,199	60,044	8,830	6,631	—

The contrast between the Irish and English prisons shown by those figures is remarkable. There were 8,830 punishments inflicted in English prisons amongst 2,638 prisoners (the Irish daily average number), while there were only 2,199 punishments inflicted in Irish prisons among the same daily average number of prisoners.

Discipline was maintained in Ireland in 1867 without whipping, with less resort to irons or handcuffs, with about one-half the use of solitary or dark cells, and the stoppage of diet in Ireland was rendered necessary only 827 times, as compared with 6,570 times in England and Wales.

Number of officers in gaols.

The following summary shows the number of officers in Irish county gaols, and the number of officers of each class in the corresponding English prisons for comparison :—

The chief points to be noticed in the Irish as compared with the English gaols in respect of officers is the greater staff of officers in Ireland, especially of officers of a superior class, the number of Chaplains in Ireland being 92 where there were only 38 in England, and the Local Inspectors being entirely wanting in England.

These figures are very important in connexion with the circumstance that discipline is maintained in Irish gaols with very much fewer cases of punishment for prison offences than in England.

The following summary shows the expenses in detail, the total costs of gaols and of officers and prisoners, and the average charge per prisoner in Ireland in 1867 with the corresponding figures for England and Wales in 1866 :—

Total,	91,067	10	6	614,677	12	8	34	10	4½	34	8	8½

It appears from these summaries that the cost of the mere official staff of officers in Irish prisons already noticed is £6 7s. 1¼d. per head above the cost in England and Wales, and the total cost of each prisoner in Ireland is £34 10s. 4½d., as compared with £34 8s. 8½d. the total cost per head in England. In connexion with the slightly greater cost in Ireland the smaller produce from prisoners' labour, the larger charge upon the local rates in Ireland, and the number of lunatics in Irish gaols, elsewhere referred to, should be borne in mind.

The following summary shows the result of a comparison of the returns from the Directors of Convict Prisons for 1867 with those for 1866 :—

" Daily Average during the year,	961	426	1,387	1,549	—	162

It appears from this summary that there was an increase of 16 in the number of convicts received during the year, (from 305 in 1866 to 321 in 1867), being at the rate of 5 per cent., indicating an increase to that extent in the more serious offences for which severe punishments were inflicted during the year.

There was a decrease in the number let out on tickets-of-leave from 308 in 1866 to 204 in 1867. The number of tickets-of-leave granted in England amongst an equal number of convicts disposed of in 1866 was 320.

There was an increase in the number of those discharged on the termination of their sentence, from 108 in 1866 to 112 in 1867, but this number is higher than the number (40) discharged on the termination of their sentence in England amongst an equal number of convicts disposed of in 1866.

The Inspector of Reformatory Schools has made returns in forms somewhat similar to those in the English Judicial Statistics.

Reformatory Schools.

There are 4 reformatory schools for boys, and 5 for girls in Ireland. Three are for Protestants, of which 2 are for boys and 1 for girls; six are for Roman Catholics, of which 2 are for boys and 4 for girls. The total number committed in 1867 was 204. Of these, 164 were boys and 40 girls; 175 were Roman Catholics, and 29 were Protestants.

PRISONS.		The terms of detention of the offenders committed in 1867 were as follow :—
Reformatory Schools.	Previous imprisonment—	Subsequent detention in reformatories—
Terms of detention in reformatories. (Table, p. 131.)	14 days,	2 years,	5
	1 month and above 14 days,	3 years,	11
	Above 4 months,	4 years,	16
		5 years,	172
	204		204

The number committed on indictment before Judges of the Superior Courts, the Recorder of Dublin, and the Chairmen of Quarter Sessions, was 49, or 24 per cent. of the entire number; and 155, or 76 per cent., were committed on summary convictions before Justices. These numbers show an increase upon the numbers in 1866 of 28 boys, and of 13 girls, giving a total increase of 41.

As 15 per cent. were committed on indictments in 1866, it appears that a larger proportion has been committed from the higher tribunals in 1867. In England and Wales in 1866, 19·4 per cent. were committed on indictment.

Position as regards parental control of boys and girls in reformatories.

The position of those committed to reformatories in Ireland, as regards parental control, is shown by the following table :—

	One only.	Both.	Total.
Parents dead,	86	25	111
Deserted by parents,	14	3	17
Parents in prison,	3	—	3
Otherwise uncontrolled by parents,	22	15	37
Total not under parental control,	125	43	168
Under parental control,	7	29	36
Total,	132	72	204

It appears from this table that of the entire number (204) of boys and girls in reformatory schools, only 29, or 14 per cent., were under the control of both parents, and only 36, or 10 per cent., under the control of one or both parents, showing that reformatories are really supplying to their inmates the want of parental control and support which may be taken as the chief cause of the crimes of those committed to reformatories.

Ages and state of instruction of boys and girls in reformatories.

This want of parental control and support is further shown in the state of instruction as indicated in the following table :—

AGES AND STATE OF INSTRUCTION OF BOYS AND GIRLS IN REFORMATORIES.	Aged 10 and under.	Aged 11, and above 10.	Aged 12, and above 11.	Aged 13, and above 12.	Aged 14, and above 13.	Aged 15, and above 14.	Under 16, and above 15.	Total.

Total,	26	15	37	39	41	31	15	204

It appears from this summary that of the entire number, (204,) only 19, or 9 per cent., could read and write well, and only 2, or ·98 per cent., had received superior instruction, thus leaving 90 per cent. with a neglected education; it also appears that 98 of the entire number, or 48 per cent., were entirely ignorant, being unable to read or write.

In Ireland there are as yet no certified Industrial Schools, the Statute (Stat. 31 Vic., c. 25), authorizing their establishment having only been passed in 1867.

It appears from the Police returns that the class for whose benefit Industrial Schools are intended is proportionally more numerous in Ireland than in England and Wales, the 3,509 vagrants and tramps in Ireland under 16 years of age being 1,942 in excess of the number (1,567) to be found in an equal population in England and Wales in 1866.

The power exercised by Justices in Ireland since the year 1838, of sending lunatics to gaols, was taken away by an Act passed in 1867 (Stat. 30 & 31 Vic., c. 118), by which it is provided that dangerous lunatics are to be sent to asylums, and that they may be given up to their relatives on proper security. The Act also provides that the persons so committed may be discharged, like other lunatic poor, on recovery on certificate of the Medical Officer of Asylums, without warrant of the Lord Lieutenant.

PRISONS.
Criminal Lunatics.
(Tables, pp. 132-5).

In all Ireland there were, of those under detention at any time during 1867, 45 lunatics who had been between two and three years in gaol, 52 between three and five years, 49 between five and ten years, and 8 between ten and fifteen years.

The effect the new Act is likely to have is indicated by other figures. Of the entire number (1,010) of lunatics at any time under detention in gaols, in 1867, only 63 became insane in gaol or were found insane at Assizes or Quarter Sessions, whilst 934 were committed by Justices under the provisions of Stat. 1 & 2 Vic., c. 27, and 8 & 9 Vic., c. 107, which have now been repealed.

The number of criminal lunatics in gaols and asylums, and the number discharged and under detention, are shown by the following summary :—

CRIMINAL LUNATICS.	GAOLS.			ASYLUMS (Estimate).*			Total Gaols and Asylums.
	Men and Boys.	Women and Girls.	Total.	Men and Boys.	Women and Girls.	Total.
Remaining under detention on 31st December, 1867,	221	110	331	1,180	763	1,943	2,274

If the number of criminal lunatics in custody be compared with those in an equal population in England and Wales in 1866, we get the following result :—

CRIMINAL LUNATICS IN IRELAND COMPARED WITH THOSE IN ENGLAND AND WALES.	IRELAND, 1867.	ENGLAND AND WALES, 1866.		Irish Criminal Lunatics in custody in 1867 in excess of those in equal Popula- tion in England and Wales in 1866.	Irish Criminal Lunatics in custody in 1867 less than those in equal Popula- tion in England and Wales in 1866.
		Total.	Number in a portion of the Population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.
Remaining under detention at end of year,	2,274	1,052	277	1,997	—

It appears from this comparison that in 1867 there were upwards of seven times as many lunatics under detention as criminals in Ireland, in proportion to population, as in England and Wales in 1866.

The cause of this difference forms an important subject of inquiry, whether it arises from the larger proportion of police in Ireland, or from the smaller number of private asylums, and smaller number of dangerous lunatics supported by their friends as mere lunatics, from the smaller number of idiots and lunatics supported in families assisted by outdoor relief, or from the apparently greater prevalence of drunkenness indicated by the police statistics, or from any other difference in the circumstances of the two countries.

* I have been unable to obtain returns from the Asylums at Armagh, Carlow, or from the additional Asylum at Clonmel. In order to make an estimate of the total number, I have been obliged to take the figures for 1866, in the two latter cases, assuming them to be approximately correct for 1867; and as Armagh failed in 1866 also to make any return, I have in that case used the numbers returned for 1865.

PRISONS.

Criminal Lunatics.
(Table, pp. 132-5).

The returns as to the offences with which the criminal lunatics under detention were charged are complete with regard to those under detention in gaols, and with regard to 2,013 of the number (2,062) detained during the year in Asylums.

I have not in this table added those in gaols in Ireland to those in asylums, for as 364 lunatics were removed from gaols to asylums during the year, that number appears in both returns, and the returns do not distinguish the offences with which they were charged.

It appears from this table that the chief difference in the character of the offences with which criminal lunatics were charged in Ireland and in England and Wales is that in Ireland an extraordinary number were committed as simply dangerous persons at large—(939 in gaols, and 1,696 of those who had been committed to gaols and afterwards transferred to asylums), whilst there was not one committed of the same class in England and Wales in 1866.

The judgments or orders under which criminal lunatics were detained in Ireland in 1867 are contrasted with the corresponding statistics for England and Wales in 1866 in the following table :—

	Ireland, 1867. In Gaols.	England, 1866. Under deten- tion.	English proportion under each head in a number of prisoners, equal to total number under detention in Ireland.	Ireland, 1867. In Asylums.

Not classed,	—	—	—	43
Committed by Justices,	947	72	165	1,761
Total,	1,010	1,178	2,708	2,062

The principal feature shown by this table is the extraordinary proportion of criminal lunatics in England and Wales that became insane while undergoing sentences of imprisonment as compared with the corresponding number in Ireland. These figures suggest matter for inquiry as to how far this difference may arise from the different systems of prison discipline in the two countries.

The following is a Summary of some of the principal conclusions in this Report on the Irish Criminal Statistics for 1867:—

REPORT.

Chief features of
Statistics for 1867.

1. The chief unfavourable feature of the Irish Criminal Statistics is the continued prevalence of treasonable and seditious offences indicated by the police returns, the numbers being 836 in 1867, as compared with 813 in 1866, showing an increase of 23. It further appears that amongst these offences there was a marked increase in the more serious forms of treason, 385 persons having been charged with high treason and treasonable felony in 1867, as compared with 315 in 1866, being an increase of 70.

2. The increase of disaffection was attended with a serious addition to the cost of criminal prosecutions, the amount increasing from £56,547 in 1866, to £90,520 in 1867, being an increase of £33,973. It also prevented any material reduction in the number of the Royal Irish Constabulary, to compensate for the increased cost of placing that force on an efficient and satisfactory basis. The whole cost of the police of all kinds in Ireland, increased from £779,916 in 1866, to £902,297 in 1867, being an increase of £122,381, of which £115,218 was defrayed from the general taxes, and £7,163 from the local taxes and other sources.

3. The Statistics for 1867, as compared with those for 1866, show a considerable increase (amounting to 235) in the number of persons for trial at Assizes, the Dublin Commission Court, and at Quarter Sessions. The number, however, is less than in any of the preceding ten years, except 1866. The number has been reduced from 6,308 in 1858, to 4,561 in 1867, which shows a diminution of 1,747 cases or of 27 per cent. Allowing for reduction of population, the diminution of serious crime in Ireland in ten years is from 107 to 82 in each 100,000 of the population.

4. Amongst the favourable features of the statistics of 1867, is to be noticed the diminution in the commitments to bridewells for drunkenness, the numbers being 9,772 in 1866, and 7,524 in 1867. The cases of drunkenness reported by the police decreased from 82,194 in 1866, to 76,415 in 1867.

5. There were no executions in Ireland in 1867. Three persons were sentenced to death for high treason, but the sentences were subsequently commuted into penal servitude for life.

6. In connexion with the efforts to extend manufactures in Ireland the statistics are, as in former years, satisfactory. There was not a single person for trial for destroying machines or goods in process of manufacture in 1867. There were only three persons for trial for riot and feloniously demolishing buildings, machinery, &c., and only one person for trial for offences connected with conspiracies or combinations to raise the rate of wages, and in none of these cases was there any prosecution.

7. In connexion with the measures which have been introduced by successive Governments upon the subject of the Jury Laws, it is important to notice that the Statistics of Jurors' Sessions in the different districts present great diversity in the number of qualified Jurors in proportion to population, from 1 in 36 of the population in Dublin to 1 in 367 of the population in Sligo. This arises in part from the greater or less extent to which the leasehold tenure, upon which the qualification mainly depends, has been replaced in different districts by a yearly tenancy, which is not except in towns a qualification for a Juror.

The Jury Laws.

8. The diversity in the number of Jurors arises in part from the extent to which the statutable provisions as to the qualifications are disregarded. It appears that in 20 districts out of 70 from which returns have been received, 2,470 persons were returned as Jurors with other than the statutable qualifications, being 5 per cent. of the entire number (46,071) of Jurors returned.

9. In connexion with the question of prison discipline and prison reform, the statistics of the Irish gaols exhibit the very satisfactory result of the prisoners therein, both at the beginning and end of the year 1867, being about half the number in proportion to population in the English county prisons. The Irish prisoners appear to have been dealt with much more leniently than the English prisoners, 169 having been discharged on pardon or commutation of sentence, while only 34 were so discharged amongst a number of prisoners in England and Wales, equal to the total number of Irish prisoners disposed of, and 791 having been released on bail as compared with 186 under similar circumstances in England and Wales.

Prison Discipline and Prison Reform.

10. With respect to punishments for prison offences the contrast between the Irish and English prisons is remarkable. There were 8,830 punishments inflicted in English prisons amongst 2,638 prisoners (the Irish daily average number), while there were only 2,199 punishments inflicted in Irish prisons amongst the same daily average number of prisoners.

11. Discipline was maintained in the Irish gaols without whipping, with less resort to irons or handcuffs, with about one-half the use of solitary or dark cells, and the stoppage of diet in Ireland was rendered necessary only 827 times as compared with 6,570 times in England and Wales amongst an equal daily average number of 2,638 prisoners.

12. In connexion with the maintenance of discipline in Irish gaols the greater proportion of officers, especially officers of a superior class, is to be observed; the number of Chaplains in Ireland being 92, while the English proportion for an equal number of prisoners was only 38, and the Local Inspectors being entirely wanting in England.

13. There was an increase of 41 in the numbers sent to reformatory schools in Ireland in 1867 as compared with the numbers in 1866.

14. Of the entire number of boys and girls (204) in reformatory schools only 29, or 14 per cent., were under the control of both parents, and only 36, or 10 per cent., under the control of one or both parents, facts which show that reformatories are really supplying to their inmates the want of that parental control and support, which may be taken as the chief causes of the crime of those committed to reformatories.

15. With regard to the education of the prisoners it appears that 36 per cent. of men and boys and 52·6 per cent. of the women and girls in Irish gaols could neither read nor write, being larger percentages entirely destitute of instruction than the English percentages of 33·3 per cent. of men and boys and 37·2 per cent. of women and girls. On the other hand, 40·3 per cent. of men and boys and 19 per cent. of women and girls in Irish gaols could read and write well. This is a marked contrast to the 3·5 per cent. of men and boys and 1·5 per cent. of women and girls in the English gaols returned as able to read and write well.

16. From the statistics of the birthplace of prisoners it appears there were less than 2 per cent. of the women and girls, and less than 4 per cent. of the men and boys not of Irish birth in Irish gaols, while in England and Wales in 1866 there were 16 per cent. of the men and boys, and 27 per cent. of the women and girls in English prisons not born in England and Wales, and of these strangers no less than 11 per cent. of the men and boys and 22 per cent. of the women and girls were of Irish birth.

Characteristics of
crime.

17. The comparison of the characteristics of Irish and English crime, as shown by the statistics, indicate results similar to those observed in former years. The entire number of indictable offences (not disposed of summarily) in Ireland in 1867 was only 9,260, being 4,042, or 30 per cent. less than the number (13,302) in a corresponding portion of the population of England and Wales in 1866.

18. The characteristics of Irish crime, indicated by the summary of indictable offences returned by the Police, and not disposed of summarily, correspond with those observed last year, the most unfavourable features being treasonable and seditious offences, malicious offences against property, riots, assaults inflicting bodily harm, and other assaults.

19. Of offences against property there is a much smaller number than in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales. In the offences of attempts to murder, shooting at, wounding, stabbing, &c., to do bodily harm, and manslaughter, the Irish statistics are more favourable than the English, and also in the statistics of unnatural offences, rape and immoral offences, perjury, and attempts to commit suicide.

20. In the minor cases of indictable offences (determined summarily) there are the same characteristics as those exhibited by the tables of graver cases (not determined summarily); the number of such offences is 21,737, being 2,167 or 9 per cent. less than the number (23,904) in a portion of the population in England and Wales in 1866 equal to that of Ireland; there is also less of theft, and of crimes indicating a low moral tone, such as aggravated assaults on women and children, than in England and Wales. On the other hand, there is a greater prevalence of malicious offences in Ireland.

21. There appears to be a greater excess of the less serious offences reported by the police and disposed of summarily, the number in Ireland being 237,954, as compared with 102,877, in an equal portion of the population of England and Wales. In these offences there has been a serious increase of 22,978 in 1867, as compared with the number in 1866. The excess of 99,750 (after deducting 35,327 for offences unclassified) is more than accounted for by the excess of offences under the four following heads: Drunkenness, in which the excess was 48,950; offences against Acts of Parliament, such as Ways Acts, Pawnbrokers Act, Revenue Laws, &c., 46,772; offences against Vagrant Acts, 2,049; common assaults, 9,960; which make a total of 107,731.

22. That the excess of minor offences reported by the police most probably arises from the police being twice as numerous in proportion to the population as they are in England and Wales, is shown by the statistics as to prostitutes. Thus while it appears from the Police Tables that the number of prostitutes known to the police in Ireland in 1867 was 3,032 as compared with 6,819, the number in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1866, there were 3,693 charges against prostitutes under the Vagrant Acts in Ireland in 1867 as compared with 1,644 in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1866.

23. The comparison of the criminal classes in Ireland with those in England and Wales exhibits the very satisfactory result, that notwithstanding the large number of Police in Ireland, the number of criminal classes, other than vagrants and tramps, known to the Police in 1867 was only 10,361, being less than one-half the number (21,151) in an equal portion of the population of England and Wales in 1866. In consequence of the difference in the Poor Laws and in the laws as to Industrial Schools in the two countries, the vagrants and tramps are distinguished in the Tables from the other criminal classes. The returns for 1867 show a very large increase in the number of this class, as compared with the number in the preceding year.

24. The excess of vagrants and tramps of all ages in Ireland (amounting to 3,892), as compared with the number in an equal portion of the population of England and Wales, is very small when the difference between the proportion of the poor in receipt of Poor Law Relief in Ireland and in England and Wales is taken into consideration. The average daily number in receipt of relief in Ireland in 1867-68 was 53,017 in workhouses, and 14,940 outdoor, or 67,957 in all, being 173,134 less than the number (241,091), in receipt of relief in 1866, in a portion of the population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.

25. The verdicts of wilful murder brought in by Coroners' juries in Ireland were 75, Infanticides, being 40 less than the number (115) which the 438 verdicts for murder in England and Wales in 1866 would give for a population equal to that of Ireland.

26. In the verdicts of Coroners' juries infanticide or murder of children under 1 year is distinguished from murders of persons above 1 year; and it appears that the number of infanticides in Ireland, shows a very slight excess in proportion to the population, and that other murders were more numerous in England and Wales. Thus the number which the 166 verdicts of infanticide in England and Wales in 1866 would give for a population equal to that of Ireland is 44, and the number of verdicts of infanticide in Ireland was 45; and while the 272 other verdicts of murders in England and Wales would give 71 for Ireland, there were only 30 returned.

27. Infanticides as compared with other murders are excessive in both countries; as there are 2·4 children under 1 year of age in Ireland in every 100 of the population, it follows that the 45 infanticides are 62 times the number of murders which occurred in Ireland in 1867, amongst the same number of persons at other age-periods.

28. The 166 infanticides in England and Wales, were 23 times the number of murders in England and Wales in 1866 of persons at other age-periods.

29. The amount of infanticide indicated by the verdicts of Coroners' juries in both countries is very startling, and resting as they do upon the sworn verdicts of a number of independent juries, before different Coroners, in all parts of both countries, the statistics are free from any prejudice which might lead to a wrong estimate or statement as to the excess of infanticide which is to be deduced from them.

Assimilation of the
and Ireland.

30. The marked difference in the laws of England and Ireland with regard to committing lunatics to gaols, which has been noticed in the reports of preceding years, was brought to an end by an Act promoted by your Lordship, and passed in 1867, (Stat. 30 & 31 Vic., c. 118), under which dangerous lunatics are to be sent to asylums, and may be given up to their relations on proper security.

31. The important operation which the Act is likely to have is shown by the fact, that of 1,010 lunatics in gaols at one time during the year 1867 only 63 became insane in gaol, or were found insane at assizes or Quarter Sessions, whilst 934 were committed by Justices, under the provisions of Stat. 1 & 2 Vic., c. 27, and Stat. 8 & 9 Vic., c. 109, which have been repealed.

32. The estimated number of criminal lunatics in Ireland under detention at the end of the year 1867 was 2,274, being 1,997 in excess of the number (277) under detention at the end of 1866, in a portion of the population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland. The cause of this difference is an important subject of inquiry which can be more easily investigated now that the law has been so far assimilated in the two countries.

33. Another difference in the laws of England and Ireland has been put an end to by the Act promoted by O'Connor Don, M.P., for enabling industrial schools to be established in Ireland, and passed in the last session (Stat. 31 Vic., c. 25).

34. The field for the operation of this Act is indicated by the fact, that vagrants and tramps in Ireland, under the age of 16 years were increasing in 1867, the number being 3,509 as compared with 3,227 in 1866. This number too was 1,942 in excess of the the number (1,567) of vagrants and tramps of that age in 1866 in a portion of the population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.

The passing of these two Acts of assimilation, as to lunatics and industrial schools, is an indication of the results which may arise from tracing the connexion between anomalies in the statistics and exceptional provisions in the laws in force in the two countries.

JUDICIAL STATISTICS.

PART II.

IRELAND.

COMMON LAW—EQUITY—CIVIL AND CANON LAW.

RETURNS FOR THE YEAR 1867,

Compiled by Order of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland,

COMPRISING

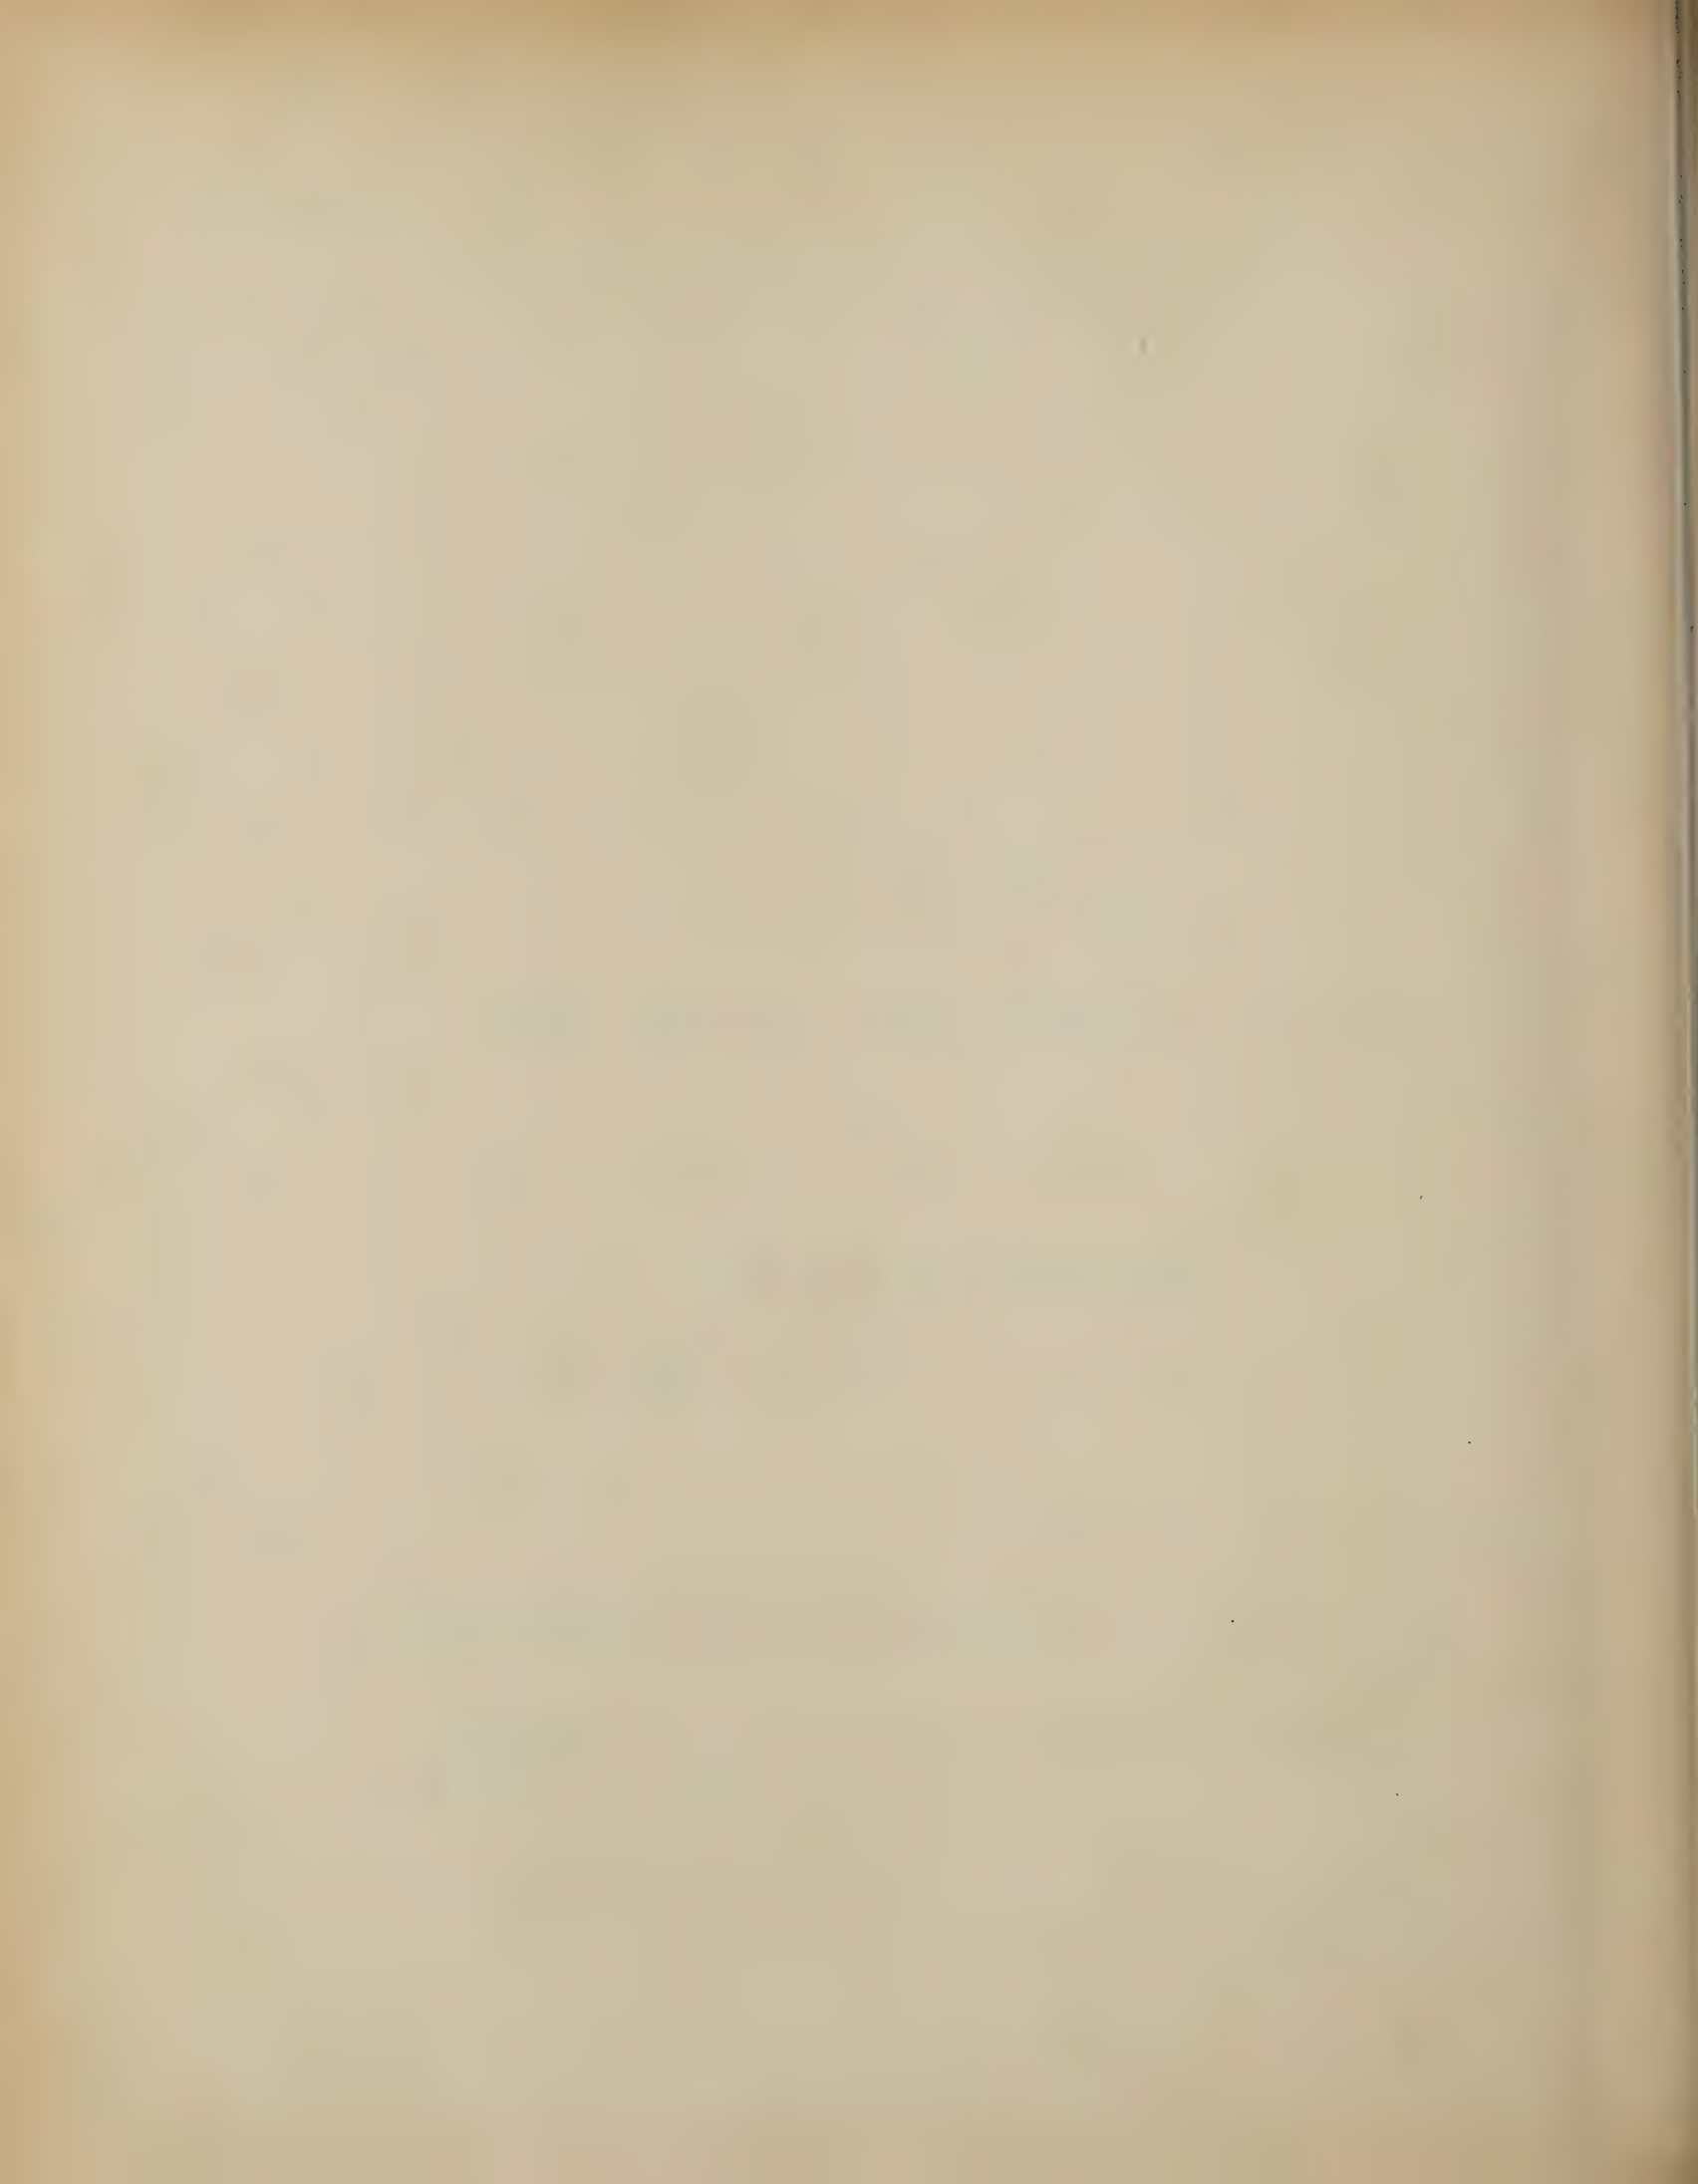

The Superior Courts of Common Law ;

The High Court of Chancery, the Landed Estates Court, the Court of Probate, the Ecclesiastical Courts, the High Court of Admiralty, the Court of Bankruptcy and Insolvency ;

The Supreme Courts of Appeal, viz.—the House of Lords, the Privy Council, Ireland, the Court of Appeal in Chancery, the Exchequer Chamber, the High Court of Delegates ;

The Courts of the Chairmen of Counties and Recorders, and other Courts for the Recovery of Small Debts.

The Civil Jurisdiction of the Petty Sessions Courts.

PART II.

INTRODUCTORY AND EXPLANATORY REPORT.

THE Court of Queen's Bench in Ireland has, at the Crown side, a jurisdiction corresponding to the jurisdiction of the Court of Queen's Bench in England, and also a jurisdiction peculiar to the Irish Court of fiatting the Presentments made by the Grand Jury of the County of Dublin for the expenditure of the local tax, called county cess, in the repairs of roads, expenses of prisons and asylums, and other local purposes, and of fiatting the Presentments of the Town Council of the City of Dublin, so far as it exercises the powers formerly vested in the Grand Jury of the City of Dublin in respect of county cess.

In connexion with these fiscal powers the Court has jurisdiction over the Traverses of Presentments of the Grand Jury or Town Council, chiefly for new roads and Claims for Malicious Injuries to property.

The Court has also a jurisdiction, peculiar to Ireland, in the case of Railway Traverses under the Railways (Ireland) Act, 1851 (14 & 15 Vic., c. 70).

The ordinary business at the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench, as compared with the preceding year, may be judged of by the following summary:—

	1867.	1866.	Increase, 1867.	Decrease, 1867.
Writs of Mandamus, application for,	4	7	—	3
Writs of Habeas Corpus,	13	18*	—	5
Certiorari, Rules Nisi,	7	11	—	4
Information, Rules Nisi,	1	—	1	—
On Orders of Sessions and Special Cases,	—	1	—	1
Other Special Rules absolute,	106	128	—	22

These figures show a decrease in every branch of the business of the Court, except one, during the year 1867.

The unsatisfactory state of the jurisdiction of the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench in Ireland as compared with the corresponding jurisdiction in England, is indicated by the following statements and suggestions of the English and Irish Law and Chancery Commissioners, which have not yet been made the subject of legislation. The Commissioners state that—

“There are no published rules regulating the practice on the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench in Ireland, and the powers which the Judges of the Court of Queen's Bench in England have, under Stat. 6 & 7 Vic., c. 20, s. 11, of framing rules, do not exist in Ireland;” “there are other differences in the practice between the two countries, arising from the reforms introduced by the above Statute into England not having been extended to Ireland;” and they recommend, “that the Court of

* In the Report for 1866, the decisions on 4 cases were counted, as well as the applications, and the number given in the summary was thus 22, instead of 18.

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH (Crown Side). Queen's Bench in Ireland should be provided with like powers to those of the Court in England, and that the proceedings and practice adopted in England by the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench should be extended to Ireland."

(Table, p. 169.) The business of the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench in Ireland, peculiar to the Irish Court, as compared with the preceding year, is as follows:—

	1867.	1866.	Increase, 1867.	Decrease, 1867.
Fiscal Presentments:
Number,	685	706	—	21
Amount,	£77,586	£77,860	—	£274
Objections to Presentments,	3	3	—	—
Claims for Malicious Injuries,	3	9	—	6
Objections to Claims,	1	2	—	1
On application for Presentments—Trial by Jury,	1	—	1	—

A slight decrease has taken place in the amount of Fiscal Presentments in the County and City of Dublin.

The number of claims for Malicious Injuries in the County and City of Dublin shows a marked decrease compared with the number for 1866.

Office.

The issue of Writs for the three Superior Courts of Common Law from a Consolidated Writ and Seal Office was established in 1850 by the Process and Practice Act (Stat. 13 & 14 Vic., c. 18), and the Writs of Summons and Plaint are issued in rotation, twenty-five for each of the three Courts, under the provisions of the Irish Common Law Procedure Act, 1853, s. 15.

The plaintiff is by the provisions of the same Act prevented from issuing his writ until he has prepared his first pleading. As the summons and plaint corresponds to the English writ and declaration consolidated, the use of writs to the same extent as in England and Wales is thus prevented.

Writs.

The writs issued are compared with those in the preceding year in the following summary:—

Writs of Execution.
(Table, p. 178.)

These figures show an increase of 6 per cent. in the number of writs, and an increase of 5 per cent. in the number of executions.

The number of Attorneys' licences sealed and entered were:—

In 1867,	1,143
In 1866,	1,163
Decrease in 1867,	20

These figures show a decrease of 20 for the year 1867. In the previous year there had been an increase of 33 upon the number in 1865.

The jurisdiction of the three Superior Courts of Common Law corresponded very closely with the jurisdiction of the similar Courts in England from the introduction into Ireland of the Common Law of England in the reign of King John until the year 1828. Up to that year the differences in the practice and procedure between the Superior Courts of Common Law of the two countries were inconsiderable. But in the progress of law reform since then, various Acts to reform the practice and procedure having been passed for the two countries at different times, considerable differences have been introduced, which are fully detailed in the First Report of the English and Irish Law and Chancery Commission made in 1863.

The existence of these numerous minute differences consequently creates an impediment in the way of any useful comparison of the statistics of the corresponding Courts in the two countries.

Bills founded upon the recommendations of the Commissioners to effect the termination of these differences have been introduced in successive Sessions but have not as yet received the sanction of the Legislature.

The proceedings in the Masters' Offices of the Superior Courts of Common Law in Ireland as compared with the preceding year are shown in the following summary:—

There was a decrease in the number of Cognovit Judgments in 1867, as compared with 1866, from 821 to 699, or 15 per cent.; and this following a decrease of 114 in 1866, and 282 in 1865, makes a total decrease of 517, or 42 per cent. in three years. There has been a considerable increase in the number of Case Judgments. The amount recovered on both kinds of judgments diminished from £925,279 in 1866, to £670,005 in 1867.

Proceedings before a single Judge.
(Tables, pp.
171-3-5.)

In Ireland there is not, as in England, a fifth Judge in each Court to sit out for Chamber Business. One of the four Judges consequently sits for each Court for ex parte motions before the sitting of the Court in Banco. Out of term the puisne Judges sit in rotation to hear motions for the three Superior Courts of Common Law.

The business before a single Judge, and in the Rules Office, as compared with the preceding year, may be judged of by the following summary, which shows a decrease in 1867 :—

Much of the business now transacted in the office of the Clerk of the Rules was, before the Common Law Procedure Act, 1853, transacted by motions in Court, and is therefore placed next to it in the tables.

The proceedings in Banco in the Superior Courts of Common Law in Ireland, as compared with the preceding year, are shown in the following table:—

There appears from the preceding table to have been an increase in some branches of the business before the full Court in Banco in the three Superior Courts of Common Law, and a decrease in others, but on the whole a large decrease. There had been, however, an increase in the amount of business both in 1866 and 1865.

Besides the business common to the three Superior Courts of Common Law at the Plea side, they have each small branches of distinct business. Thus, the Court of Queen's Bench has the registration of Bills of Sale, under the Bills of Sale Act (17 & 18 Vic. c. 36); the Court of Common Pleas has the Acknowledgments of Deeds by Married Women, under the Irish Act for the abolition of Fines and Recoveries (Stat. 4 & 5 Wm. IV., c. 92); and the Court of Exchequer has its ancient jurisdiction in Revenue cases, from which it derives its name.

Revenue, &c.,
Cases.
(Tables, pp.
170-2-5.)

The business in these matters as compared with the preceding year, is as follows:—

There was a decrease in the number of Bills of Sale registered in 1867 as compared with the number in 1866.

There was a considerable decrease in the number of acknowledgments by married women.

In Revenue cases there was a decrease of 40 per cent., and in Legacy Succession Duty cases a slight increase.

There is in Ireland, as in England, an office for the registration of Judgments common to the three Superior Courts of Common Law. In England the office is superintended by the Senior Master of the Court of Common Pleas. In Ireland there is a separate officer, called the Registrar of Judgments.

“As the result of our inquiries on the law of Judgments, it appears that while in England the tendency of the whole course of legislation down to and inclusive of the Act of 1864 (27 & 28 Vic., c. 112), has been to reduce a Judgment to a step in the course of procedure for the recovery of a debt, insomuch as by the last mentioned Act it is provided that ‘no Judgment to be entered up after the passing of the Act shall affect any land of whatever tenure, until such land shall have been actually delivered in execution by virtue of a writ of elegit, or other lawful authority.’ In Ireland, on the other hand, the legislation down to and inclusive of the Record of Title Act, 1865, has been in the opposite direction, and Judgments affect land in Ireland prior to and entirely independent of execution, and the writ of elegit has there been virtually abolished.

"Again, under the Judgment Mortgage Act, 12,000 statutable mortgages of land in Ireland, estimated to be securities for £4,000,000, have been created by the registration of affidavits as to judgments under that Act."^a a Second Report, 1866, p. xxi., et seq.

There was a slight decrease in the number of judgments registered, and a considerable one in the number re-registered.

SUPERIOR COURTS OF COMMON LAW.

If the number of judgments registered be compared with the number entered up in the three Superior Courts of Common Law, it appears that, whilst 4,823 judgments were entered up, 3,913 were registered in the Registration of Judgments Office. When the Judgment Mortgage Act was passed it was expected by the framers of that Act that the amount of business in the Registration of Judgments Office would be diminished by its operation; but this expectation was founded upon the consideration of judgments only as charges on land, and the provisions of the Irish Bankruptcy Act of 1849, continued by the Act of 1857, requiring judgments to be registered within twenty-one days after being entered up, to secure priority in bankruptcy, were overlooked.

There is in Ireland one Common Law Taxing Office for the three Superior Courts, with two Taxing Officers.

Common Law

The business in 1867, as compared with the preceding year, was as follows:—

It appears from this table that there was a considerable falling off in the whole business of the Common Law Taxing Office.

The following summaries as to Nisi Prius business have been compiled from returns received from the Town Registrars of the Chief Judges (who correspond to the Associates in England), from the Registrar of the Consolidated Nisi Prius Court, and from the Circuit Registrars (who correspond to the Marshals in England) of the twelve Common Law Judges.

In addition to the disposal of actions at the Consolidated Nisi Prius Court, the proceedings at which have been included in the summary already given of the Nisi Prius business of the three Superior Courts, it has an appeal jurisdiction from the Courts of the Recorder of the City of Dublin and of the Chairman of the County of Dublin.

SUPERIOR COURTS

The number of these appeals or rehearings in 1867 and 1866 was as follows :—

The Nisi Prius proceedings on circuit have been included in the summaries of the business of the three Superior Courts. CIRCUIT BUSINESS.

In Ireland the Judges on circuit have several branches of jurisdiction not exercised by the Judges on circuit in England, viz., appeals of the nature of rehearings from the decisions of the Chairmen of Counties or Irish County Court Judges, and Recorders ; the fiatting of the presentments of the Grand Juries of the local tax in Ireland called Grand Jury Cess ; the hearing of traverses and objections to presentments, and claims for malicious injuries, and also the hearing of railway traverses under the Irish Railway Act, 1851 (14 & 15 Vic., c. 70). Appeals, Traverses, and Claims for Malicious Injuries.

The following summary shows the proceedings under these heads in 1867 as compared with those in 1866 :— (Table, pp. 181-2.)

CIRCUIT BUSINESS.	1867.	1866.	Increase, 1867.	Decrease, 1867.
Appeals from Chairmen of Counties entered,	321	351	—	30
„ Recorders entered,	6	2	4	—

Claims for Malicious Injuries,	263	328	—	65
Objections to such claims,	39	24	15	—
Appeals against rejection of such claims, .	11	7	4	—

The traverses and claims for malicious injuries for the County and City of Dublin are disposed of by the Court of Queen's Bench, and have been already noticed.

It appears from the above table that there was a decrease of 65 in the number of claims for malicious injuries on circuit, as well as (vide p. 140) in the County and City of Dublin, compared with the number in 1866.

The number of presentments fiatd on circuit have not been ascertained, as the Clerks of the Crown for Carlow, Meath, Wicklow, Down, and Cavan, have failed to make returns. The total amount for which presentments were made, was £971,529 5s. 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ d., and including the amount fiatd by the Grand Jury of the County of Dublin (£43,468 11s.), the total amount of Grand Jury cess imposed in 1867 was £1,014,997 16s. 6d. There were 408 presentments of the Grand Jury of the County of Dublin fiatd by a Judge of the Queen's Bench.

The presentments for the County of the City of Dublin are made by the Town Council of Dublin, and fiatd partly before a Judge of the Queen's Bench, as already noticed, and partly before the Recorder of Dublin ; they were 277 in number in 1867, and for the sum of £34,117 18s. 9d. Those for the City of Cork are made by the Town Council of Cork, and are fiatd before the Recorder of Cork, they were 111 in number, and for the total sum of £11,168 14s.

The High Court of Chancery in Ireland was founded so far back as the reign of King John, on the model of the Court of Chancery in England, and until the year 1828 the practice and procedure of the two Courts were very similar.

HIGH COURT OF CHANCERY.

The different measures of Chancery reform which had been introduced in recent years in the two countries had led to considerable differences in the practice and procedure in the two Courts, which are fully detailed in the First Report of the English and Irish Law and Chancery Commission which was made in 1863.

The Chancery Act of last session (Stat. 30 & 31 Vic., c. 44), has put an end to nearly all these differences, and assimilates the practice and procedure of the Irish to that of the English Court.

The official establishment of the High Court of Chancery in Ireland was modified by Stat. 30 & 31 Vic., c. 123, but as it came into operation on the 1st October, 1867, the returns which have been made adhere to the former division of offices.

The following summary gives a comparative view of the Court business in Chancery for the years 1867 and 1866 :—

It appears from this summary that there was an increase in the Court business in 1867 as compared with 1866.

This Table does not include any portion of the business before the Chancery Appeal Court, a return of which is given along with those from the other Supreme Courts of Appeal, at page 156.

Registrars' Office.

The business in the office of the Registrars of the Court of Chancery, as distinguished from the Court business, is shown for 1867 and 1866 in the following summary :—

Fees received,	5,357 5 4½	5,257 12 10½	99 12 6	—

This summary shows a very large increase in the number of orders drawn up, and a large increase in the number of documents filed, in the amount of receipts on the accounts, and in the amount of fees received.

The proceedings in the office of the Lord Chancellor's Secretary are shown by the following summary :—

HIGH COURT OF CHANCERY.

Lord Chancellor's
Secretary's Office.
(Table, p. 183.)

LORD CHANCELLOR'S SECRETARY'S OFFICE.	1867.	1866.	Increase, 1867.	Decrease, 1867.

Before Master of the Rolls, .	351	293	58	—
Total orders,	908	973	63	—
Warrants as to Magistrates' Commissions,	436	198	238	—

It appears from the above summary that there was an increase in minor and lunacy matters, in orders and in warrants as to Magistrates' commissions, and a decrease in petitions in other matters. The returns for 1867 show that the number of distinct minor matters or families of minors under the protection of the Court increased from 439 in 1866, to 449 in 1867; and that the number of individual minors who are wards of Court increased from 922 in 1866, to 941 in 1867.

In the office of Secretary to the Master of the Rolls the number of petitions was 319, as compared with 239 in 1866, showing an increase of 80. These petitions are not in addition to, but form part of those upon which the Lord Chancellor in chamber made an order for hearing at the Rolls.

In the Crown and Hanaper Office there was a considerable increase of business, (Table, p. 184. from 1,580 Official Acts in 1866, to 2,072 in 1867.

The business in the offices of the Four Masters in Chancery, in addition to the hearing of cause petitions under the 15th section of the Irish Chancery Regulation Act of 1850, (Table, p. 184.) is indicated by the following summary :—

MASTERS' OFFICES.	Three Masters.	Receiver Master.	Total, 1867.	Total, 1866.	Increase, 1867.	Decrease, 1867.
Charges,	375	30	405	451	—	46

Sales of estates under order of Court, . .	30	1	31	34	—	3
Statements of facts as to management of property,	128	138	266	314	—	48

The returns also show the number of summonses on references in minor matters, lunacy matters, general cause petitions, &c. As the returns do not seem to have been made on the same principle, a summary is not given of them, but it may be stated that they indicate a great amount of reference business in the Masters' Offices.

Sales under the Court of Chancery decreased from 34 in 1866, to 31 in 1867.

The number of accounts, other than in minor and lunacy matters (395) show a slight decrease on the numbers (410) in 1866. Notwithstanding the statutable restrictions on the appointment of Receivers, there is still, as indicated by these numbers, a large quantity of property under the management of the Court of Chancery. This is further indicated by the number of statements of facts as to the management of such property (266). The receipts in the accounts filed in the Court of Chancery amounted in 1867 to £1,083,948, showing an increase of £37,080 on the receipts for 1866.

HIGH COURT OF

The operation of the rule, for some time in force, of referring receiver cases to the Receiver Master is shown by the number of accounts in his office (400), being a decrease upon the number (448) in 1866, whilst the average number in the offices of each of the other three Masters is only 73.

The fees collected in the Masters' offices amounted for the year ending 30th October, 1867, to £1,922, but this does not include the Chancery Fund duties in lieu of fees, which are imposed chiefly on business in the Masters' offices, and the produce of which is carried to the Consolidated Fund.

Examiner's
Office.
(Table, p. 184.)

One of the differences of practice and procedure between the Courts of Chancery in Ireland and in England is the very small number of witnesses examined before the Examiner in Ireland. Thus there were only 37 witnesses examined in 1867, and the fees amounted to only £78.

Companies
Winding-up Acts.
(Table, p. 185.)

Under the Joint Stock Companies Winding-up Acts there are 3 cases returned as in the Court of Chancery within the year, namely, the Tipperary Bank, which has been in the Court since 17th March, 1856, the Lough Swilly Hotel Company, and the Kings-town Royal Marine Hotel Company. The usual proceeding for winding up companies in Ireland is in the Court of Bankruptcy. There is, in the case of the Tipperary Bank, a sum of £16,091 available for distribution, in the case of the Lough Swilly Hotel Company there are no available assets, and in the case of the Royal Marine Hotel Company the winding up was dismissed, the case having been compromised by the payment of 10s. in the £1.

Rolls Office.
(Table, p. 185.)

In the Pleadings department of the office of the Deputy Keeper of the Rolls the business, as compared with that in 1866, was as follows:—

ROLLS OFFICE—PLEADINGS DEPARTMENT.	1867.	1866.	Increase, 1867.	Decrease, 1867.
Bills,	3	—	3	—
Cause petitions,	647	615	32	—
Answering affidavits,	258	222	36	—
Interrogatories and answers thereto,	3	—	3	—
Amendments,	77	63	14	—
Suggestions,	13	20	—	7

It appears from this summary that there was a considerable increase in the number of cause petitions, viz., from 615 in 1866 to 647 in 1867.

Appearances and Writs Office.
(Table, p. 185.)

In the office of the Clerk of Appearances and Writs the number of appearances entered was 663, as compared with 678 in 1866. The following are the numbers of the principal writs issued:—

WRITS IN CHANCERY.	1867.	1866.	Increase, 1867.	Decrease, 1867.
Writs of subpoena,	56	77	—	21

„ fi. fa.,	17	20	—	3
„ partition,	—	1	—	1
„ error,	4	4	—	—
Other Writs,	36	—	36	—

It appears from the foregoing summary that there was a decrease in the number of writs issued in 1867.

There is a department of this office peculiar to the Irish Court of Chancery, called “The Notice Department,” through which all notices are served, instead of service being proved by affidavit. The number of persons served through this department was 32,296 in 1867, showing a large increase on the number of persons (18,714) served in 1866.

In the Affidavit Office the number of affidavits filed was 5,110, as compared with 5,048 in 1866, showing an increase of 62.

In the Recognizance Office the number of recognizances filed was 107, as compared with 123 in 1866.

The following Table shows the business in the Chancery Taxing Office for 1867, as compared with 1866:—

CHANCERY TAXING OFFICE.	1867.	1866.	Increase, 1867.	Decrease, 1867.
Number of bills taxed, . . .	1,789	1,895	—	106
Number of items, . . .	249,666	258,480	—	8,814
Number of certificates, . . .	1,748	1,758	—	10
Amount of Chancery Fund on summons and certificate, . . .	£ s. d. 2,949 5 0	£ s. d. 3,129 17 0	£ s. d. —	£ s. d. 180 12 0
Amount of costs, . . .	123,534 10 2	129,718 6 11	—	6,183 16 9

It appears from this summary that there was a considerable decrease in 1867 in the amount of Chancery costs taxed.

The jurisdiction in lunacy under the Queen's Sign Manual has almost invariably been intrusted to the Lord Chancellor, or Keeper of the Great Seal in Ireland. The business to be transacted not being sufficient to support an entirely distinct department, it devolves, to a large extent, on the ordinary officers of the Court of Chancery, the references and passing of accounts being before one of the Masters in Chancery, and included in the business of the Masters already noticed.

The petitions again are lodged in the office of the Secretary of the Lord Chancellor, and are returned in the business of his office, whilst the inquisitions are issued from and returned to the Clerk of the Crown and Hanaper, and are included in the business of that office.

The jurisdiction was originally the same in Ireland and in England, but the new practice and procedure, introduced in England by the Lunacy Regulation Acts of 1853 and 1862, have not yet been extended to Ireland.

The number of orders for commissions of Lunacy was 16 in 1867, and 8 in 1866, and the number of lunatics under the care of the Court was 150 in 1867, as compared with 143 in 1866, showing an increase of 7.

In connexion with the small number of lunatics protected by the Court out of the entire number in Ireland, which may be estimated at 15,650* the difference which exists between Ireland and England as to jurisdiction is to be borne in mind. A lunatic cannot be found so in Ireland except by inquisition at a considerable expense, necessary for the remuneration of Commissioners, Jury, and Sheriff; whilst in England, under the Lunacy Regulation Act of 1853, the Lord Chancellor can dispense with a jury, and authorize a finding under the general commission of the Masters.

The chief business in the Lunacy Office was as follows:—

LUNACY OFFICE.	1867.	1866.	Increase, 1867.	Decrease, 1867.
Orders of the Lord Chancellor, . . .	214	197	17	—
Affidavits, . . .	275	283	—	8

Accounts taken by Masters, . . .	61	64	—	3
Amounts of receipts on such accounts, .	£ 52,796	£ 61,212	£ —	£ 8,416

* There were on 31st December, 1867, 626 lunatics paid for in private licensed houses, 5,212 in public asylums, 209 maintained by Government, 334 in gaols, and 2,705 in workhouses, making 9,086 publicly treated as insane. It is estimated that besides these there were 6,564 persons reputed insane at large, making in all 15,650.—Vide 17th Report on Lunatic Asylums, Ireland, 1867, p. 6.

High Court of Chancery.

The summary indicates no material change in the amount of business in 1867.

Under the General Orders in Lunacy of 1860, the Committees of the person are required to make returns, and the Medical Inspectors appointed thereunder to make reports as to lunatics under their inspection.

Accountant-
General's Office.
(Table, p. 187.)

The return of the Accountant-General shows the payments into the Court of Chancery during the year ended 1st October, and the balance on that day in the books of the office.

	Year ended 1st October, 1867.	Year ended 1st October, 1866.	Increase, 1867.	Decrease, 1867.

Balance at end of year,	4,194,887	4,256,648	—	61,761

These figures indicate a considerable increase in the amount paid into Court during the year 1867, whilst the balance at the end of the year shows a decrease of £61,761; which is only about 1½ per cent. on the entire balance of £4,194,887.

Landed Estates
Court.

(Table, p. 187.)

The Landed Estates Court possesses several jurisdictions peculiar to Ireland. The first of these is the selling of Estates with a Parliamentary title, for which the Incumbered Estates Court was first established in 1849 for a limited time, and after several renewals of its jurisdiction the perpetual jurisdiction of the Landed Estates Court was established in 1858.

Sales.

The value and rental of the estates sold are indicated by the following summary :—

	1867.	1866.	Increase, 1867.	Decrease, 1867.
Amount of purchase-money, . . .	£1,518,307	1,258,585	£259,722	—
Net rental of estates sold, . . .	£89,953	65,350	£24,603	—
Number of sales,	309	281	28	—

The petitions for sales relate chiefly, as might be expected, to incumbered estates, the proportion being as follows :—

	Incumbered Estates.	Unincumbered.	Settled.
Petitions for sales, 1867,	401	34	1
„ „ 1866,	404	46	—
Decrease in 1867,	3	12	1

This shows that while there was a slight decrease in the number of cases, the properties sold must have been much larger, as there was an increase in the aggregate purchase-money and rentals.

Declaration of Title, Partitions, and Exchanges.

In the other branches of jurisdiction with respect to estates, the proceedings were as follow :—

Landed Estates Court.	Declaration of Title.	Partitions.	Exchanges.	Intermixed Lands.	Apportion- ments of Rent.
1867,	18	6	1	—	—
1866,	18	11	1	—	2
Increase in 1867,	—	—	—	—	—
Decrease in 1867,	—	5	—	—	2

It appears from the Tables that the number of petitions filed was 472, while in the Court of Chancery the number of petitions to the Lord Chancellor was 1,041, and the number of cause petitions under the 15th section of the Chancery Regulation Act was set down as 395, and the number of general cause petitions set down in Chancery during the year was 191. LANDED ESTATES COURT.

The amount of costs taxed and certified in the Landed Estates Court was £56,826, and the amount of costs lodged for taxation was £73,349. Taxing Office.
(Table, p. 187.)

The number of affidavits filed in the Landed Estates Court was 4,755, while the number in the Affidavit Office of the Court of Chancery was 5,110. Affidavits.

Under the Tenure and Improvement of Land (Ireland) Act, 1860, the Landed Estates Court exercises two jurisdictions—1st. That of sanctioning improvements by limited owners, and giving them a charge by way of annuity; and 2nd. That of sanctioning building leases, and leases not within the exact terms of the Act or settlement of the particular estate. Tenure and Improvement of land.

There were three building leases sanctioned in 1867. In the previous year there had not been any. There was no statement as to limited owners' improvements lodged in 1867, and in 1866 there had been but one. There had been one similar statement, without order, in 1865. (Table, p. 187.)

A return has been obtained for the year 1867, of the proceedings in the Record of Title Office, and it shows that the titles of 110 estates have been recorded, of the value of £395,159. Record of Title Office.
(Table, p. 188.)

The jurisdiction of the Court of Probate is similar to that of the Court of Probate in England. COURT OF PROBATE.

The following is a summary of the leading heads of business of the Court and Principal Registry in 1867, as compared with 1866 :— Principal Registry.
(Table, p. 188.)

COURT OF PROBATE—PRINCIPAL REGISTRY.	1867.	1866.	Increase, 1867.	Decrease, 1867.

In the District Registries of the Court of Probate the chief business in 1867 and 1866 was as follows :— District Registries.
(Table, p. 188.)

COURT OF PROBATE—DISTRICT REGISTRIES.	1867.	1866.	Increase, 1867.	Decrease, 1867.

Total Amount of Fees received,	5,593 1 4	5,225 12 8	367 8 8	—

It appears from these summaries that the 1,698 probates and administrations granted in the Principal Registry, when added to the 1,572 granted in the District Registries, give a total of 3,270, or 110 in excess of the number (3,160) in 1866, thus showing a con-

COURT OF PROBATE. siderable increase in the business of the Court. The number of causes in Court (103) shows a decrease of 28 on the preceding year, whilst the number of causes tried (42) shows a decrease of 10.

The Accountant-General of the Court of Chancery in Ireland is also Accountant-General of the Court of Probate. It appears, however, that there were only 2 accounts open on the 1st October, 1867.

From a return obtained from the Comptroller of Stamp Duties, Inland Revenue Office, Dublin, it appears that the amount of property under which probates and administrations were sworn in Ireland in 1867, was £5,808,644, and the amount of duty received thereon in the year 1867, was £111,058.

ECCLESIASTICAL COURTS.

(Table, p. 189.)

The Ecclesiastical Courts and Registries Act (Ireland) 1864 (27 & 28 Vic., c. 54), came into operation on the 16th September, 1865. There cannot be any comparison of the business transacted in 1867 by the 12 Diocesan Courts created by that Act with the business in 1866, as the returns obtained were only for 6 months of the latter year.

Divorce and Matrimonial Causes.

HIGH COURT OF ADMIRALTY.

(Table, p. 190.)

There have been no divorce or matrimonial causes returned for the year 1867.

The history of the High Court of Admiralty in Ireland is given in the Report of the Royal Commission which inquired into the Court in 1864.

It appears that “the jurisdiction of the Court of Admiralty had its origin in Ireland as in England, in the authority of the Admiral, of whom the Judge was the deputy.” There were distinct Admirals for Ireland as early as 1414.

The constitution of the High Court of Admiralty in Ireland until 1867 depended upon an Act of the Irish Parliament, passed in the Session 1783–84 (23 & 24 Geo. III., c. 14), and upon the 8th Article of the Union (39 & 40 Geo. III., c. 67).

Up to 1829 the jurisdiction of the Court of Admiralty in Ireland and in England in civil and maritime causes was in all essential respects the same; but the reforms introduced in England by various Acts since that time were not extended to Ireland. The Act passed last year (Stat. 30 & 31 Vic. c. 114) for the purpose of carrying out the recommendations of the Commissioners has established uniformity of practice and procedure, and carried out a reform in the staff of the Court recommended by the Royal Commissioners of 1864.

No returns were received from the Registrar of the business of the Court for the years 1864, 1865, or 1866. An account of the business for the preceeding 5 years is given in the Report already referred to. The Marshal made a return of the business transacted during 6 months of the year 1866. Returns have been received from both these officers for 1867, and the following is a summary of the Registrar's return of the business during the year ended 1st November, 1867:—

The following is a summary of the return made by the Marshal. The returns both for 1866 and 1867, being only for portions of those years, do not admit of comparison:—

The jurisdiction in Bankruptcy and in Insolvency in Ireland is different from the jurisdiction in England, being regulated by the Irish Bankrupt and Insolvent Act, 1857, passed prior to the Bankruptcy Act of 1861, for England and Wales.

BANKRUPTCY AND

The proceedings in Bankruptcy and in Insolvency are shown by the following summaries:—

Insolvency.
(Table, p. 191.)

This summary shows an increase in the number of petitions for adjudication in Bankruptcy, viz., from 116 in 1866, to 177 in 1867. There were 192 persons declared bankrupt in 1867, the number in 1866 having been 156.

BANKRUPTCY AND INSOLVENCY.

The Taxation of Costs in Bankruptcy and in Insolvency was as follows:—

Taxation of costs

In Insolvency,	2,671 18 5	636 12 9	2,035 5 8

The Accountant-General of the Court of Chancery in Ireland was appointed Accountant-General in Bankruptcy and in Insolvency under the Irish Bankrupt and Insolvent Act, 1857, Stat. 20 & 21 Vic., c. 60, s. 407. But it appears that in neither 1863, 1864, 1865, 1866, or 1867, was any account open, nor were any of the funds of the suitors of the Court standing to his credit.

(Table, p. 191.) The following sums were standing to the credit of the Chief Clerk in Insolvency as appears from his return:—

SUPREME COURTS OF APPEAL.

Returns have been received from the different Supreme Courts of Appeal.

House of Lords.
(Table, p. 192.)

There was 1 appeal from the Exchequer Chamber in Ireland presented to the House of Lords in 1867, as compared with 2 in 1866, which is still returned as effective for hearing.

From the Court of Chancery in Ireland only 4 appeals were presented in 1867, and 6 in 1866; 1 decree was reversed, 1 case was dismissed for want of prosecution, and 6 returned as effective for hearing.

Privy Council,
Ireland.
(Table, p. 193.)

The Privy Council in Ireland has original jurisdiction in some cases under the Church Temporalities Act. It also hears applications for the prohibition of burials in grounds where their continuance is alleged to be injurious. It has appellate jurisdiction in cases of tithe composition, and of improvement or dilapidation of ecclesiastical residences, and against Fishery By-laws. No proceedings, however, took place in 1867.

Chancery Appeal
Court.
(Table, p. 193.)

The proceedings of the Chancery Appeal Court in 1867 and 1866 are shown in the following table:—

APPEALS TO CHANCERY APPEAL COURT.	1867.	1866.	Increase.	Decrease.

Judge of Court of Probate,	1	—	1	—
Judges in Bankruptcy and Insolvency:

The comparison shows a slight increase in the business in this Court as compared with 1866, in which year, however, there had been a marked falling off in the amount of business as compared with 1865.

In the Court of Exchequer Chamber the number of proceedings in error and notices of appeal in error lodged was 13, viz.:—1 from the Queen's Bench, 7 from the Common Pleas, and 5 from the Exchequer. There were 3 remanets at the end of 1866, which had increased to 7 remanets at the end of 1867. There were 9 cases disposed of; of these, in 5 cases the decision of the Court below was affirmed, and in 4 it was reversed.

SUPREME COURTS

Chamber.
(Table, p. 193.)

The proceedings in the Exchequer Chamber upon registry appeals under the Irish Parliamentary Voters Act, 13 & 14 Vic., c. 69, were as follow:—

In the High Court of Delegates an Admiralty appeal case entered in 1865 is still pending.

Delegates.

The Courts of Chairmen of Counties in Ireland correspond to the English County Courts, but had a much earlier origin, having been founded so far back as 1796, by an Act of the Irish Parliament, Stat. 36 Geo. III., c. 25.

COURTS OF CHAIR-MEN OF COUNTIES.

The returns from the Clerks of the Peace as to the proceedings in the Courts of Chairmen of Counties are again incomplete, and there have been no returns at all received from the 5 Registrars of Recorders. From only 4 of the Courts of Chairmen of Counties have complete returns been received with regard to Ejectments and proceedings as to land, and from only seventeen have complete returns been received with regard to Civil Bills and proceedings other than Ejectments or proceedings relating to land. There are 25 incomplete returns of proceedings as to land, and 12 incomplete returns of other proceedings. There are 5 returns wanting, besides the 5 not made by Registrars of Recorders, making a deficiency of 10 returns.

Civil Bill
Ejectments.
(Tables, pp. 194-5.)

I have added an estimate, founded upon population, for the Courts that are deficient so as to give an approximation to the total for all Ireland, as nearly correct as is possible.

As the Committee of the House of Commons of the present Session, appointed to consider Grand Jury Presentments in Ireland, has recommended that the office of Clerk of the Peace be consolidated with that of Clerk of the Crown, and reconstituted, it is unnecessary to say more with respect to the want of returns than to recommend that in the reconstruction of the office provision be made for securing the returns which are required for the Judicial Statistics, and to suggest that the office of Registrar of Recorders being paid by fees instead of salary, and being in other respects similar to that of Clerk of the Peace, stands in like need of being re-arranged.

The following Tables give a summary of ejectments and proceedings as to land and other proceedings in the Courts of Chairmen of Counties and Recorders.

The proportion of cases heard with a jury was very small, the estimated number being only 206, out of the estimated total number (53,744) of judgments, or 38 in 10,000 cases.

In the English County Courts the number of cases in 1866 heard with a jury was 879 of the total number (488,165) of judgments, or 18 cases in every 10,000, a much smaller proportion than in Ireland.

The statistics of the proceedings under the "Tenure and Improvement of Land (Ireland) Act, 1860," indicate results similar to those shown in previous years. There was an estimated number of 8 leases sanctioned as compared with 4 in the preceding year. There was a total absence of proceedings under the Act as to tenants' improvements.

1866, to 29,040 in 1867, and an increase of 40 dismisses (or '7 per cent.) from 5,694 in 1866 to 5,736 in 1867.

CIVIL BILL
REPLEVINS.

The returns of the Process-servers show a very small number of Replevins, the entire number served by Process-servers being only 20 as compared with 3,781 Civil Bill Ejectments. These figures may be taken as some indication that the practice of distraining for rent has fallen into disuse. (Tables, pp. 198, 200.)

Returns have been received from the Sheriffs of only 18 counties out of 32, and from only 4 counties of cities and towns out of 8.

Executions of Writs, &c., on
of Land.

I have had, as in the Supplemental Report for 1866, to attempt to supply the want of returns from so many of these local officers by an estimate founded upon population so as to give the nearest approximation which the want of returns from the Sheriffs admit of to the total number of ejectments executed in Ireland in 1867. (Table, pp. 196-7.)

The numbers ascertained to have been served in the counties from which returns have been received and the numbers estimated are stated in the following table :—

PROVINCES.	Population in 1861.	Ejectments executed.
LEINSTER :
Returned for nine Counties and two Counties of Cities or Towns, .	867,558	299	Returned.
Estimated for three Counties and one County of City of Leinster, .	587,381	202	Estimated.

IRELAND :

Estimated for fourteen Counties and four Counties of Cities or Towns, .	3,214,524	725	Estimated.
Total of Ireland,	5,795,869	1,364	Estimated.

If then number (274) of warrants at Petty Sessions against cottier tenants and of warrants (3,228) against overholding weekly tenants in towns be added to the number (1,364) of ejectments of the Superior Courts and Civil Bill ejectments estimated as above to have been executed, it appears that the number of executions in ejectments of all kinds in Ireland in 1867 may be estimated at 4,866.

Of the 639 ejectments returned as executed, it appears that 415 were for non-payment of rent, and 224 were for over-holding. This is a different proportion from that which prevails in the case of warrants against cottier tenants. Of these 3,452 were for overholding, and 43 for non-payment of rent. There were 7 ejectments for waste.

It further appears from the statistics that in the counties and counties of cities and towns for which returns have been received the proportion of ejectments executed by the Sheriff and by Special Bailiffs, was as follows :—

* Donegal, from which an imperfect return was received, is included in this estimate.

The returns afford evidence of the satisfactory working of the change in the law effected by the Landlord and Tenant Act of 1860 (23 & 24 Vic., c. 154, sec. 94), by which the necessity of disturbing all the under-tenants in every ejectment of a head-tenant was removed. It appears that in the counties from which returns have been received no fewer than 59 under-tenants were, by consent, left unmolested on the execution of ejectments; and adding to this number an estimate of 56 for the rest of Ireland, we have about 115 families in one year saved from unnecessary disturbance by this salutary change in the law.

It appears that in the counties for which returns have been made there was one case in which the assistance of the Sheriff was necessary to enforce obedience to the decrees of the Court of Chancery, and that there were 6 cases in which such assistance was demanded to enforce the orders of the Landed Estates Court.

The difficulty which has been experienced for several years of getting returns from the Clerks of the Peace and Registrars of Recorders as to the number of Processes served for the Court of the Chairmen of the County and Recorders' Court (12 of these officers out of 36, or 33 per cent., having omitted to make returns in 1863; 14, or 39 per cent., in 1864; and 15, or 42 per cent., in 1865), has rendered it necessary to apply to the process-servers for returns for the years 1866 and 1867. The process-servers in Ireland are statutable officers, appointed by the Judge of each Court, and they receive a salary from the annual votes of Parliament. The result for 1867 has been very satisfactory, as only 7 per cent. (51 out of 755) of these officers have omitted to make returns. The result is shown in the following table:—

Returns have also been obtained showing that 3,781 Civil Bill Ejectments were served by the same officers. But as the bailiffs of landlords, and other persons, may serve Ejectments or Replevins, whilst the official process-servers alone can serve other Civil Bills, it is plain that this number furnishes only the minimum number of Civil Bill Ejectments actually ascertained to have been served. To obtain a maximum which there is no reason to suppose the actual number exceeds, it is only necessary to estimate that the proportion of Civil Bill Ejectments served are to the Ejectments heard in court, in the same proportion as in the case of other Civil Bills, and the maximum thus obtained is 15,691.

If the power of serving Ejectments by others than the statutable process-servers were limited to persons who, though nominated by private parties, were registered in court; and if such registered process-servers were required to keep the same books and make the same returns, with respect to the processes served, as the official process-servers, complete statistics could be obtained on this subject.

In the absence of such means an attempt was made, as noticed in the Supplemental Report for 1866, to ascertain for that year, by estimates of the official process-servers, the limit of error in taking the number served by them as the entire number. Similar estimates were applied for 1867, but as only 10 per cent. of the process-servers made estimates, and as these disclosed a similar diversity of practice as that noticed in 1866, it is impossible to found any general conclusion upon these estimates; and the statistics of this branch of law proceedings must remain in an unsatisfactory state until the plan suggested, or some other plan, for obtaining exact returns be adopted.

The returns from Clerks of Petty Sessions have been made more complete than in any preceding year by including the proceedings against over-holding tenants in towns under Stat. 14 and 15 Vic., c. 92, s. 15.

The first return of proceedings at Petty Sessions relates to proceedings which took place in 1867 as to Cottier Tenants under the Landlord and Tenant Law Amendment Act, Ireland, 1860 (Stat. 23 & 24 Vic., c. 154).

The proceedings under this Act are taken at Petty Sessions for the summary recovery of Cottier Tenements either for Waste under the 84th Section, for Non-payment of Rent under the 85th Section, or for Over-holding under the 86th Section.

A Cottier Tenant is defined by the 81st Section to be any person holding by agreement or memorandum in writing from the Landlord a tenement consisting of a Dwelling-house or Cottage without land, or with any portion of land not exceeding half an acre, statute measure, at a rent not exceeding the rate of £5 by the year, for one month, or from month to month, or in like manner for any lesser period of time, the Landlord undertaking to keep and maintain the Dwelling-house, or Cottage in tenantable condition and repair. This definition is held not to include the case of Weekly Tenants, who are dealt with under Stat. 14 & 15 Vic., c. 92, sec. 15, already referred to.

The proceedings against Cottier and Weekly Tenants in 1867 appear from the returns to have been as follow:—

PROCEEDINGS
AGAINST COTTIER
TENANTS.

With regard to the civil jurisdiction of Petty Sessions Courts, it appears that in 601 courts there were 112,102 cases. As the total number of courts is 605 this figure represents almost the whole number of civil cases disposed of.

As the number of days on which Courts of Petty Sessions were held was 13,631, the 112,102 cases give an average of 8 cases a day for each court. These courts have, however, extensive criminal business besides.

The returns further indicate the number of days on which Petty Sessions were not held in consequence of the non-attendance of Magistrates. This number is returned as 1,257, as compared with 13,631 days on which Petty Sessions Courts were held, which gives a proportion of 8·3 per cent.; but this proportion is differently distributed in different counties in Ireland.

The number of local Charter Courts in Ireland is very limited since the abolition of the manor courts in 1859 by Stat. 22 Vic., c. 14. The local Charter Courts still existing are the Lord Mayor's Court in Dublin, and the Courts of Conscience, where these jurisdictions were preserved by the Irish Municipal Corporation Reform Act in 1840. Returns have been received from six out of eight of these courts in 1867, and the following summary shows the business in that year compared with the business transacted in the same courts in 1866.

CONCLUSION.

The following is a summary of some of the principal results of the Irish Judicial Statistics for 1867:—

1. In the Consolidated Writ and Seal Office for the three Superior Courts of Common Law the number of writs issued was 17,140 in 1867, being 1,004 more than the number (16,136) in 1866, and the number of writs of execution was 4,878 in 1867, being 265 more than the number (4,613) in 1866. These figures indicate a considerable increase in the pressure for debt.

2. The entire amount recovered on Judgments of different classes in 1867 was £670,005, being £255,274 less than the amount (£925,279) recovered in 1866.

3. There was a large decrease in the amount of business before the full Court in the three Superior Courts of Common Law.

4. There was a decrease in the number of special rules on the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench, a decrease in writs of Habeas Corpus, and a decrease in the number of writs of Mandamus.

5. The reforms introduced in 1843, in the practice of the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench in England, have not yet been extended to Ireland.

6. There was a decrease in the number of claims for malicious injuries in the County and City of Dublin from 9 in 1866 to 3 in 1867.

7. The number of bills of sale registered was 334, being 25 less than the number (359) in 1866, and the acknowledgments by married women filed were 405, being 132 less than the number (537) in 1866.

8. There was a decrease of 31 in the number of revenue cases, and an increase of 3 in the number of legacy and succession duty cases.

9. In the Judgments Office there was a decrease of 231 in the number of judgments re-registered.

10. The number of causes tried at Nisi Prius in Dublin and on Circuit was 942 and the amount recovered by verdict £31,683, being less than half the amount recovered on 930 verdicts in 1866.

11. The amount of Grand Jury Cess imposed in 1867 by the presentments fiated by the Judges on circuit and by the Court of Queen's Bench in Dublin amounted to £1,014,997, being £15,117 more than the amount of Grand Jury Cess (£999,880) imposed in 1866.

12. In the Court of Chancery the number of proceedings before the Lord Chancellor and Master of the Rolls and of cause petitions, before the Masters in Chancery, was 2,007, being an increase of 144, or 8 per cent. on the number (1,863) of the proceedings in 1866.

13. The number of minors under the protection of the Court increased from 922 in 1866, to 941 in 1867.

14. In the Crown and Hanaper Office there was a considerable increase in business from 1,580 in 1866, to 2,072 in 1867.

15. The number of accounts other than in minor and lunacy matters was 395, being a decrease of 15 on the number (410) in 1866. A large quantity of landed property appears to be still under the management of the Court of Chancery, the receipts on the accounts filed amounting to £1,083,948, being an increase of £37,080 on the receipts in 1866. The amount of Chancery costs in 1867 was £123,534, being a decrease of £6,184 on the amount in 1866.

16. There were three companies being wound up in Chancery under the Winding-up Act, viz., the Tipperary Bank, the Lough Swilly Hotel Company, and the Kingstown Royal Marine Hotel Company. In the case of the Tipperary Bank a sum of £16,091 was available for distribution; in the case of the Lough Swilly Hotel Company there were no available assets; and the winding-up of the Kingstown Royal Marine Company was dismissed, the case having been compromised by the payment of 10s. in the £1. The usual proceeding for winding-up companies in Ireland is in the Court of Bankruptcy.

17. The number of lunatics under the care of the Court of Chancery in 1867 was 150, being an increase of 7 on the preceding year; and the incomes of 61 of these lunatics, indicated by the 61 accounts passed before the Masters, amounted to £52,796 in the year.

18. The extended jurisdiction for the care of the property of lunatics, established in England by the Lunacy Regulation Acts of 1853 and 1862, has not yet been extended to Ireland.

19. In the Landed Estates Court the number of sales was 309, and the purchase-money amounted to £1,518,307, showing a considerable increase on the amount (£1,258,585) realized in the preceding year.

CONCLUSION.

20. In the Landed Estates Court in 1867 there were three building leases sanctioned, but no statement as to limited owner's improvements, lodged under the Tenure and Improvement of Land (Ireland) Act, 1860. In the Courts of the Chairmen of the County there was an estimated number of 8 leases sanctioned, but there were no proceedings under the Tenants' Improvement Clauses of the Act.

21. In the Record of Title Office, under the recent Act, 110 estates were recorded, of the value of £395,159.

22. In the Court of Probate the total number of probates and administrations granted in 1867 in all the Registries was 3,270, showing an increase of 110 on the number granted in the preceding year.

23. The changes in practice and procedure in the Ecclesiastical Courts do not appear to have had much effect on the divorce and matrimonial causes, there having been 4 petitions for divorce in the six months, and 3 petitions for alimony.

24. A return has been received from the Marshal of the High Court of Admiralty but as last year's return was only for the portion of the year subsequent to his appointment, no comparison could be made.

25. In Bankruptcy there was an increase in the number of petitions for adjudication from 116 in 1866 to 177 in 1867; and there were 192 persons declared bankrupt in 1867, the number in 1866 being 156.

26. With respect to the Supreme Courts of Appeal, there was only 1 appeal presented to the House of Lords from the Exchequer Chamber in Ireland, and 4 from the Court of Chancery; there were 31 appeals to the Chancery Appeal Court, being an increase of 3 on the number in 1866; in the Court of Exchequer Chamber there were 6 memoranda of error, 7 notices, and 1 registry appeal.

27. There was a decrease in the number of summonses issued by the Lord Mayor's Court in Dublin, and by the Local Courts of Conscience.

28. The returns of the Civil cases at Petty Sessions show 112,102 cases in 601 courts. As only four courts have failed to make returns, this figure represents very nearly the whole number of civil cases disposed of.

29. In the Courts of Chairmen of Counties and Recorders, there was an increase in the number of decrees in 1867 as compared with 1866 (in the 25 courts which have made returns in both years) of 5,557 (or 23 per cent.), viz., from 23,483 in 1866 to 29,040 in 1867.

30. Complete returns as to ejectments have been received from only 4 Courts of Chairmen of Counties, and as to other Civil Bills from only 17 Courts. The Clerks of the Peace have sent in 25 incomplete returns as to Ejectments, and 12 incomplete returns as to other Civil Bills, and from 5 Courts returns are entirely wanting; but as the Committee of the House of Commons, on Grand Jury Presentments, in the present Session, has recommended that the office of Clerk of the Peace should be reconstituted, it is unnecessary to take further notice of this deficiency.

31. The Registrars of the five Recorders have made the same default as some of the Clerks of the Peace. To secure complete returns in future, it would be desirable that the position of these officers should be considered in any re-arrangement of the office of the Clerk of the Peace, so as to put them upon the system of salary instead of fees.

32. The Sheriffs of only 22, out of 41 Counties and Counties of Cities, have made returns.

33. For want of the necessary returns from these officers, it has been necessary to attempt to supply the default by an estimate founded on a proportion of the number of executions by them to the population in the different provinces, and the number estimated in this way is 1,364. If to these be added 274 warrants at Petty Sessions against Cottier Tenants and 3,228 warrants at the same Courts against overholding Tenants in Towns, the total executions of Ejectments of all kinds may be estimated at 4,866.

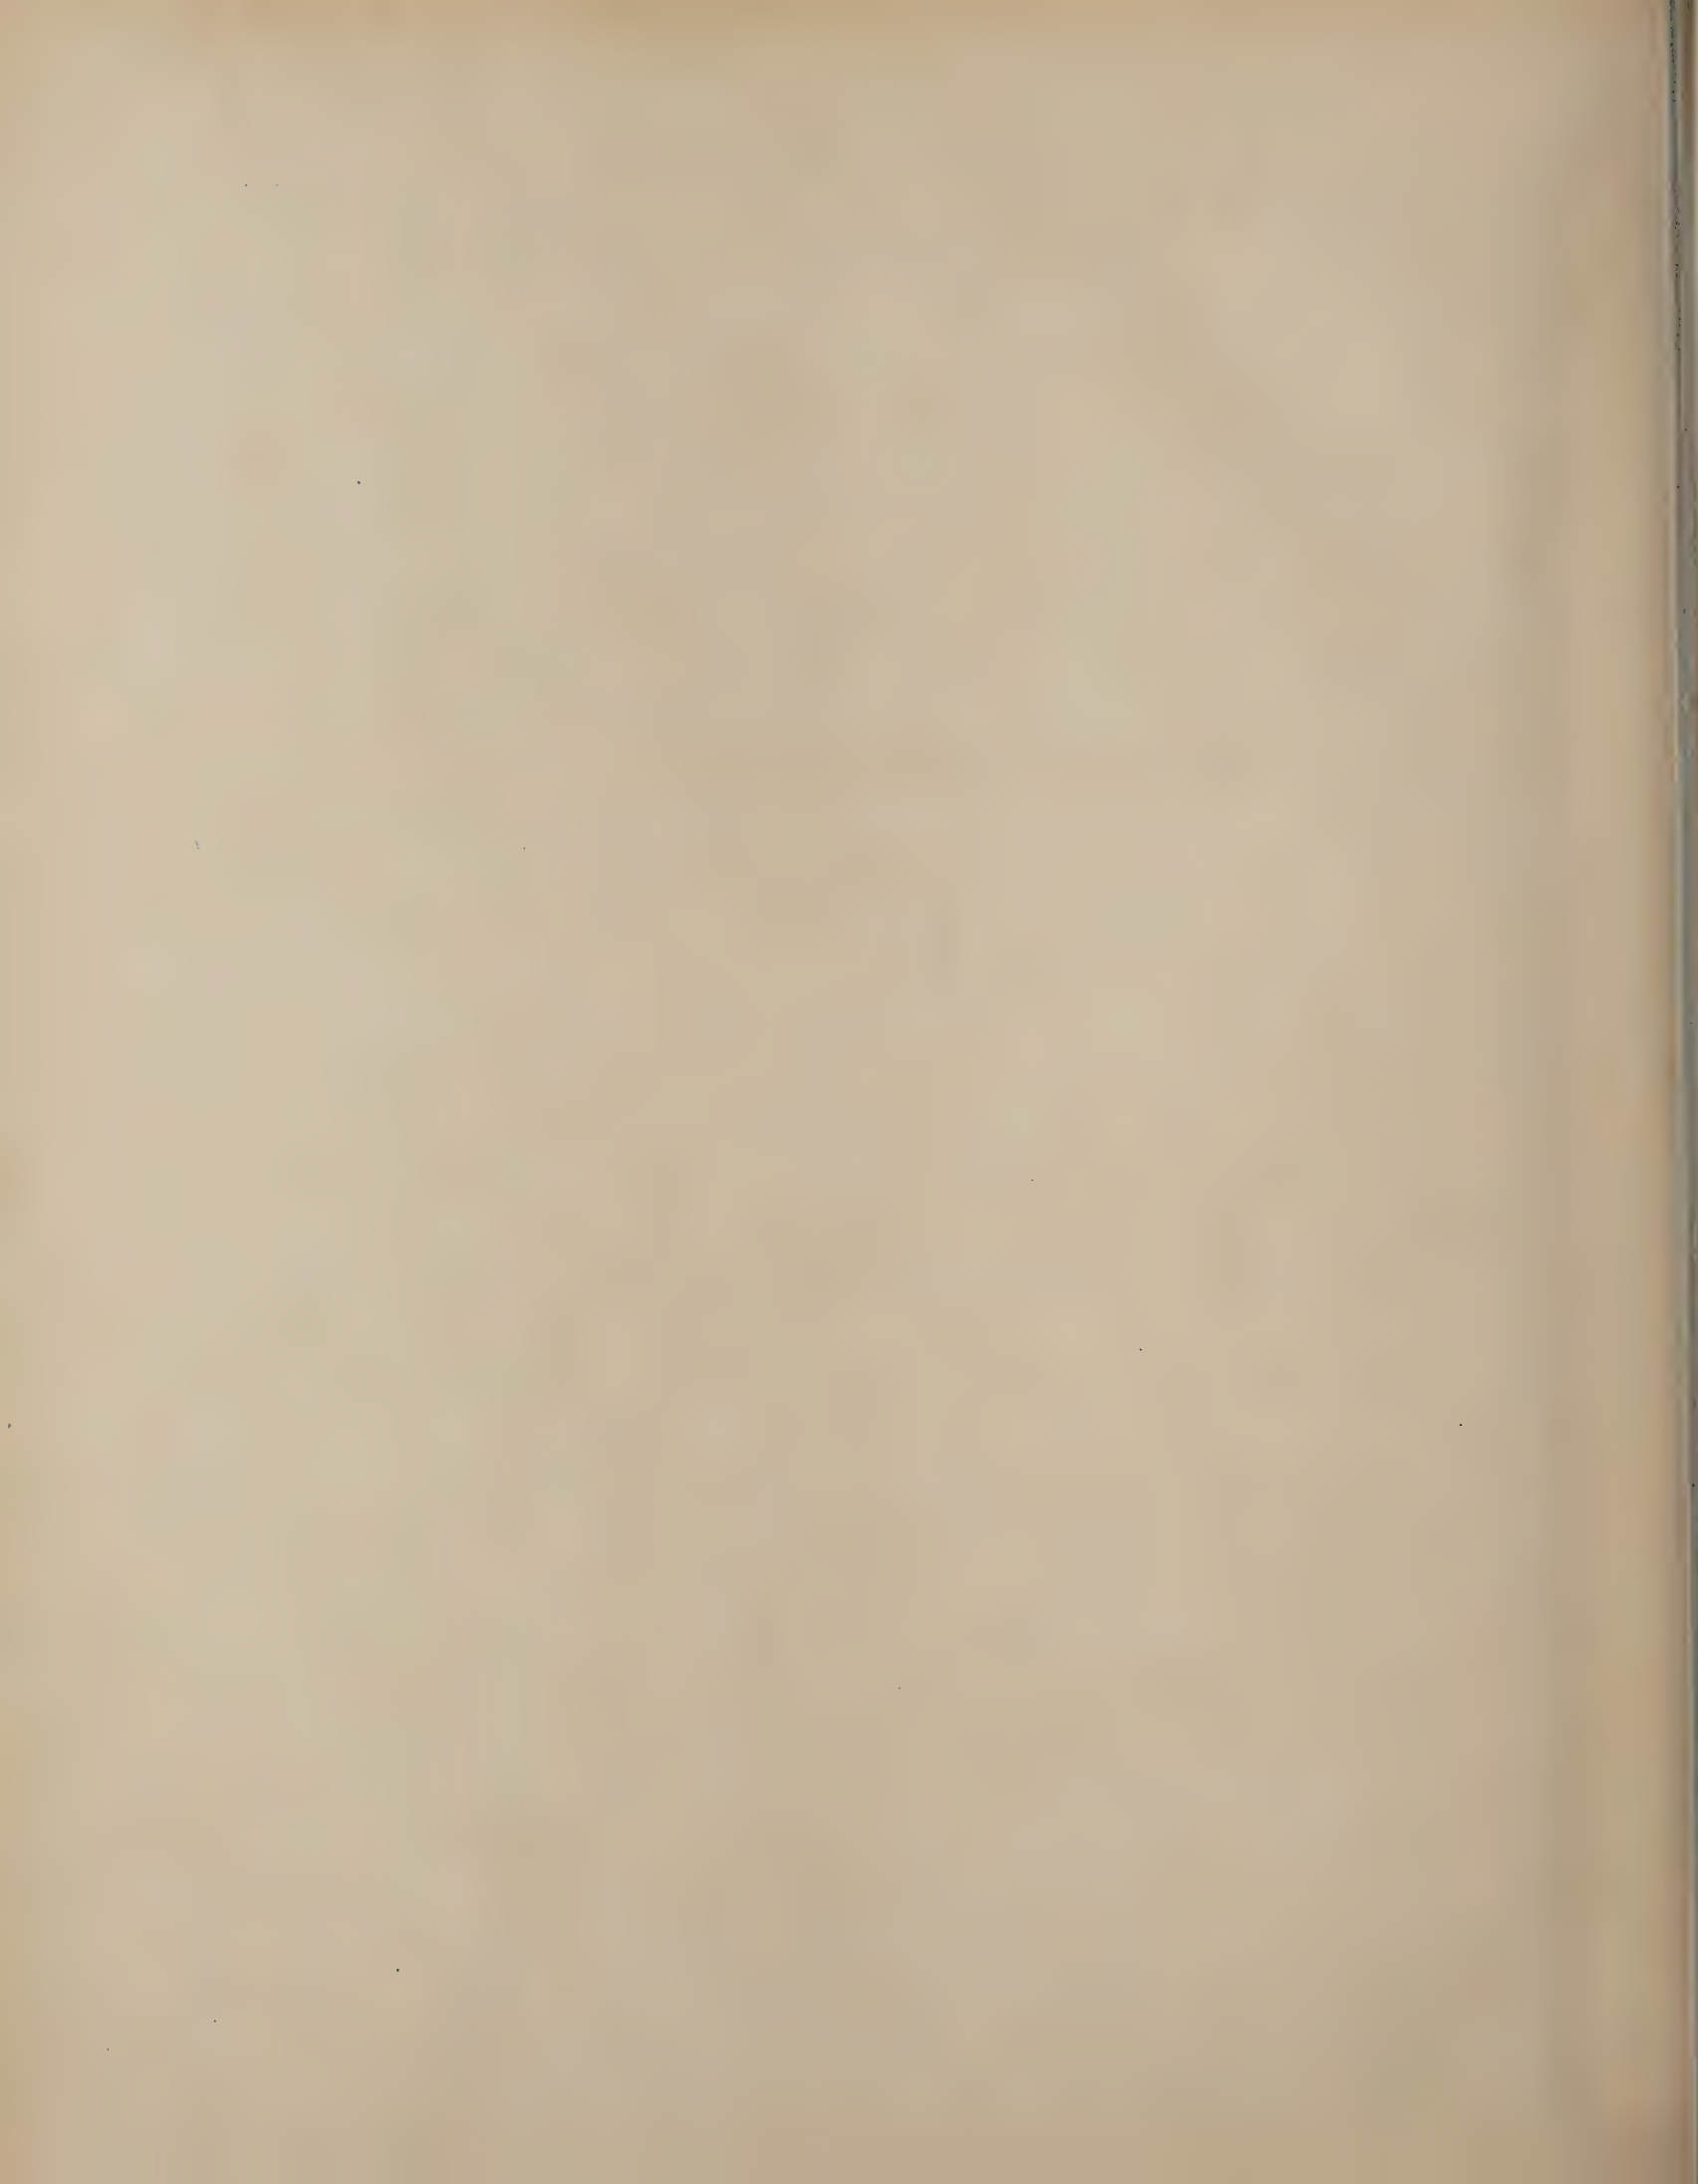

34. The number of Civil Processes, other than Ejectments, served in 1867, with 7 per cent. added for returns wanting, was 243,493. CONCLUSION.

35. The number of Civil Ejectments served by Bailiffs appointed by the County Court Judges, and paid out of the votes of Parliament, was 3,781, and adding seven per cent. for defective returns, may be taken as 4,045.

36. As Ejectments may be served by Bailiffs of Landlords and others, the first number indicates only the minimum number actually ascertained to have been served. To obtain a maximum number, which there is no reason to suppose the actual number exceeds, it is only necessary to estimate that the proportion of Civil Bill Ejectments served are to the Ejectments heard in the same proportion as other Civil Bills, and the maximum thus obtained is 15,691.

37. To secure satisfactory Statistics, as to the service of Ejectments for the future, I would suggest that the power of serving Ejectments by other than the statutable process-servers should be limited to persons who, though nominated by private parties, should be registered in Court, and that each registered process-server should be required to observe the same rules as to the Ejectments served by them as the official process-servers are now required to keep, and to make the same returns.

INTRODUCTORY AND EXPLANATORY REPORT.

STATISTICS OFFICE, FOUR COURTS, DUBLIN,
15th July, 1868.

MY LORD,

I have the honour to transmit, for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, the Supplemental Statistics of Ejectments served by Process-servers, and of the execution of Ejectments, for the purpose of obtaining which new Forms were issued last year at a period too late to admit of their appearing in the Volume of Judicial Statistics for 1866. To these I have added statistics of the proceedings against Cottier Tenants and the number of Civil Bill Replevins and of other Civil Bills served.

Proceedings against Cottier Tenants.

The first return relates to proceedings which took place in 1866 as to Cottier Tenants under the Landlord and Tenant Law Amendment Act, Ireland, 1860 (Stat. 23 & 24 Vic., c. 154).

PROCEEDINGS
AGAINST COTTIER
TENANTS.

The proceedings under this Act are taken at Petty Sessions for the summary recovery of Cottier Tenements either for Waste under the 84th Section, for Non-payment of Rent under the 85th Section, or for Over-holding under the 86th Section.

A Cottier Tenant is defined by the 81st Section to be any person holding by agreement or memorandum in writing from the Landlord a tenement consisting of a Dwelling-house or Cottage without land, or with any portion of land not exceeding half an acre, statute measure, at a rent not exceeding the rate of £5 by the year, for one month, or from month to month, or in like manner for any lesser period of time, the Landlord undertaking to keep and maintain the Dwelling-house, or Cottage in tenantable condition and repair. This definition is held not to include the case of Weekly Tenants, who are dealt with under Stat. 14 & 15 Vic., c. 92, sec. 15.

Number of Civil Bill Ejectments served.

The provision of the law which allows Civil Bill Ejectments and Replevins to be served by other persons than the Process-servers appointed by the Chairmen of Counties and Recorders renders it impossible to obtain complete statistics on this subject. I endeavoured to do so by procuring a return from the Clerks of the Peace of the names of all the Process-servers, and then requesting a return from each Process-server of the Ejectments, and Replevins, and other Civil Bills served by himself, and an estimate of the number of Civil Bill Ejectments served in his district by persons other than Process-servers appointed by the Chairman of the County.

CIVIL BILL EJECT-

These returns are tolerably complete with regard to the number of Civil Bills served by the Process-servers themselves; but in very few cases has any attempt been made to estimate the numbers served by the Bailiffs of the Landlord Proprietors and other persons; and even when an estimate has been made it has proved of little use. In those instances in which more than one estimate has been made for the same district, the numbers have not been added together in the subjoined tables lest they might include the same cases; but the largest estimate has been selected.

It appears from the estimates that in some districts the number of Ejectments served by other persons is greatly in excess of the number served by regularly-appointed Process-servers, as in the following instances:—

NUMBER OF EJECTMENTS served in 1866.

DISTRICTS.	Ejectments served by Process-servers appointed by Chairmen of Counties.	Ejectments served by other persons.
Manorhamilton (County Leitrim),	none.	50
Bantry (County Cork),	17	150
Strabane (County Tyrone),	43	400
Carlow and Bagnalstown (County Carlow), .	10	18
Total of Four Districts,	70	618

NUMBER OF EJECTMENTS in 1866.

DISTRICTS.	Ejectments served by Process-servers appointed by Chairmen of Counties.	Ejectments served by other persons than Process-servers appointed by Chairmen of Counties.
Galway (County Galway),	84	3
Middleton (County Cork),	59	3
Birr (King's County),	74	5
Downpatrick (County Down),	67	6
Total of Four Districts,	284	17

From the contrasts thus presented, extending as they do to each of the four provinces, it is evidently impossible to form any conjecture, in the cases of those districts as to which no estimate has been given, with reference to the proportion between the number of Ejectments served by Process-servers and the number served by other persons.

CIVIL BILL REPLEVINS.

Number of Civil Bill Replevins served.

The returns, so far as they extend, show a very small number of Replevins, the entire number served by Process-servers being only 18 as compared with 3,281 Civil Bill Ejectments. The estimated number served by other persons are nearly in the same proportion, being 23 Replevins to 1,903 Civil Bill Ejectments, and, making every allowance for the districts for which no returns have been received, the aggregate number (41) is still extremely small when compared with the number (193,142) of other Civil Bills. These figures indicate the extent to which the practice of distraining for rent has fallen into disuse.

Estimated number of Executions of Writs, Decrees, Orders, and Processes, for delivery or taking possession of Land.

EXECUTIONS OF WRITS, &c., on taking Possession of Land.

Returns have been received from the Sheriffs of only 19 counties out of 32, and from only 6 counties of cities and towns out of 9. I have, however, added the population of these counties, and compared the total number of ejectments executed in each with the population, and it appears that an average may be estimated for those counties for which no returns have been made. In this way the following results are obtained:—

EJECTMENTS executed in 1866.

	Population in 1861.	Ejectments executed.
LEINSTER :
Returned for nine Counties and two Counties of Cities or Towns, . . .	852,810	304	Returned.
Estimated for three Counties and two Counties of Cities of Leinster, . . .	604,817	215	Estimated.
	1,457,635	519	Estimated.
MUNSTER :
Returned for three Counties and two Counties of Cities,	895,989	166	Returned.
Estimated for three Counties and one County of a City,	617,569	114	Estimated.
	1,513,558	280	Estimated.
ULSTER :
Returned for four Counties and one County of a Town,	815,404	174	Returned.
Estimated for five Counties,	1,098,832	234	Estimated.
	1,914,236	408	Estimated.
CONNAUGHT :
Returned for three Counties and one County of a Town,	533,494	95	Returned.
Estimated for two Counties,	379,641	67	Estimated.
	913,135	162	Estimated.
IRELAND :
Returned for nineteen Counties and six Counties of Cities and Towns, .	3,097,705	739	Returned.
Estimated for thirteen Counties and three Counties of Cities or Towns, .	2,700,859	644	Estimated.
Total of Ireland,	5,798,564	1,383	Estimated.

If the number of warrants against cottier tenants at Petty Sessions already returned (285) be added to 1,383, the number of ejectments of the Superior Courts and Civil Bill ejectments estimated as above to have been executed, it appears that the number of executions in ejectments of all kinds (except those under the Weekly Tenants Act) may be estimated at 1,668.

Of the 739 ejectments returned as executed, it appears that 513 were for non-payment of rent, and 226 were for over-holding. This is a different proportion from that which prevails in the case of warrants against cottier tenants. Of these 255 were for over-holding, and 29 for non-payment of rent.

It further appears from the statistics that in the counties and counties of cities and towns for which returns have been received the proportion of ejectments executed by the Sheriff and by Special Bailiffs, was as follows:—

PROPORTION of EJECTMENTS executed in 1866 by Sheriffs and by Special Bailiffs.

	Executed by Sheriffs.	Executed by Special Bailiffs.
Ejectments from Superior Courts,	61	36
Civil Bill Ejectments,	275	322
Total in 19 Counties and 6 Counties of Cities and Towns,	336	358

The returns afford evidence of the satisfactory working of the change in the law effected by the Landlord and Tenant Act of 1860 (23 & 24 Vic., c. 154, sec. 94), by which the necessity of disturbing all the under-tenants in every ejectment of a head-tenant was removed. It appears that in the counties from which returns have been received no fewer than 51 under-tenants were, by consent, left unmolested on the execution of ejectments; and adding to this number an estimate of 45 for the rest of Ireland, we have about 100 families in one year saved from unnecessary disturbance by this salutary change in the law.

It appears that in the counties for which returns have been made there were no cases in which the assistance of the Sheriff was necessary to enforce obedience to the decrees of the Court of Chancery or of the Court of Probate, but that there were 15 cases in which such assistance was demanded to enforce the orders of the Landed Estates Court.

I took the opportunity presented by the collection of the statistics with respect to the service of Ejectments by Process-servers to obtain from them complete returns of the number of other Civil Bills served, as in some counties the Clerks of the Peace were unable to supply this information. The following Table gives a summary of the Returns for each county:—
